Louis L. Peter Muses While On The Job

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peter received the following poem last week from their son, Sgt. Louis L. Peter, who is stationed with the A. F. Ord Depot, somewhere in North Africa:

DUSTY HILL Out on the wind-swept hillside, Old Dusty is the spot. Battling the terrible heat waves, In the land that God forgot. Down in the dust with our wrenches, Turning out truck after truck, Doing the work of two outfits, And too tired to kick. Out with the flies and insects, Out where the boys get blue, Out on the wind-swept hillside, Four thousand miles from you. At night the wind starts to blowing, It's more than we can stand. No, we are not convicts, We are defenders of our land. We are members of the Depot, Earning our wonderful pay, Guarding the people with millions, For our two dollars a day. No one knows we are living, No one gives a damn, Back home we are soon forgotten. We're just loaned to Uncle Sam. We are living for tomorrow, Waiting to see our gals, Hoping that when we get there, They are not married to our pals. How soon it will be over, None of us can say, But when we get our discharges, Oh! Boy! What a "Happy Day."

Pressure Cooker Process Is Safer For Canning

Victory gardeners, who are novices at home canning, are cautioned of the dangers of botulism in a leaflet entitled "A Timely Tip to Victory Gardeners About Home Canning," issued this week by the Burlington Lines.

The railroad pamphlet quotes Dr. Gail M. Dack of the University of Chicago, author of "Food Poisoning," who explains that home-canned green beans, corn, spinach, beets and asparagus are the most frequently spoiled by the bacillus of botulism. Acid foods, such as tomatoes and fruits, are rarely involved, according to Dr. Dack.

The bacillus of botulism and its spores are not themselves poisonous to man, Dr. Dack states, but in non-acid food, sealed so that air is kept out, the bacillus produces a toxin. Eating as little as one bite of food containing this toxin may be fatal, he states.

Improperly canned food which contains toxin can be made safe by thorough boiling for 20 minutes after the can is opened, Dr. Dack says. Copies of "A Timely Tip to Victory Gardeners About Home Canning" can be obtained free by writing Room 803, 347 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago-6, Ill. Nearly 12,000 Victory gardens are being cultivated this season on Burlington property and at the homes of employees of the railroad, according to President Ralph Budd, who is a trustee of the National Victory Garden Institute.

Several from town tried their hand at shocking grain the past week. Mrs. Mattie Soukup, Barbara Streeter and Joe Peter went to Sioux City on Wednesday to bring home Mr. Peter's son, Cyril, who has been in a hospital there. Mrs. Thomas Fennell, of La-villa, Iowa, is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Wallace and family.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends for their expressions of sympathy and assistance rendered during the illness and following the death of our beloved father and grandfather. We also wish to thank the people of the Amelia vicinity and Cedar and Mr. and Mrs. William McAllister for the beautiful floral offerings. — Mr. and Mrs. Tom Murray and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Adams and family, Ernest Adams.

Buy a Bond at Penney's FOR THE BOYS WHO ARE FAR AWAY!

As a tribute to the 4,512 Penney employees in our fighting forces, we are devoting the month of July to selling the War Bonds of our Country.

For our hearts, and your hearts, are constantly with these boys. That is why every Penney associate is so willingly mobilized in this great campaign. Today Sgt. Tex Klous of the Hutchinson, Kansas, store, decorated for shooting down two Japanese planes off Kiska, is in the thick of things in the Aleutians. Buy a Bond and help him annihilate more Japs! Today Sgt. Malcolm Logan of Laramie, Wyoming, a Flying Fortress gunner, is thought to be a prisoner in Germany after the famous April raid on the Renault works in Paris. Buy a Bond, and carry on, for him, where he left off!

Yes, Buy a Bond now—to help your own sweetheart or your son, your nephew or your neighbor to come marching home again. Last July your purchases of War Bonds at Penney's knocked sky-high our quota from the Treasury. Let's beat that record—back our boys with every dollar we can spare—buy Bonds at Penney's now!

On Alert in New Guinea—The highest degree of agility, coordination and teamwork is demanded of members of an anti-aircraft gun crew. In addition, its members must have the kind of nerves that will stand the protracted periods when nothing happens. Once something does happen they must snap to the alert. Every man has his appointed task and it is timed to the split second with the tasks of his fellow crew members. The work is fast and furious until the last enemy plane is downed or routed. These pictures show a gun crew and installation in New Guinea, where the combination of accurate anti-aircraft fire and daring flyers have kept the Japanese plane losses high. Gun crew alerted and ready for action. Note precautions taken to camouflage the position. When the battery is inactive the netting with the concealing stripes of colored material is pulled over the emplacement, effectively concealing it from prying aerial eyes.
