Heaviest Receipts At Cattle Sale Monday

The movement of cattle from range to market showed signs of seasonal expansion at the local auction last Monday as receipts reached a new high for this year. Quality of the offering averaged better than at any other time this fall, but buyers were determined to have them for less money. The general price trend showed weakness, with some kinds dipping from 25c to 50c.

Supplies in the calf division were heavier than on any previous Monday this season. A top price of $13.25 was paid on a few steer calves; bulk placed from $12.00 to $13.00. Heifer calves bulked from $11.50 to $12.25, with a few reaching slightly higher.

Yearling steers reached an extreme top of $12.75, but the long end of supplies placed from $11.50 to $12.25. Supplies were heavy. Heifers in this class ranged in price from $10.50 to $11.25, with an extreme top of $11.75. Two-year-old steers scaling 825 pounds brought from $12.60 down.

The best beef cows paid $11.75, that price paid sparingly. Bulk of the beef cow trade ticketed $10.50 to $11.50. Plainer kinds cashed at $9.00 to $10.00. Common grades made the eights, with canners and cutters ranging from $6.25 to $7.25. Bulls were scarce and topped at $11.50.

Hog receipts tapered off somewhat with around 500 on sale here. Butcher hogs topped at $14.10; bulk moved at $13.75 to $14.05. Sows reached $13.80, with $13.70 to $13.75 claiming the long end. Feeder pigs of which there was a good supply, brought $13.35 for the day's top; however, several long strings ranged in price from $12.00 to $12.70. A limited supply of lambs brought from $11.25 to $11.50 per cwt.

Two special livestock auctions are scheduled at the local market for the week of October 4. The first sale will be the annual calf show and auction on Monday, October 4. Club calves will be judged at the sale pavilion at 10 a. m. on Monday and the sale will begin immediately following the judging.

On Thursday, October 7th the annual Sandhills Feeder Auction will be held. Both of these sales will bring many choice quality cattle to the local market and the extensive advertising program of these two outstanding livestock events will attract many interested buyers.

Must Continue To Give Away Book Matches

Retailers, who during March, 1942, gave away book matches to purchasers of tobacco products, have been cautioned by R. E. Armbruster, chairman of the Holt County War Price and Rationing Board, that they must continue to give away the matches when sales of these tobacco products are made.

A recent amendment to the regulation, covering sales of not only wooden matches but also paper book matches, specifically calls for the continuation of this practice where it was followed in March, 1942. This same amendment "spells out" retail ceiling prices for book matches sold by various types of stores, effective September 27.

Nebraska Plan Wins National Support

Country bankers throughout Nebraska will be officially notified this week that the two-year campaign of the Nebraska Bankers Association to protect small communities against government subsidized competition has at last succeeded in winning complete support of the American Bankers Association.

A group of Nebraska bankers attended a conference of country bankers from forty-one states in New York last week prior to the A.B.A. convention. This country bankers' conference adopted a resolution prepared by the Nebraska bankers urging a separate congressional investigation of Production Credit System, and this was later approved by the convention.

This finally accomplishes the purpose of Nebraska bankers to build up a solid front of the nation's bankers to oppose the intrusion of PCA in the field of commercial banking. So that this may become a national issue instead of merely a protest from individual states, the American Bankers Association will now actively support the bills of Nebraska Senators Butler and Wherry, which are aimed to restrict operations of PCA and RACC to their original purpose of emergency lending, and to stop them short of the field of socialized credit, which carries the threat of regimented farming.

Swine Entries Show Big Increase At Ak-Sar-Ben

Approximately half a million pounds, live weight, of the mid-west's finest cornfed beef and pork will be distributed to America's supply of prime meat by more than 400 young exhibitors in Ak-Sar-Ben's sixteenth annual 4-H Baby Beef and Swine Show in Omaha, October 6th to 8th, inclusive. Chairman Harry B. Coffee of the committee in charge revealed Saturday.

Tabulation of entries, now closed, also assures Ak-Sar-Ben's continued position as the world's largest 4-H baby beef exposition. Coffee added. Slightly over 400 heaves have been entered by farm boys and girls of Nebraska, Iowa, and surrounding states in the competition, which will be held in the horse barns at the Union Stockyards, South Omaha. Because of wartime conditions, the number of calves is not quite up to that of a year ago, Coffee reports, but offsetting that is the showing of swine. Swine entries at nearly 300 head reflect an increase of 25 percent over 1942, while twice as many market lit-

Cuming county Agent Joe Watson sent in entries from 44 club members who will exhibit 67 calves, 52 hogs and two litters. West Pottawattomie and Crawford counties lead Iowa. Other heavy contenders include Colfax, Washington and Cass counties in Nebraska; Mills, Ida and Harrison counties in Iowa. Atchison county, Missouri, is sending 15 club members with seven calves, 52 hogs and four litters. Competition starts Wednesday afternoon, October 6th, with the judging of swine. Baby beef awards will be made Thursday. All show stock will be sold at auction Friday, October 8th, commencing with baby heaves at 9 a. m. The Omaha Junior Chamber of Commerce is conducting a pre-show campaign among Omaha business men for funds with which to provide special cash and war bond awards, in addition to premiums provided by Ak-Sar-Ben and those expected over current market prices in the sale. County agents, truckers coming to Omaha, and all others planning to attend the show, have been asked by Coffee to provide transportation for as many exhibitors as possible in order to conserve gas and tires.

J. C. Penney Stores Beat Bond Quota

Secretary of the Treasury Henry J. Morgenthau has just telegraphed the J. C. Penney Company congratulations on the magnificent job of bond selling which the company's 160 stores turned in during the month of July. Last July, the Penney Company sold 8 1/2 million dollars in war stamps and bonds to set a high record for the chain and department store business. This year, in an attempt to surpass the 1942 figures, a quota of ten million dollars was set. The complete report for July, which was forwarded to the Secretary of the Treasury last week, announced the amazing total of $42,335,816.85, or four times the quota set for the campaign, and very nearly five times the figure of the preceding year. In this one month Penney stores sold 25% more in bonds and stamps than in merchandise. In terms of war equipment, this means 500 fighter planes, 200 light tanks, 5 destroyers and 5 submarines. News of this July achievement, together with the Secretary's telegram of congratulations, were released at a time when the Penney Company was engaged in an all-out endeavor to go over the top again this September in the third war loan drive.

While the company average of bond sales for July amounted to 125% of its merchandise sales, individual stores and individual states turned in far greater percentages. Army, navy, coast guard, and marine men and women, governors, senators, mayors, and stars of stage, screen and radio appeared at Penney stores from coast to coast during the campaign. One store autographed off baseballs for bonds, autographed by the New York Yankees, the Brooklyn Dodgers, the St. Louis Cardinals, and the Washington Senators. Many of the Penney Company's own 4,674 men and women in service appeared, among them such outstanding heroes as Lt. Bob Smith of Stephenville, Tex., pilot of the flying fortress, "Dearly Beloved" that accounted for eleven German fighter planes on one bombing raid. Not only Penney window space, but advertising space as well, was given over generously to the bond sales cause. Tens of thousands of column inches of advertising urged the purchase of bonds. Altogether eight Penney associates sold more than half a million pieces in war bonds and stamps. The average Penney associate sold more than $1,000 in bonds and stamps.
