"Folks Sure Gobble-Up these Mother's Best MUFFINS"

This is the flour, folks say really makes home baking a delight! Everything—pies, cakes, bread, even soda biscuits—turn out so light, so smooth, so fine-grained. Know why? Here's why: Before it leaves the mill, this flour is sifted again and again through fine, hand-woven silks... it's so soft and fine it can't help but give you your very best baking results. It really is Mother's Best Flour. Try it the next time you need flour. Sold by all good grocers.

RAISIN NUT MUFFINS
(The Aristocrat of Muffins)
2 cups Enriched Mother's Best Flour
3 t. Baking Powder
3/4 t. Salt
2 or 3 T. Sugar
1 Egg
1 1/4 Cup Milk
2 or 3 T. Shortening—melt
1/2 Cup Raisins
1/2 Cup Chopped Nuts
Sift dry ingredients.
Beat egg, add to milk.
Stir in about 1/2 of the flour.
Add melted shortening and stir in.
Add remainder of flour, nuts and raisins.
Stir just enough to moisten all ingredients.
Bake in well-greased muffin tins, half filled, in moderate oven 400° about 25 minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Homefront and Family

MR. HOMEFRONT: "Had to take the type of telephone that was available—new telephones are not being made any more because the materials are needed for war equipment."

Our reserves of reconditioned desk and wall telephones are being used to establish service for new customers and for those who move to new locations. These telephones are just as dependable, just as serviceable, as hand telephones. They give good, clear reception. Their use is making it possible for many more families to have service during this emergency.

We are looking forward to the time after Victory when we again can furnish just what you want in telephone equipment and service—but for the duration, war needs come first. We are striving to serve everyone as well as is possible under wartime conditions and with the equipment we have.
