SPENCER BOYS GOT INTO THE BEER SUNDAY MORNING

Herman Ellermeier, Lawrence Burley and Oliver Dickey, three Boyd county men, were before the courts here Tuesday, charged with breaking into and entering a store and beer parlor operated by one Harold Knudson at the dam on the Niobrara river north of O'Neill and taking therefrom a quantity of beer, some cigarettes and some money.

Officers say that Ellermeier, who is forty years of age and a garage mechanic at Spencer, and Dickey, who is eighteen and a senior in the Spencer high school, admitted going from Spencer to the Knudson store early Sunday morning, intending to buy some beer. Finding the store closed and no one there and learning at the power house that Knudson was away visiting some relatives, they broke into the place and removed four cases of bottled beer, returning therewith to Spencer. On Monday they were arrested and brought to O'Neill, and on Tuesday Ellermeier and Dickey pled guilty before Judge Mouton. Burley waived preliminary hearing before Judge Reimer and was bound over to the district court for trial. Judge Mouton sentenced Ellermeier to the penitentiary for a year and continued sentence as to Dickey. Dickey expressed a desire in court to be permitted to join the armed forces, and Judge Mouton indicated that if he could pass the examination, and would promptly join, that sentence would be suspended.

Ellermeier and Dickey say that Burley was with them and assisted in the robbery. Burley admits that he was at the store with the other two and helped drink the beer, and even sold some of the bottles, but denies that he helped steal it or knew it was stolen. All three men denied taking any money or cigarettes. Mr. Knudson says some cigarettes and money was taken.

Clapp-Griffith Nuptials In San Antonio, March 27

Liuett Darral F. Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Griffith of Kearney, Neb., and Miss Mary Lou Clapp of San Antonio, Texas, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Clapp of that city were married on March 27, 1943, at the Fort Sam Houston Post Chapel in San Antonio, at six o'clock p. m.

The chapel was beautifully decorated with long cathedral tapers adorning the altar; large palms at either side and a profusion of gladioli. Chaplain George Zorn performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a white wool suit with aqua accessories. Her corsage was of tiny pink rosebuds intermingled with white gardenias. Her attendant and former schoolmate wore a suit of light green. The groom wore the white army uniform, as did his attendant, Lieut. Leroy Gordon.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents for fifty relatives and friends of the couple. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Clapp, Lt. and Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Jean Griffith Jones, aunt of the groom, Mrs. Helen Kelland and Lt. Jordan.

Lieut. Griffith attended school at the Kearney State College and later at the A. and M. College of College Station, Texas. He has been in the service since March 1, 1942.

Lieut. Griffith's parents were former residents of this county, living in the Meek neighborhood. He is a grandson of Mrs. F. H. Griffith of this city and his mother is a sister of Axel Borg of the Meek neighborhood. The many friends of Lieut. Griffith and his wife in the old home town and county extend hearty congratulations and best wishes to the happy young couple and wish them many years of happiness and prosperity.

BREEZES FROM THE SOUTHWEST

By Romaine Saunders
Atkinson, Nebr., Star Route No. 5.

Will you be able to pay the ten thousand dollar fine if you make a slip-up in the use of ration book number two?

The isolationist is in danger of being lynched in this hectic hour, but like the member of the Townsend club he feels that he will yet come into his own.

A popular and an able writer wonders why we are not invading Europe. And some citizens wonder why invade Europe instead of that yellow strip of land on the maps of the far east.

As I view it, L. B. 101, purporting to be a primary reform measure, merely complicates a political setup that has become such a joke that 75 percent of the citizens ignore it entirely.

Frank Bachus gets about the streets of Amelia on crutches since he stepped from a wagon and sustained a badly sprained ankle and has the consolation of being able to loaf while others start the long days and long pull at spring work.

Three hapless chaps are under indictment charged with shooting a goose or two too many. These are days for all out effort, expert, amateur and private official, for greater weightier matters, but those great lordly birds have a friend at court just the same.

Judging from the attention farm papers are giving to the production of swine on the farm there is nothing in the vast variety and abundance spread over the earth quite equal to an odorous hog, notwithstanding, like the leper, he has been pronounced "unclean" by the Creator.

At today's writing I have not learned what has happened to Senator Asimus' gas tax bill. Perhaps it is too much to hope that the vast stretch of Nebraska prairies comprising the rural realms will get a fair shake in this matter as against the small areas where the large towns are.

"Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling symbol. . . . And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing."

Lincoln county has a lady deputy sheriff. The governor has signed a bill authorizing women to serve as jurors. What would our mothers thought of that—and why should any woman—barring the mistress of the White House—want with either job. But then, Irving would have a hunt for a "clinging vine" in our times.

Optimists among weather prophets see omens of an abundance of rain to follow these wind-lashed days in April by the earth-burrowing animals taking to the high ground and the wild ducks lingering among us. Whatever the habits of nature's little wildlings may indicate as to weather, if anything, the long-time prairie dweller is aware that there has been windy springs in the past that have been followed by both fruitful and unfruitful seasons. A few good rains in May and June assures the southwest of its staple, the grass.

