TWO O'NEILL YOUNG MEN GIVEN ONE TO FIVE YEARS FOR BUTCHERING HOG

Will Ross was sentenced to a term of one to five years in the penitentiary for butchering a hog Wednesday night of last week in the Frank Pruss hog yards, and Vernon Sparks was given a sentence of one year to five years in the reformatory for the assistance he rendered in the butchering.

Sheriff Peter W. Duffy began an investigation Thursday morning that led him to the Will Ross home where he discovered blood between the seats of the car; the cellar of the residence exhibited evidence that a hog, similar in color to the missing hog, had been cleaned. Will Ross was arrested and placed in the county jail; later he admitted the butchering.

The investigation proved that this was not a one man job and as Vernon Sparks had been seen with Ross Wednesday night he was taken into custody and later admitted that he helped carry the hog to the cellar, but denies having anything to do with the butchering, he is a young man not yet twenty-one years old; considerable sympathy is expressed for him.

Those on the "inside" say that others were implicated in the butchering regardless of the fact that Ross claims to have been alone.

The sheriff expects to take the prisoners to Fremont soon where they will await admittance to the penal institutions.

YEAR IN THE PENITENTIARY FOR ELWIN E. BOWDEN.

Sheriff Peter W. Duffy went to Crawford last Friday and arrested Elwin E. Bowden, who some time ago jumped a bond and who has refused to pay alimony to his wife. He was arraigned before Judge Robert R. Dickson soon after his return to the county and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.
