THE TIMID SOUL By Webster

Additional farm machinery and repair parts—the crying need for these items was strongly presented by the Nebraska delegation to officials of the War Production Board and of the Office of Price Administration at a special meeting on Saturday, February 6.

We pointed out the fact that the allocation of these to Nebraska was unjust for the reason that the formula originally set was on the basis of the 1940 crop production, a poor crop year for our state.

Available figures show that as a rule Nebraska produces around 8% of the total food of the nation, while we were given only 4% of the farm machinery of the nation. Spokesmen for the delegation said that we felt the dealers had properly gauged the real need of the farmers in their communities and now had the implements on their floors to meet it. Therefore, we urged that all machinery in the hands of the dealers be released for sale to the farmers in the community so they could use it now in the production of food this year.

I strongly urge the local farm groups to petition the State War Board for release of the machinery now in the hands of the dealers. The officials mentioned above say it has the power to do this.

The Congress is beginning to show signs of asserting itself. It is demanding that those in authority recognize agriculture as an important war industry and that food is just as important as bombs and bullets. There is bound to be a critical shortage of certain food materials. Folks living on the farm can be thankful they have food. The dollar may go down in purchasing power, but a quart of milk and a dozen eggs will still have the same food value.

There is probably little danger of a real food shortage as far as the farmers of Nebraska are concerned.

Nebraska people produce food. The cellars of many farm families are full of canned vegetables, fruits and meats. In the eastern part of the country it is entirely different. Here we have millions of consumers of food. There may be a shortage of food in the east. If those in authority will see the picture clearly they will make it possible for the farmers of America to have not only the machinery but the manpower to produce food. If this is done, many of our food problems will be solved. There is no other answer. Just machinery and manpower. Bureaucrats in the Department of Agriculture have made many mistakes. Congress must take a hand. If a "food dunkirk" is to be avoided Congress must see to it that those who control the farm program give the farmers the necessary tools and labor to produce the food for our armed forces, civilians and allies.

Many statesmen are recommending that men in the military service who are trained farmers be furloughed back home to help during harvest. That their recommendations are having some effect is evidenced in the recent speech of Economic Stabilization Director Byrnes, who stated that army officials are considering the advisability of doing just this.

Folks from Nebraska who visited our office this week were: Lieut. Nelson R. Simpson of Chadron, who is now stationed at Fort Belvoir, near here; Art McNeese of Alliance, working in the office of OPA; Bill O'Connell of Omaha, and Bryant Steele of Omaha. Tell any members of your family who are in Washington that we would be glad to have them come in and get acquainted.

AT WAR

Sophia
Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Worthington, dressed soberly and wearing their best black gloves, walked along the stony country road back toward Sophia Hardy's farm, to pay their visit of condolence.
'How do you reckon she'll be bearing up?' Mrs. Kimball asked Mrs. Worthington. Both ladies wore their most solemn, funereal expressions.
'A mighty severe blow,' Mrs. Worthington said. 'Mighty severe. To lose your only son, the mainstay of your declining years. And such a dreadful death, too—to go down with a ship. Mercy!'
'The first of our boys from Hand County to go, too,' Mrs. Kimball said, mournfully.
'I wouldn't blame Sophia Hardy for feeling right bitter.'
They stood on the simple stone doorstep, with downcast eyes, getting themselves into the proper commiserative mood.
'Come in!'
The voice was brisk and cordial. They looked up in surprise. Sophia herself had come to the door. As they followed her into the parlor they exchanged glances, with eyebrows lifted. Sophia was not even in mourning. The parlor shades were not even drawn.
'It's nice of you to come,' Sophia said. 'Do sit down.'
'We came,' Mrs. Kimball said almost reprovingly, 'to tell you that our hearts are bleeding for you in your great loss.'
'We know how lonely you must be out here,' Mrs. Worthington said. 'With nothing to take your mind off of.' She sniffed and reached in her purse for a handkerchief.
'Oh, I keep busy,' Sophia said. 'I've just finished applying for the Government insurance on Tom's life.'
The visiting ladies could not resist a shocked glance at one another.
'I want to get it right away,' Sophia said. 'So I can put it into War Bonds. My boy hasn't finished fighting yet, not by a long shot.'

Carry on for mothers like Sophia. Buy War Bonds till it hurts.

Guy Albert Wilson
Guy Albert Wilson was born on the home farm near Redbird, Neb., in Holt county, August 26, 1893, and departed this life at the Sacred Heart Hospital in Lynch, Neb., on Sunday evening, February 7, at the age of 49 years, 5 months and 12 days, of a heart ailment.
Although he had not been well for many months and his death not wholly unexpected, the entire community was shocked and deeply saddened by his passing.
Guy grew to manhood on the farm home, sharing with the boys and girls of the neighborhood the hopes and fears, the joys and sorrows of the young people.
His father and mother preceded him in death, his mother dying when he was a small boy and his father passing to his reward three years ago.
On May 10, 1916, he was united in marriage to Elsie Phelps, who with two adopted sons, Carroll, Guy, 14 years, and Gaylord, 11 years, survive him. He is also survived by two sisters and three brothers: Mrs. Bessie Pinkerman and Mrs. Faye Pinkerman of Dorsey; Dick of Rapid City, S. D.; Earn, of Burke, S. D., and Ray, of Redbird; also his stepmother, Mrs. Kate Wilson, of Lynch, besides a host of other relatives and friends.
Two years ago he accepted Christ as his Saviour, and later was baptized and became a member of the Assembly of God's Church. His true christian faith was a great comfort to him during his illness and gave him strength to pass on uncomplainingly to what he well knew was a happy eternal life.
Guy was always a congenial and companionable man and had a host of friends in northeastern Holt county and the Lynch community. He was always interested in the affairs of his community and for the past ten years had been Justice of the Peace of his township.
As a consolation to his loved ones in their sorrow may we leave with them the comfort that may be found in these lines:
'Your loved one has taken a long journey, Has gone on a wonderful quest, Away from this world of sorrow, To a land of eternal rest. 'What you have now is only a memory To cherish your whole life through, But its sweetness will last forever, Which should be a great comfort to you.'
The funeral was held Thursday afternoon, February 11, at the I. O. O. F. hall in Lynch, with the Rev. Eugene Anderson of Long Pine, Neb., officiating. Burial was at the Scottville cemetery in Holt county.
The pallbearers were six nephews: Guy and Veldon Pinkerman, Jack, Billy Dewain and Neil Wilson. Flower girls were: Ruth Krough, Florence and Lavonne Walters, Dorothy Hull, Iris Wilson, Velma Phelps and Velma Wilson.
The choir consisted of Irma Wesler, Elaine Anderson and Ina Mae Worth, accompanied by Mrs. Ina Worth.
Those coming from a distance to attend the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wilson, Jack Coy and Jerry Glaze of Rapid City, S. D.; Earn Wilson and family of Burke, S. D.; Ed Morrison and Wilbur Phelps of Brooklyn, Iowa; Charles Robinson of Hines, Minn., and Mrs. Irma Schiessler of Ainsworth, Neb.

BANKS AND THE WAR
Welcome Words from the White House
THE Commander in Chief of wartime America has paid banks the highest of compliments. 'The Bankers of America,' President Roosevelt wrote, '... have answered the call to service joyfully and with stout hearts... a record of accomplishment of which you all may be justly proud.' Welcome words, indeed. They should give banks everywhere added strength and courage to tackle the still greater job that lies ahead.