One Holt county editor carries the honor of the press being represented in the U. S. armed forces. Mr. Alderson of the Chambers Sun left Sunday night, his business, his home, his community and his young wife and infant son, to be inducted into the Navy at a point in Idaho. Mrs. Alderson is bravely taking up the responsibility of continuing the publication of the Sun and I believe the printing fraternity of the county without an exception will be glad to help this brave lady in any way they can to succeed in her undertaking. Chambers people, always loyal to home institutions, will doubtless rally to her support.

There are songs enough for the hero perched perpetually on the heights of fame. Let the unsung patriots of this war marred world be given a tribute now and then. You will find them on tired feet behind the grocery counters in any town, worried over rationing books, shortage of supplies and insufficient help, but cheerfully and serve an inconsiderate public which can also be unreasonable. Keeping a correct check, purchase by purchase, and other details of the point rationing, doubles the work of the sales force. The least we can do by way of encouragement is to be patient, smile and have the cash in hand.

William Egger of Crawford, came down last Monday and is spending a few days here looking after business matters and visiting old time friends. Bill says that things are booming in his section of the state. Being only a few miles from Ft. Robinson, where a number of troops are in training and Crawford being the closest town business is naturally very good. Bill looks good and says that he has been feeling better the past six months than he has for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Halva and son, Fred, drove to Lincoln last Sunday to visit their daughter, Margaret, who is a student nurse at St. Elizabeth's hospital. Miss Lydia Halva, who had been visiting Margaret for a few days, returned to O'Neill with them.

MANY HOLT COUNTY MEN WENT TO CAMP LAST SATURDAY

Will Hold Farm Building Clinic, Norfolk, April 15
To provide a valuable advisory service on the repair and maintenance of farm buildings, and thus help farmers in this area make their buildings more productive, the agricultural committee of the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a war emergency farm building clinic there on Thursday, April 15, according to Sam Schwerin, chairman of the committee.

"The agricultural output of the nation will prove a prime factor in winning the war and that is the sole object of the clinic," said Mr. Schwerin.

All farmers who want to learn how they can increase their production under today's conditions are invited to attend the war emergency farm building clinic. It promises to be an interesting program, covering such topics as roof repairs, maintenance of fences, rodent control, fire protection, insulation, ventilation, etc. Included on the program is a new sound movie, titled "The Farmer Looks Ahead," a fascinating, human interest film. This movie, in full color, shows how farm buildings can be kept in good repair with a minimum of time, labor and expense for maintenance. The program will also include entertainment, door prizes, and coffee and sandwiches at the conclusion.

"Similar clinics attended by thousands of farmers have been held in all sections of the country in recent weeks and they have proved extremely helpful and informative. They are part of a nation-wide program sponsored by Johns-Manville. All farmers and their families are invited to attend the northeast Nebraska war emergency farm building clinic which is scheduled to be held in the municipal auditorium in Norfolk on Thursday, April 15, and they can all be sure it will be time profitably spent," states Mr. Schwerin.

Judge D. R. Mouton and Court Reporter McElhaney returned to Basset Wednesday to complete taking testimony in the divorce trial of Julia Braddock Gilmore and Elmer Gilmore, which occupied the Court all last week. Several persons from here were summoned as witnesses. The Gilmore's formerly resided on the Ditch Camp ranch, just south of town, and later lived for a time in the Chambers community. For the past few years they have resided south of Newport.

Word has been received that Lt. Robert Biglin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Biglin of this city, has been promoted to the rank of Captain. He is with the Army Medical Corps and is stationed at Richmond, Cal.

Homer Mullen came up from Scribner Saturday and spent Sunday visiting his wife and other relatives and friends here.

April War Bond Quota $341,500; Organization Plans Under Way

MUSIC FESTIVAL IN O'NEILL NEXT WEEK

The number of entries for the music competition festival assures that Friday, April 16th will be a big day for the music students coming to O'Neill. Twenty-three schools will be represented, with the number of participants exceeding five hundred. The schools entered are Ainsworth, Atkinson, Bette, Chambers, Clearwater, Creighton, Ericson, Ewing, Inman, Keya Paha County, Long Pine, Neligh, Norfolk, Oakdale, O'Neill, Orchard, Osmond, Page, Royal, Spencer, St. Mary's Academy, Stuart, and Tilden. This makes three more schools than the number entered in the district music contest here last year.

The instrumental entries will be judged by Edward Kurtz, chairman, Department of Music, Iowa State Teachers' College, Cedar Falls, Iowa. The vocal entries will be judged by Paul MacCollin, chairman, Morningside College Conservatory of Music, Sioux City, Iowa. The piano entries will be judged by Mrs. Leo Kucinski, Department of Music, Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa.

Arrangements and plans for the festival are moving along very satisfactory due to the fine co-operation and help that is being received from many individuals. The chairmen of the committees that are giving outstanding help are as follows:

General chairman, Mrs. H. J. Birmingham, Pat Hartly. Good Will Committee, co-chairmen, H. D. Clauson, C. E. Stout, and Mayor Kersenbrock. Stenographic Committee, Ted McElhaney.

