thought the production program would be achieved to the extent of 94 or 95 percent of the goals outlined by him last January. The President said the war spirit he found in all parts of the country was in excess of the war spirit in Washington, and the people of the country are ready to sacrifice for the war effort to a greater extent than any steps yet proposed in Washington.

American shipyards produced 93 vessels during September, a rate of three ships a day, the Maritime Commission announced. The total deadweight tonnage of 1,009,800 was the greatest record in world shipbuilding history. The Commission said, and assures that the goals of 8,000,000 tons this year and 16,000,000 tons next year will be met. WPB Chairman Nelson asked Congress for immediate creation of a War Liabilities Adjustment Board to help protect the small businessman. Commerce Under Secretary Taylor also recommended establishment of a permanent agency whose task would be to "husband small business." He estimated that 300,000 retail stores face failure before the end of 1943 because of government restrictions, material shortages and the draft.

Following an 8,754-mile two-weeks tour of the nation—kept secret as a special wartime safeguard—President Roosevelt said the War Production Board is going, on the whole, extremely well, allowing for a normal small percentage of lag in a program made a bit higher than human ingenuity could carry out. He said he
