AAA News Notes
Market your hogs early. This is the urgent plea directed to Nebraska hog producers by the Food Distribution Administration. Orderly and early marketing of the record-breaking crops of hogs is imperative if we are to avoid a collapse of our marketing, processing and distribution machinery, the FDA emphasized.

Every farmer who markets hogs during November will help ease the pressure of excess marketing during December and January. Packers expect to be able to handle November marketings in fairly good shape—even in the face of labor shortages—but the December-January hog marketing rush is expected to exceed plant capacities. Generally, farmers can expect some price drops if hog markets become glutted. Packers, as every farmer knows, can pay more for hogs today if they can slaughter them today. If they are forced to hold hogs for three or four days the "carrying" charge comes off the price the farmer gets.

Help of every hog farmer in Nebraska is needed in this important orderly marketing program. This help will be needed in maintaining the government support price for hogs. If hogs are marketed faster than packing plants can process them, it would be useless for the government to purchase live hogs in an attempt to hold the price because the only place the government could turn to have them processed would be to the overtaxed packing plants.

By helping regulate the flow of hogs to market, farmers can help in maintaining the supports. Licensing requirements commit packers to pay not less than the support price for hogs, but packers cannot be required to buy hogs faster than they can handle them. Farmers have a big stake in this program. Early marketing can be of tremendous help.

Food Order No. 71 served its purpose and was cancelled October 25. The entire turkey needs of the armed forces have been met and the remainder of the turkey supply is available for civilians.

10:00 a. m. Church School. H. B. Burch, Supt.

The purpose of going to church is not to create shallow optimists who will talk hopeful nonsense because they have not faced the worst. But it should create men who can live a life of faith and hope amidst the destruction of war and revolution. It helps us look beyond the present tragedy to the "new heaven and new earth."

11:00 a. m., Morning Worship. Anthem. Sermon: "Common Folk"—Key to the Future.

7:00 p. m. Evening session of Methodist Youth Fellowship. Brief worship service, led by Viva Alm. Discussion. Social hour.

In the evening session the Methodist Youth are given free reign to be as creative as possible and to make the Youth program effective. We want all Methodists and their friends to take an active part in the church school, choir, worship service and in the Sunday evening sessions as well. We invite you to come.

Women's Society of Christian Service will meet Friday, November 12. The Society has changed the date of their meeting this week from Thursday to Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors. All the Methodist ladies and their friends are urged to be present.

Planned program for primary and junior children Sunday, Nov. 21. On this date Mrs. Reimer, Mrs. Park, Mrs. Leidy and Mrs. Kirckman are planning an additional session for the primary and junior children of the Methodist church. Plan for this day, your children shall enjoy it—learning—play—eats.

United Thanksgiving Service planned. The Methodist and Presbyterian churches are planning a Thanksgiving Service to be held in the Methodist church on November 25, 1943, at 9 a. m.

This united service is a tradition which has been carried on for a number of years. Last year the service was in the Presbyterian church and Rev. Park delivered the address. This year the service will be in the Methodist church and Rev. Kenneth Scott will deliver the address. All Protestants not having a service in their church at that hour are urged to be present, that together
