

Harmony and Color

So necessary in every home are found in the unique beauty of the La France pictures on tapestry and the mirrors finished with tapestried pictures. Each a living dream of color, vibrant feeling and human interest. The far-off Java, Ceylon, Rangoon, Shanghai—all are exquisitely perpetuated in these pictures that beauty-loving people everywhere may have those very scenes in their own homes. Not only do the blazing glory of the Orient, the tranquillity of quaint Norman and Flemish village life and portraits of unusual folk form the subjects of the reproductions, but the ever changing sea and the vessels that ride it's waves, the inspiration for pictures that are a general appeal appeal to all members of the family.

All framed in exquisite mouldings of gold polychrome or burnished blue and gold.

TWO O'NEILL GIRLS SERIOUSLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Failing to see the turn in the road because of the heavy fog is thought to be responsible for the overturning of the Paul Schwisow truck and the serious injury of Miss Helen Schwisow and Miss Beryl Winchell last Friday evening. Both girls were still unconscious when found by B. T. Winchell, father of Beryl, at about 12:30 o'clock that night, four hours after the accident is thought to have occurred. Neither of them regained consciousness until the following morning. The night was quite cold and the girls suffered extremely from exposure. Miss Helen received a severe blow on the head from which she is still suffering, a collarbone was also broken; Miss Beryl suffered a fractured hip and several deep cuts upon her person which caused her to lose a considerable quantity of blood. Miss Beryl was taken to the Lutheran hospital in Norfolk Monday morning. Miss Helen was taken to the same hospital today by Dr. H. L. Bennett, where they will receive treatment.

The girls were hiding clues for a treasure hunt and were driving the Schwisow truck; as they did not return to the place of starting at a late hour, a search was begun for them. It seemed that the girls arrived at the corner before they realized where they were because of the heavy fog that hung over this vicinity that evening; the truck evidently crashed into the trees beyond the turn in the road before they could stop it; both girls were thrown from the truck; the truck was standing upright when found, but the indications were that it had turned over.

THE CLYDE KING BUICK STOLEN TUESDAY MORNING

The new 1929 Buick belonging to Clyde King was stolen some time after two o'clock Tuesday morning.

Mrs. King and daughter, Miss Catherine, had each been to parties that evening and had returned home late. The car gears and transmission had been locked and the key brought into the house.

Nothing has been learned that would indicate which way the car was taken or by whom.

Mr. King says that an effort was made some time Sunday night to remove the east window of the garage. The frame had been partly pried from the building and the window was raised as far as it would go, which was not far enough to admit the body of a man. It is thought that the thieves endeavored to remove the window in order to permit them to get to the car without being seen from the lighted street. The garage was not locked.

The car was covered by insurance.

The grades of the O'Neill Public School will present an operetta entitled "The Forest Court" at the school auditorium on Friday evening, December 7th, at 8:00. There will also be a matinee starting at 2:30 p. m.

SYNOPSIS:

Tommy and his friends are on a picnic playing games in the woods. Tommy, all boy, like thousands of Tommies, muddies the spring, switches off flower tops, pulls up a baby tree, and breaks branches. Some one proposes to climb a hill. Tommy remains and falls asleep. Faries mischievously plot to teach him a lesson by casting a spell and showing him what harm thoughtless pranks mean to Forest Folk. Tommy is tried in the Forest Court, Judge Owl presiding. He is about to be sentenced when the Rabbit and Tortoise bring word of a past good deed Tommy had done in saving a butterfly caught in a spider web. The butterfly proved to be Silver Wings, messenger of the Fairy Queen, freed from the net of an enchanter. Tommy is pardoned, and the Forest Folk hold revels and rejoice over their new friend, Tommy.
