MEEK AND VICINITY

Eric Borg spent Tuesday at the home of his son Axel.
Mrs. A. L. Borg called on Mrs.

Clarence Hicks last Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. Griffin called at the Matt Schelkopf home Saturday.

Cecil Griffin assisted Rouse Bros. shock grain the first of the week.
Miss Maude Rouse, of O'Neill, is visiting at the Frank Griffith home. Mrs. Ed Henefin and children visited at the Dan Hansen home last Tuesday.

Mrs. Hess of Wayne is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Benson.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Sargent, of O'Neill were week-end guests at the Harry Fox home.
Grandpa Kaczor and daughter Tena, visited at the Albert Kaczor home on Tuesday.

Virgil Morrow had the misfortune to get kicked by a horse, which laid him up for a while.

A good rain fell in this locality Saturday night which will be of great benefit to the crops.
Everyone is busy harvesting; the busy hum of the binders can be heard both early and late.

The Larkin club met with Mrs. Sam Robertson on Friday; the next meeting will be with Mrs. Roy Spindler.

Mrs. Henry Guile, and son Ivan Reeder, of St. Edward, aunt and cousin of Mrs. R. D. Spindler visited until Wednesday.

Several families picniced on the Eagle creek last Sunday; they report the creek to be the highest it has been for several years.

Lightning struck four head of cattle in the old Hicks pasture Saturday night; two of them belonged to Joe Ulerach, and were not insured, the others were insured.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lindberg and children drove to Neligh Sunday where they met her mother, Mrs. Gannon, who is returning from a year's sojourn in California.

The young people society did fairly well at the ice cream social at Harry Fox's Saturday evening. The rain which threatened during the early part of the evening kept some at home, while some that were there decided to go home before the storm.

PLEASANT VALLEY NEWS

P. A. Grass is on the sick list this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Zellar and children spent Sunday at the Ernest Perkins home.

Mrs. C. A. Grass and daughters Lura and Kaheryn, and son Dee and Mrs. Cora Hamilton autoed to O'Neill Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Algie Sarchet and children, of Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Sarchet of Page, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Less Lines and children spent Sunday at the C. A. Grass home.

Last week we made an error in stating that Gene Will, a grandson, was visiting at the home of Mrs. Frank Snyder. The article should have read "nephew". Mr. Will resides in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Frank Snyder entertained the N. O. K. club last Thursday; a dainty lunch was served and a pleasant afternoon spent. The guests of the club were Mrs. Arnold Stewart, Miss Lura and Miss Kathryn Grass.

MAMMOTH CIRCUS COMING TO O'NEILL, NEBRASKA

The Robbins Bros. Big 4-Ring Circus the largest in the world giving a street parade will appear at O'Neill on July 26th.

The big circus this year crowded with features and will present the greatest performance of its history. Notable among the features offered is the Human Fly—the big importation from Europe. This act, consisting of men and women who act as human flies or ceiling walkers have astounded all Europe during the past winter. Imagine to yourself these flies walking on the ceiling of the tent up side down—defying all laws of gravitation. No one has ever seen so startling, death defying performance in the history of sensational acts.

Two mammoth pageants, requiring three hundred people in its cast of characters; three herds of elephants; a mammoth hippopotamus just imported from Africa; marvelous herd of performing animals; Ponca Bill's Wild West show; fifty Sioux Indians from off the reservation; fifty cowboys; Count Cimmerjotta's dancing horses; acrobatic acts; Japanese families recently brought over from Japan; Arabian Tumbler from Teheran, Arabia, forty clowns with the highest salaried clown in the world as producer; trained dogs and ponies; parade of nations which for oriental splendor excels anything produced up to the present time; 200 wild animals; 400 horses; 600 men to man the show; wonders galore; feats without a parallel.

The circus is one of the most successful in the country, having a half a century played principally in the east and is now making its second western tour enlarged to such an extent that it stands in the front rank. It is worth while in very way.

FIFTY MAYTAG DEALERS WILL MEET IN NORFOLK

Early in August the Maytag dealers of Northwestern Iowa will entertain the Maytag dealers of Northeast Nebraska at a banquet at the result of having lost in a sales contest conducted between the two groups during May and June.

The Northeast Nebraska dealers won the contest by a comfortable margin, it was announced by Sam Greisch, of Norfolk, who makes regular trips to O'Neill in the promotion of the sales of the Maytag; Mr. Greisch is the district manager. About fifty dealers will attend the banquet in Norfolk.

About 125 district managers of the Maytag company attended the Minneapolis convention, at which reports were given showing that the Minneapolis branch in the first six months of 1929 had the largest increase in sales in the history of the organization. Nebraska taking all honors, said Mr. Greisch.

E. H. Maytag, president of the company; F. L. Maytag, chairman of the board of directors, and Fred L. Maytag, a grandson, attended the convention which was held at the Nicolett hotel the first part of last week.

