2 is for "Zenith" The peak of perfection Our object in view As we close this collection

Striving for perfection is like reaching for the moon - you never quite attain it. But in striving for perfection you know that you are giving the best you have at all times. So it is with Consumers organization - striving at all times to render the best possible electric service at the lowest possible cost for Nebraskans. And these efforts are not in vain, for through this endeavor, electric customers, served by Consumers throughout Nebraska, enjoy dependable, efficient electric service 365 days of the year at rates attractively low in comparison with other states throughout this section.
