CHARACTER READING.

By Ambrose Rhode, Editor.
It has been told by several learned people that a man's character can be read by his handwriting—whether he is ambitious, careless, particular, miserly, etc. But does this statement seem true?

When a student enters our High School and he takes penmanship (whether it is compulsory or elective), from the first day of entrance his work starts to improve.

Some of his letters are spread apart; others are lying almost on their side, and "t's" are crossed carelessly, and very often the "i's" are not dotted. Gradually, after a few weeks practice, the work has improved to such an extent that to look at the beginning copy and the one last written there will be such a vast difference that the copies are unlike, in every way. How then, can a boy's character be read? Perhaps, before he took penmanship he was classed as careless, but after taking the subject he might be termed very neat. It surely is a puzzling dilemma.

Under the tutorage of Mr. Brokenicky the student's character is assured in the line of writing.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

A meeting was held by the Board of Education last Monday, Jan. 7. The reports of State Inspector, G. W. Rosenlof, were discussed at the meeting. A report was sent to Superintendent Miller and one to Mrs. Sauers, Secretary of the Board of Education.

The equipment in the science room has also been discussed. It was authorized that wooden flooring be placed around the tables to insulate the room for the pupils in the use of electricity.

WINTER AND ITS SPORTS.

Winter is the time of the year when the snow falls and ice covers the river. It is also the basket ball season. When it snows you get your old sled down and scour the runners and buy another twenty feet of rope. You get the rope all fixed. About the time you get ready to go, you see a hobsled or a wagon going by and hook him for a ride. You do this for two or three days. Finally this gets too slow. You do want to go a little faster, and finally see a dray on which you know isn't going very far. You hook it. It starts going from twenty to thirty five miles an hour. The first thing you know you are on your way out of town. You think, "Well I'll just stop off here." You let go of the rope. It sticks and you begin to wonder how you are going to get loose. You yell at the driver but in vain. He doesn't hear you. Pretty soon you think of the old rusty jack knife, pull it out, cut the rope and think, "Gosh," how lucky I was to think of this old rusty thing!"

—John Harbottle.

BASKET BALL.

The O'Neill Public High team will journey to Inman Friday to clash again with the Inman High Basketball team. This will be O'Neill's first game away from home and we hope to have a large number of supporters to accompany the boys on their first return game. A few weeks ago Inman defeated O'Neill due to the short time our boys had to practice. Both teams are now in their fighting forms and this game promises to be a very enjoyable one. O'Neill will play Atkinson next Wednesday at O'Neill and the following Friday they again meet the Stuart quintette at Stuart. Come and see our games.

BASKETBALL TEAM OF O'NEILL HIGH IS PROGRESSING

O'Neill High's basketball team has been practicing industriously since Christmas vacation and the results are surprising, the team is showing more speed and teamwork. New members of the squad are Clarence Ryan and Howard Medlen. Both boys tower over six feet and have no trouble in finding the basket. Clarence has the outlook of a promising forward while Howard can cover guarding territory with amazing skill.

With these boys on the squad the team has promises of being tall.

The squad purchased new sweat suits of Navy blue last week.

We wonder how many persons could put away fifty cents a day. At 4% compounding semi-annually it amounts to $3,729.40 in fifteen years.

A monthly saving of $5.00 at 4% interest compounded semi-annually grows to $736.74 in ten years.

MUSIC.

The Radio—The School.
The Radio Corporation of America offers to the elementary schools, high schools and colleges of the United States and Canada (east of the Rocky Mountains) a unique course of education in music consisting of four series of concerts by Walter Damrosch and his symphony orchestra. Mr. Damrosch, as we all know, is conductor and director of the famous New York Symphony.

At each of these concerts, Mr. Damrosch will conduct his orchestra personally in carefully graded selections from the works of the great masters. He will also make explanatory comments which will open the realm of music to young listeners and serve to explain the various musical forms as well as the various musical forms in which great composers express themselves.

Mr. Damrosch wishes to emphasize that these concerts are intended to supplement such instruction as the pupils may receive in their schools, to stimulate their love for music and to encourage them in self expression through school courses and orchestras.

The program for Series A for Friday, January 18, will include a violin and violoncello recital. Rethoven's "Polanais for strings", Saint Saens' "The Swan, from Carnival of the Animals", "Pizzicatos, from Sylvia" Delibes Series C (the same day)

Trombone and Tuba recital: "Excerpt from Prelude to Lohengrin" Wagner "Wedding March" Mendelssohn "Ride of the Valkyries, from the Valkyrie" Wagner

The program for July 25th will be for Series B and D (as grouped above) and will be printed in the next issue of "School News."