Hugh Coyne has just recently taken the agency for the Maytag in this territory; H. W. Tomlinson will continue to sell the machines as formerly.

WHAT THE GAS TAX DOES FOR NEBRASKA

came out, more than a half mile through this bluff and I should judge about three hundred feet beneath the top of the bluff.

The old Oregon trail passes over the canal here at Mitchell pass. Also there is a monument placed in this pass for Captain Scott who died at the spring a half mile east.

Well, you should go to see the bluffs for I have not time to tell you about them. We stayed three days at Scott's Bluffs with our daughter, Mrs. E. N. Garvin and family; during that time we viewed the crops, scenery and the city. There are more kinds of architecture in this little city than any city I was ever in.

We started toward home down the Platte valley and drove nearly to Bridgeport where highway No. 19 branches off to the north towards Alliance and were soon up on a high table land and a very poor country for about twenty miles. Then we got into the sand hills but there were quite a number of little lakes and plenty of grassy valleys. When we came to the end of the sand hills we could see Alliance about ten miles to the northeast. This was a flat country mostly all under cultivation. Alliance is a railway town. Here I had just stopped the car for the stop signal when my brother, who has been in the clothing business there for thirty years, walked in front of our car; after visiting for a while we left over highway No. 19. For sixteen miles the land was all farmed, mostly to wheat. We crossed the Niobrara river about ten miles south of Hay Springs. At Hay Springs we got on highway No. 20 and drove to Gordon, thirty-one miles. All of this trip had been made over gravelled or paved roads except about fifteen miles north of Bridgeport and thirty-two miles after we left Hay Springs. Gordon is a nice little town but a good deal larger than it was the first time I saw it; at that time there were seven saloons, one blacksmith shop, two stores, one hotel and one livery stable; of these my father was proprietor the hotel and livery stable. All the buildings were of rough pine covered with tar paper; that was East Gordon. West Gordon lacked one saloon of being as large as East Gordon. The pine boards could be gotten over on Pine Ridge Agency where there was a saw mill. The end of the railroad was at Valentine at this time; my occupation was driving a hack or bus to meet the construction train as they started to build the track soon after my parents moved to Gordon. That was in the spring of 1885. The track was laid as far west as Chadron that year.

At Gordon we stayed with my oldest brother, Lett, who has lived in and around this town since the time when there were only a few scattered ranches there.

From Gordon to Cody it is fifty miles over highway No. 20, a good gravelled road. This is the road we drove over in 1885, only at that time the road wound around the edge of the lakes and through the low sand hills. Here I have seen twenty span of mules hitched on three wagons, for one man could drive eight span of mules with a jerk line which is a long line from the right hand mule of the lead team to the driver who rode the right hand mule of the team that was hitched directly to the wagon. The line was snapped into the bit of every right hand mule clear through the line. Maybe I had better explain that these were mule trains freighting from Valentine, which was the end of the railroad at that time, to the Black Hills.

One man drove about eight span of mules and had three wagons tied together. One of these trains consisted of about ten men, each with three wagons and about eight span of mules. Some freight trains were larger and some smaller.

Most of the lakes have been drained in the last few years which makes lots of good hay land. On this drive from Gordon to Cody we saw more good white face cattle than we had seen on the whole trip, although we had been through stretches of country that should have been full of cattle but there were very few and these were mostly of a poor quality.

At Cody we stopped to see Ralph Keiser, formerly of Holt county. We were sorry to find him sick in bed. Some time ago he had the flu and it left him a weak heart. He had been to Mayo's and they told him to go to bed for five weeks. His family say that he is improving.

From Cody to Valentine was about the poorest road we traveled on the whole trip. It was marked No. 29 but was not finished yet. We crossed to the south side of the Niobrara about five miles northeast of Valentine. Here we saw two buffalo and three elk; this is the state reserve. A couple of miles farther on we crossed to the north side of the Niobrara, from there to Springview the country is poor with a few little stretches of good farm land. Four miles west of Springview we left No. 20 where it turns south to Ainsworth, we went east over No. 10 thru Springview to Basset. At Newport we ran into a nice rain which seemed to form right there but followed down the valley. We arrived home at eight o'clock Sunday evening after being gone eight days and traveling 1334 miles.

Insects are raised in incubators at the FLY-TOX factory. When they are fully grown and especially strong and lively they are turned loose in a test cabinet, "The Fly-Tox Chamber of Death". Less than a teaspoonful of FLY-TOX is sprayed inside. Within five minutes all are dead. But the test isn't finished yet. The dead insects are carefully taken from the "Chamber of Death" and put gently into incubators they remain there 24 hours in an effort to revive them. If even a wing flutters, the FLY-TOX tested does not come up to the high standard of quality, and never leaves the factory. This is the quick acting insect spray you want. It is FLY-TOX. Accept no substitutes. There is nothing just as good. There is only one FLY-TOX. Developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research Fellowship. Every bottle guaranteed.—Adv.