Entertainment Committee, co-chairmen, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Burgess and J. D. Cronin. Door Committee, co-chairmen, Mrs. O. W. French, Mrs. Max Golden, Mrs. H. G. Kruse, Mrs. C. E. Lundgren and Mrs. Ed Campbell. Housing Committee, co-chairmen, Mrs. F. J. Dishner, and Roy Sauer.

P. B. Hartly reports that the financial support of O'Neill business people will make it possible to have program booklets to be issued to everyone attending the programs of the day.

A musical event of this type should receive your support by attending the programs that will be in session throughout the entire day and evening. Vocal, instrumental, and piano solos will be presented during the forenoon, beginning at eight o'clock. Solos and small groups will perform during the afternoon. Large vocal groups and bands will make up an evening of outstanding entertainment. Plan now to enjoy these musical offerings, and at the same time show our young people that we are vitally interested in their worthy undertakings.

Robert Thomas To Be Interviewed Over Radio
On Friday, April 9, Mr. Mathis, vocational agricultural instructor of the O'Neill public school, will make a trip to Lincoln to attend the State F. F. A. Convention. He will be accompanied by his family, Robert Thomas, John Etherton and Larry Schaffer. Robert Thomas and John Etherton have been recommended for the State Farmer degree. Robert Thomas will be interviewed by Bill Colfer, acting information agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Omaha, on Saturday, April 10, on Earl Williams' "Down To The Earth" program from 9:30 to 10:00 a. m., over Station KFAB.

NOTICE
A garbage wagon, operated and paid for by the city under contract, will pick up garbage in the city every Tuesday and Friday during the summer months, visiting all sections of the city. Please have garbage in containers and in the alleys. This service will start Friday morning, April 16, 1943.

JOHN KERSENBROCK, Mayor.

HIGHLIGHTS IN PRICE AND RATIONING
In its desire to have price matters of a local nature settled by the community itself, the Office of Price Administration has designated Beatrice, Nebraska, as a "guinea pig" in a program designed to accomplish that end. A local board composed of prominent, qualified citizens will assist the War Price and Rationing Board in the dissemination of price information to the community. It will also answer questions, review complaints, and recommend adjustments. If this method proves to be of public service, similar panels will be appointed throughout the state.

To protect purchasers, mechanical refrigerators sold by individuals will come under price ceilings on April 15th.

Retailers who happen to have on hand sugar stamps 1 through 9 and sugar certificates already expired on which delivery had been made prior to March 19th should surrender such stamps and certificates immediately to the local War Price and Rationing Board. Currently valid certificates will be exchanged.

A word to the wise should be sufficient. When applications for supplemental gasoline rations are considered, one factor that will have a definite bearing on the granting of such supplemental rations will be whether or not the applicant has formed a car-sharing club.

On April 1 the little pig came under the protection of a price ceiling. On that date definite dollar and cents price ceilings were established for all retail pork cuts. Mrs. Nebraska can rest easier, because OPA has said that the rise in price of retail cuts of all meats is soon to be checked.

Lovers of fruit and vegetable juices must have been pleased this week when the Office of Price Administration drastically cut the point values of those items.

Holt county citizens will purchase $341,500 in war bonds during the month of April, it was announced today by County Chairman H. A. Snyder, of Atkinson. "This quota represents our share of the total quota of sixteen northeast Nebraska counties, which is $3,083,000," said the chairman. These quotas were established by the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City and are based on bank deposits in each county.

Bond purchasers will have an opportunity to purchase other issues than the "E" bond, which has had the most stress in previous war bond campaigns. In addition to the regular "E," "F" or "G" bonds, which have always been available to the public, purchases may now be made in the 2% Treasury bond of 1950-52, or the 2½% bond of 1964-69. There are also tax certificates available; tax certificate Series "C" and the ¾% Treasury certificate. The eighth issue available during the month of April is the ninety-day bill.

Information concerning these issues are in the hands of the local war bond committee, the banks, and the post office. Purchasers who want more information may get it through these sources.

County organizations are rapidly nearing completion, according to report from Harry Miller, of Stanton, chairman of the Third District War Finance Committee. "I am tremendously pleased with the patriotic response that we are getting from county workers in each of the counties that we have been in to date," said Mr. Miller. "We hope to complete our visits to the six remaining counties in which we have not been, and we know already that their committee men are working. I am positive that when the totals are compiled on May 1st our sixteen-county district in northeast Nebraska will have done its part."

The date for the April bond drive is from April 12 to May 1.

Yearling steers sold from $13.50 to $14.90. Yearling heifers sold from $12.50 to $13.60 with some lightweights bringing up to $14.40 per hundred. There were a few two-year-old steers and they brought $13.90. Cows sold from $9.00 to $12.50 and bulls brought up to $13.45 per cwt.

The hog prices were the same as last week with butcher hogs bringing from $14.90 to $15.10 and sows from $14.50 to $14.75. Feeder pigs brought from $16.00 to $17.00 per hundred.
