"DON'T TELL MY WIFE."

The American Legion presented the comedy drama "Don't Tell My Wife" to crowded houses, last Thursday and Friday nights, at the K. C. opera house.

The principal parts were taken by D. H. Clauson, as Billy Wilson, the henpecked husband; Mrs. Marie Gatz, as Dorothy Summers, Jack's pretty wife, out for a lark and up to anything "awful;" Mrs. Gertrude Streeter, as Mrs. Billy Wilson, Billy's dominating better half; Miss Bethene Peasley substituting for Miss Mildred Timlin, who was ill, as Kitty, a mischievous maid; R. V. Jones, as Jack Summers, a lawyer when he had nothing else to do and a liar all the time; R. M. Sauer, as Hezekiah Barnaby, Jack's uncle, a gay old sport.

Chorus: Winifred Starlin, Bernadine Protovinsky, Stella Dumpert, Evelyn Howard, Velma Ernst, Mildred Timlinson.

Chorus: Phyllis Hough, Helen Gaines, Amelia Merrell, Lona Cromwell, Eva Spengler, Loral Hough.

Chorus: Gertrude Enright, Peggy MacLeod, Mildred Agnes, Eva Protovinsky, Catherine Enright, Helen Reardon.

Chorus: Elsie Vitt, Dorothy Enright, Edna Simonson, Phoebe Abdouch.

Chorus: Beaux, Alice Hall, Helen Pinkerman, Lois Thrush; Belles, Gladys Williams, Gertrude Connolly, Ruth Scott.

Each member of the cast performed his or her part in a manner that would make the old veterans of the foot lights give the nod of approval. The specialties were all exceptionally good. The legion are to be commended for giving their time to the presentation of the play as well as those who took part in the production of it.

MRS. MARY E. MOORE.

Mrs. Mary E. Moore died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ed Quinn, in the southwest part of O'Neill last Saturday, December 15th, at the age of seventy-eight years, seven months and four days. She was born in Boston, Massachusetts, May 11, 1850. On November 13, 1871, she was united in marriage to Wm. Moore; to this union seven children were born, six of whom survive, James Moore, O'Neill; Thomas Moore, Kirksville, Missouri; Emmet Moore, Baring, Missouri; Mrs. Wm. Noonan, Kirksville, Missouri; Charles Moore, Edine, Missouri; Mrs. Ed Quinn, O'Neill. She came to O'Neill about eighteen years ago and has made her home with Mrs. Quinn for the past few years.

The remains were shipped to Kirksville, Missouri, her old home, for burial. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Quinn accompanied the body.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

Lincoln, Nebr., Nov. 30—Twenty-eight students are registered at the University of Nebraska, in Lincoln, from Holt county. Of these, nine are from O'Neill, six from Atkinson, five from Stuart, and one each from Agee, Amelia, Chambers, Dustin, Ewing, Joy, Page and Red Bird.

The O'Neill representation at the university is: Marjorie F. Carter, Edgar V. Gaines, Bennett S. Gilligan, Burt H. Hubbard, Arthur M. King, James C. Parker, Fred Warner, Marquerite E. Welch, and Francis W. Welch.

THREE FIRE ALARMS.

The fire department were called to the Beha hotel Saturday because of the burning out of a chimney.

Saturday evening about 8:45 the department were again called to fight a fire in the barn at the Chet Calkins residence. The barn was totally destroyed. The horses were taken out before the fire gained much headway.

A run was made to the Fred McNally home Wednesday where a gunny sack was smoldering making considerable smoke.

CELA ITEMS.

A few of the kindhearted neighbors came in and helped Mrs. J. V. Johnson dress her marketable turkeys Tuesday. 35 were dressed and made ready for the Holiday market.

A coyote had the misfortune the other day to get into a trap set by the Frickle boys. Coyote fur is high. (When it stands straight up). The McKathnie boys raised two young coyotes this summer and were offered $11.50 apiece for the pelts.

A new sport has started in this up-to-date neighborhood, that of hunting jack rabbits in the night and shooting them by the aid of car light. D. F. Scott went out one evening and killed twelve in a short time and the Frickle boys killed eleven the same night.

The relentless winter is getting a firmer grip on this poor defenseless country as the days shorten, and today, Tuesday, the powers of the air certainly showed their ability to cool the atmosphere and swiftly move real estate and other things that were not firmly attached to something solidier than the earth.

The public sale of W. O. James was held on schedule time. A large crowd attended and everything sold well. W. O. always enjoyed a big meal when he had a chance to get his feet under the neighbor's table and did full justice to most everything put before him, but the neighbors certainly got it back on him sale day. A large as well as fine lunch was served them and the neighbors showed their appreciation so completely there was not a crumb left big enough to satisfy a small mouse.

A crowd almost as large as that on sale day, gathered at the Johnson home, Saturday, for a farewell and surprise party on the Jameses. It was an ideal evening and all those present had a good time. The men were treated to cigars, and the ladies who did not accept cigars were treated to candy. Miss Alpt got several games started in high gear. The old as well as young taking part. A well prepared lunch was served after which the party was broken up at an early hour. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. James will be greatly missed by their neighbors and friends.
