GALLAGHER-KUBIK.

Percy Gallagher, of Macomb, Illinois, and Miss Elizabeth C. Kubik, of Atkinson, were married in St. Joseph's church in Atkinson, Monday, April 15th; Rev. Father Peiper performing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kubik, prominent and highly respected residents of Atkinson. The bridegroom is employed in the railway service in Macomb, Illinois.

The Frontier extends congratulations.

SMITH-HOPKINS.

Charles F. Smith and Miss Estella L. Hopkins, of Inman, were united in marriage in Inman last Friday by Rev. Rollie Poe, pastor of the Methodist church at Inman.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

The State Teacher's Examinations will be held at Atkinson, O'Neill and Ewing on Saturday, April 20th. All planning on taking these examinations should get their numbers from this office before that time.

We hope to put on a broader health program in the County next fall. O'Neill has made arrangements for a three months service again and Inman and Chambers have each made application for at least one month's service.

Every Glass In Your Car Protected

If You Have a Thoma Glass Service Policy

YOUR greatest single risk is GLASS — the most fragile part of your car—the most frequent cause of loss—the only part not protected by ordinary automobile insurance. One motorist in three breaks glass each year—more than 7,000,000 in the U. S. A.—and they pay more than $60,000,000 annually for glass replacement.

Let Us Carry This Risk for You

through a Thoma Glass Service Insurance Policy. Costs little, and it's the one policy on which you're sure to collect sooner or later. Wherever glass is used, glass breaks! Free replacement anywhere in U. S. A.

THE RED CROSS NURSE MISS MARY GRASKAMP PRESENTS A PROGRAM

As a climax to the twelve weeks of activities conducted by the National Red Cross Nurse, Miss Mary Graskamp, both in the Public School and St. Mary's Academy, the pupils of her classes in both schools and the adult class presented an Achievement program in the auditorium of the public school building Thursday evening to a crowded house.

The high school orchestra played several selections at the opening of the program and at intervals throughout the evening.

Mrs. P. J. O'Donnell, chairman of the local chapter of the Red Cross gave a very interesting resume of the O'Neill Red Cross; she spoke very highly of the work done by Miss Graskamp during the twelve weeks that she spent in O'Neill.

The first demonstration on the program was a playlet given by members of the Hygiene class of the public school, entitled "A Picnic." The demonstration consisted of first aid work in a series of accidents that are liable to happen at any picnic and covered a range of a scratch on the finger to drowning. Those who took part in the program were Lona Cromwell, Leta Johnson, Stella VanEvery, Eva Spangler, Helen Gaines, Virgil Johnson, Harold Shoemaker, Francis Tenborg, Rebert Lamb, George Robertson and Levi Hull.

The next demonstration was given by pupils of the same class, entitled "The Baby's Bath." The part of the mother was taken by Mildred Grandorff, the nurse, Marjorie Gretschi; visitors, Neva Oberle and Amolia Merrill. The visitors represented the "nosey" type of women who sometimes visit the new baby and are chock full of the old time theories; these two visitors were exceptionally clever.

The members of St. Mary's Home Hygiene class contributed a playlet and two readings to the program. The playlet "An Auto Accident" dealt with the proper emergency treatment for a dislocated shoulder and other injuries. Those taking part were: Mildred Agnes, Gertrude Connelly, Margaret and Eleanor Dunne, Bernadette Galligan, June Scanlon, Lenore Shoemaker, Genevieve Lydon, Josephine Wabs and Nellie Whiting.

"Maggie McCarthy on Dieting," was read by Loretta Carr, and "The Boy and His Father," by Catherine Zastrowe.

Besides first aid kits exhibited by the high school classes there was a very fine "health" sand table showing a town, the houses, streets and side walks, all of which were constructed of some kind of cereal.

The last number on the program was presented by the adult class showing the use of homemade appliances in the care of a patient. The ladies were Mrs. Frank Oberle, patient; Mrs. W. C. Templeton, nurse; Mrs. John Stauffer, assistant nurse; Mrs. James McPharlin and Mrs. Katherine Miller, visitors. The visitors caused many good laughs by their inquisitiveness and by their conversation embodying the untimely remarks that are often heard in the sick room; the remarks were considerably overdrawn but were greatly enjoyed by the audience.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

How refreshing it is after reading continually the cold calculating items of news about business, politics and ordinary society affairs such as we see, for the most part, in the papers, to read of a surprise party such as was given to R. J. Hatch, Monday night, April 15th, in honor of his sixtieth birthday anniversary and it was a real surprise.

They assembled at the home of Roy Cole about eight o'clock in the evening and greeted Mr. Hatch with wishes for many happy returns; some nice presents were presented to him.

After that he, with most of the young people, engaged in some out door games until eleven o'clock, when a lunch of many different kinds of nice cakes and coffee was served.