Our public school children (grades and high school) are going to have the privilege of hearing these programs of musical instruction. This is made possible by Principal R. V. Jones who has very kindly offered his electric radio to the school for use in the auditorium.

WHY WE MUST EAT.

Food to the body is likened to the necessity of fuel for a fire. We have to keep the burned out parts replaced with new fuel; this is done by eating proper foods. The food consumed must constitute a well balance ration. The proper foods when taken into the body, and properly digested, replace the worn out tissues. They also build up the blood and nervous systems.

The following quotation was written by Owen Meredith:
"We may live without poetry, music and art.
We may live without conscience and live without heart;
We may live without friends; We may live without books;
But the civilized man cannot live without cooks."

CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

It seems to be the consensus of opinion of the members of the class in Civil Government that one of the greatest needs of the present day is a higher regard for law, probably from an ethical point of view, on the part of the rank and file of our citizenry. Our civilization would advance by a great jump upward if more people would respect, and therefore obey, all laws simply because of the fact that the future of our democracy depends in no small degree upon obedience to established laws. If one is not in sympathy with a certain law, that does not by any means give him the right to disregard it; the final result of such a philosophy would be utter disregard for all law which leads promptly and very directly to anarchy. If any law is unfair or unjust the best and quickest way to get rid of it is a public sentiment which demands a rigid enforcement of all law even while we may be working for the repeal of one that is unsatisfactory. Let each resolve that he will develop within himself a greater degree of loyalty to our glorious democracy, the United States of America, through a higher voluntary regard for the law of our land.

NORMAL TRAINING CLASSES.

The Normal Training Classes have been divided into four groups, each of which is to work out a sand table project. Each group will have a certain day to exhibit its idea, after which Miss Latta, their teacher, will decide which idea is the best. The first group made an exhibit Wednesday, January 9, and the second group had charge of the said table the next Friday. The third group will exhibit its idea on Tuesday of the next week and the fourth group Thursday.

The first group made an exhibition of Eskimo life and the second group make one of a cotton plantation.

The County Teachers examinations will be held at the O'Neill Public School Saturday, January 19, 1929. Among the many who will write will be our Normal Training girls.

The following subject will be given:
World History.
American History.
Advanced Civics.

Arithmetic-Bookkeeping.
Geography-Drawing.
Senior Reviews.
Normal Training English.
Reading-Penmanship.
Grammar-Orthography.

WORLD HISTORY.

The World History students have just completed their semester booklets. These contained a complete knowledge of some phase of History and were bound in book form. The object of making these booklets is to have each student understand thoroughly in detail some event or the History of a nation such as "Greece." The most outstanding booklets belong to Ella Dalbert, whose work is an "Phoenical;" Robert Lamb, "Egypt;" and George Abdouch, "Egypt."

There are many other excellent books. We are well satisfied with the result. Come and visit our classes.

THE KING'S ENGLISH.

The English II class, second division, finished "The Tragedy of Hamlet" Tuesday. They have been studying the play for some time.

Some quotations for "Hamlet" that many of us use are: "Frailty, thy name is woman!" "Something is rotten in Denmark." "Brevity, is the soul of wit." "Rich gifts wax poor when givers prove unkind."

"But look the morn in russet mantle clad, walks o'er the brow of yon high eastern hill."

The English IX classes have recently discovered that the indefinite pronouns—anybody, anything, everybody, evrything, anyone, everyone and someone are singular and should be followed by singular verbs and constructions; as "Everyone is (singular verb) invited."

"Anyone may bring his book."
We are busy, now weeding out these errors. Do you make them? Watch your tongue when we Freshmen are around.

THE CASCADE TUNNEL.

How many of you heard the wonderful program Saturday evening broadcasted from New York City over the Network Stations? This program of music, speech, and patriotic enthusiasm dedicated the new Cascade Tunnel recently opened by the great Northern Railway.

The tunnel, one of the miraculous engineering feats of the age, opens more rapid transportation to the great Northwest. Surely so great an achievement is worthy of our thought and praise to the extent that we feel a new glory and patriotism in so great an America.

President Elect Hoover spoke briefly; great railway men spoke; an orchestra of note played; but Schumann-Heink crowned all with "The Star Spangled Banner." Surely the radio is great force in American friendship and patriotism.
