THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

Fifty Years Ago

The Frontier, July 27, 1893.
The city has purchased a tank, which will be located in some convenient place and used for a watering trough.

Zimmerman, the wrestler, drifted into the city Tuesday from the west looking for a game, and like almost every other sport who invades our ring and casts down the gauntlet, he found it. Gladiator Doyle, who has stood in the amateur ring for twenty years without a fall, was matched against the stranger. It was to be the best two out of three, three points to constitute a fall. A ring was formed west of the engine house yesterday afternoon, and the best exhibition of honest contest that has been seen in the city for a long time was witnessed. Doyle was much the stronger and secured the first fall in about five minutes. In the second round there was some lively work, Doyle gaining two points on his man several times but could not get the third one down and after about ten minutes' hot work offered to declare the match a draw, which was quickly snapped up by Zimmerman. Gus is a powerful man, handling his 200-pound antagonist as an ordinary man would a ten year old kid, but Zimmerman, being a professional, would wiggle like an eel and persist in landing right side up every time to prevent a fall. The contest was witnessed by about 300 men and when Gus got out of it with a draw and one fall in his honor they all went wild with delight.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Beans

So long as a soldier can eat and think up disparaging names for his equipment the Army will do all right. Food is either "beans," or "chow."

"Chow" may consist of a well cooked meal or if circumstances demand our fighting men have learned to subsist on "Ration K," the concentrated food that all of them carry into battle.

With millions of men and women in the services it will require a lot of War Bond buying on our part to keep them happy.

Look! Listen! Live!

Every month an average of 702 freight trains, most of them carrying vital war goods, are delayed an average of 460 hours because of carelessness by the men and women who drive automobiles.

The grade crossing accident illustrated here is an example:

At 1:32 a.m. (more than 1,900 grade crossing accidents occurred at night last year) a freight train passed through a city in accordance with the speed limit. The locomotive's headlight gleamed through the darkness and the regulation whistle warnings were sounded.

The engineman saw a gasoline tank truck crossing immediately in front of the engine and, realizing the imminence of the accident, applied the air brakes, but was unable to stop in time. The impact tore the gasoline tank open. Gasoline ignited and exploded, killing the engineman, fireman and a brakeman, as well as the oil truck driver.

The locomotive and 27 freight cars and their contents were damaged by flames. Three homes nearby caught fire and burned, as well as two parked automobiles and one express truck.

The National Safety Council is conducting a special campaign to stop these grade crossing accidents, which every day delay an average of 38 trains a total of 22 hours—a serious drain on the nation's war transportation effort.

Driver carelessness is the cause of almost all grade crossing accidents, according to the Council. To help win the war, to save yourself and others needless suffering, the Council asks you to be sure the track is clear before you start across.