On the table was one cake decorated with sixty candles lighted and burning and Mr. Hatch, a custom usually is observed, blew out the candles, then the crowd proceeded to partake of the refreshments. Afterwards indoor games were played until nearly one o'clock, after which the party broke up with the statement that they all enjoyed themselves very much.

GOODYEAR DEALERS TO DINE AT THE GOLDEN

Development of better business methods, improvement of service facilities and the service itself will be the subject of discussion at the Golden hotel, Thursday, April 18th, when Goodyear tire dealers from the city and surrounding territory will attend a dinner meeting as guests of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

Enabling the tire buyer to purchase the right tire for his needs and showing him what proper tire consists in doing so that he may get the most mileage from his tire equipment also will be treated in an interesting way, according to F. D. Thompson branch manager for Goodyear at Sioux City, Iowa.

During the evening a six-reel motion picture on merchandising tire will be shown to the dealers.

BENEFIT SHOW.

One of the best pictures ever seen in O'Neill was shown on Friday and Saturday nights at the Royal Theatre for the benefit of St. Mary's Athletic Association. This picture was "Submarine" featuring Jack Holt, Ralph Graves and Dorothy Revier. Between shows the following specialties were introduced by St. Mary's students:

Solo—Thelma Riley.
Song and Dance—Gertrude Connelly and Harlan Agnes, assisted by St. Mary's "Cardinals."

Song and Dance—Mildred Agnes and John McCarthy.
Song and Dance—Bill Beha and his Dutch Dancing Class including Grace Quilty as solo dancer. Helen Reardon played the accompaniments for all the numbers.

Mr. Longstaff was also elected chairman of the committee on Christian education which office makes him a member of synod's committee on Christian education and also chairman of the examination committee of candidates for the ministry.

FRED FOX SENTENCED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Fred Fox was sentenced to serve sixty days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $100 and costs, by County Judge C. J. Malone in county court last Friday. Fox was arrested by state prohibition officers last week when they found ten gallons of alleged "shine" in his car.

PEPLESS PARTNERS.

Mr. "Meant-to" has a partner. And his name is "Didn't-do." Perchance you may have met them. So they are known to you. These two fellows live together in the chateau, "I-Can't-Win" and the story goes, it's haunted by the ghosts of "Might-have-been."

CELIA NEWS.

A fine rain fell throughout the country, Saturday night and Sunday. As the weather is getting better people are starting out to get acquainted again after hibernating so to speak, through the long hard winter.

The dirtfarmers are all quite busy sowing small grain, oats and barley. Also spring rye; congress will likely have a tremendous job this fall caring for the surplus, which there certainly will be if every kernel brings a hundred fold. The chickens are nothing but chinmusic yet, awaiting warmer weather.

The O. A. Hammerburg family helped dismantle a twenty-pound turkey, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith and George were dinner guests at Willard Greenwoods. The Johnson's expected some dinner guests from O'Neill, too. The Harry Bowen family but supposedly, on account of the rain, did not arrive, and thus lost out on the turkey.

The northwest schoolma'am, Miss Alpha, says if it isn't one thing its two, and thinks the "chevy" which she drives back and forth to school, tried to commit suicide Monday; it's been in good working order in all gears and always started when stepped on, but Monday evening it started fire instead of speed and tried to burn itself up. Fay Carns, with the help of the other children, got the fire put out before any serious damage was done. Frank Kohlschmidt with his tin lizzie happened along and brought the bunch home. The "chevy" was pulled home later in the evening.

GRETA GARBO GLORIOUSLY ALLURING IN DANCES OF HER NEW FILM

Greta Garbo, who during her entire residence in Hollywood has never participated in the social whirl of the screen capital, preferring the seclusion of her Santa Monica apartment, had to learn the newest ballroom steps for her latest screen vehicle.

"Wild Orchids" shown at Royal Theatre, O'Neill, Sunday and Monday. Sedate Scandinavian waltz rhythms and the syncopated fast-moving dance numbers popular in the United States are as far apart, obviously, as a tropical breeze and a Canadian snowstorm. Miss Garbo's early training in the principles of the dance at the Royal Dramatic Academy in Stockholm proved of little value when it came to going through a half-dozen flurried fox trots and semi-Charlestons. Dance instructors were hurriedly summoned from a Los Angeles school and the young Swedish actress quickly re-learned the basic points of 1928 ballroom dancing, Western Hemisphere style.

The scenes in "Wild Orchids" calling for ballroom dancing take place

Enjoy the Spring Roads Comfortably!

SPRING, the motoring season, is here. Everyone wants to be out taking advantage of the weather. Week-end trips, after-dinner drives, long rides on Sundays—everything is just great—except the roads.

Many roads are still bad—wet, muddy and cut up by the frost.

To enjoy the pleasant weather, there is one absolute necessity—good, dependable tires.

That's why we suggest that you look over your tires now and replace the doubtful ones with United States Tires. They will carry you smoothly and safely over the worst of roads. They will allow you to enjoy every minute of the spring season.

Come in and let us show you how we can help you with Royal and USCO Cords.
