OMAHA—(UP)—A score business men of the little town of Netawaka, Kan., dropped their work Monday to come to Omaha to aid in search for Marjory Marston, 18 years old, daughter of a wealthy farmer living near Netawaka.

The girl left her father's home last Wednesday. The father, Harry Marston traced her to Hiawatha and thence to Omaha. He searched hotels here Saturday, only to find that she had checked out a short time before his arrival. He returned home. Upon hearing his story practically every business man in the village agreed to shut up shop and assist in the search. No trace of the girl has been found.

Ambition for a business career and dissatisfaction with farm life were said to have been responsible for the girl running away. Her father was emphatic in declaring that male admirers cut no figure in the incident, although Marjory is said to be one of the best looking girls in Netawaka.

ATTACKS CONSTITUTIONALITY AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS' LAW

OMAHA—(UP)—Peter Mehrens, Omaha Improvement club leader, who secured an injunction against the intangible tax law having it declared unconstitutional by District Judge Frank M. Dineen, has started similar action against the automobile drivers' license law enacted by the last legislature.

Mehrens objects to the law because of the provision giving county treasurers 25 cents of each 75-cent fee collected from licensed drivers.

CROP REPORTS VITAL SUBJECT

Federal Statistician Says Railroad Too Optimistic in Its Estimates

LINCOLN, NEB.—(UP)—Unless backed by sufficient proof and facts, the Burlington railroad should not publish its crop reports on state estimates, A. E. Anderson, federal and state agricultural statistician, said Tuesday.

Anderson asked F. E. Williamson president of the Burlington, to cooperate in eliminating all inaccurate crop reports that are detrimental to farmers and in checking all criticism of official crop reports, unless such criticism can be backed up with the facts.

The attack on the Burlington crop report was prompted by the report of E. P. Flynn, Burlington manager at Omaha, who stated federal reports were too low on the amount of wheat this season in Nebraska and the actual crop would be 10,000,000 bushels more than previously estimated.

"We have been asked more than once why the publication of such reports that are detrimental to the interests of farmers was permitted," Anderson said. "While we see no necessity for the publication of any Burlington reports, we have no objection if the Burlington confined its reports to facts along its lines."

The Burlington reports tend to be optimistic and thus have a bearish influence on prices, Anderson said. This makes the farmers disgusted with all crop reports regardless of the source, and hinders co-operation from the farmers to obtain facts.

NEBRASKA'S CONVICTS ARE BEING WELL FED

LINCOLN—(UP)—"Setting a good table" is one of the prides of officials of the Nebraska penitentiary, and Warden William F. Fenton has little fear that his wards will mutiny because they fail to get good food or a variety of things to eat.

In fact, the Nebraska penitentiary is known as a good "eating place"—if you have the proper credentials to be assigned a place at a table, the cook will always put on a little extra to serve you. Just this week, Deputy Warden D. F. Kavanaugh received a request from the Michigan reformatory for a week's menu.

While the federal prisoners at Leavenworth, Kan., were stirred to mutiny over what they were fed last week, the Nebraska convicts were contented because they had been provided a variety of foods and plenty of it. "Too much rice," was the complaint of the Leavenworth convicts, and dishes flew, resulting in the death of one prisoner.

During the season when fresh vegetables and fruits can be obtained, they are served at the table and also canned so as to provide a variety in winter. The prison larder is always well stocked with a variety. Warden Fenton gave a menu of the food served at the prison this week:

Sunday—Breakfast, fried bacon, fried mush and syrup, boiled potatoes, bread, butter and coffee; dinner, roast beef, brown gravy, mashed potatoes, boiled cabbage, pickled tomatoes, preserves, green onions, bread, butter, apple pie and coffee; supper, bologna sandwiches, dill pickles, and tea.

Monday—Breakfast, fried salt pork, boiled potatoes, brown gravy, bread, butter and coffee; dinner, baked hash, brown gravy, boiled potatoes, cold slaw, rhubarb sauce, bread, butter and coffee; supper, vegetable stew, pickled beets, syrup, crackers, bread, butter and tea.

Tuesday—Breakfast, fried salt pork, boiled potatoes, brown gravy, syrup, bread, butter and coffee; dinner, frankfurters, potatoes, pickles, green onions, bread, butter and coffee; supper, beef stew, rhubarb sauce, fresh beans, syrup, butter, bread and tea.

Wednesday—Breakfast, fried liver, onions, potatoes, gravy, bread, butter and coffee; dinner, baked beans, fried salt pork, potatoes, gravy, rhubarb sauce, bread, butter and coffee; supper, creamed rice, stewed tomatoes, bean soup, ginger cake, syrup, bread, butter and tea.

FALLS CITY WILL HAVE 80-ACRE AIRPORT

FALLS CITY — (UP) — An 80-acre tract of land two miles southwest of here has been leased by the city council for an airport site. Marshall Hoppin, field engineer of the aviation bureau of the federal department of commerce, recommended the site.

The city will lease the field for seven years at $7 an acre. No expenses will be incurred in maintaining it since the ground will continue to be used for crops, the yield taking care of the rental.

GUILTY OF CONTRIBUTING TO CHILD'S DELINQUENCY

MADISON—(Special)—William Pollard, Norfolk taxi driver, was given six months in jail and a $500 fine in county court here, when found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of his adopted daughter, Ethel Pollard, 12 years old.

Pollard at the county jail threatened violence and made many scenes. He is believed mentally deranged.

The state of affairs was found out when his wife asked a neighbor woman to get her some strychnine to "kill rats." The girl declared her foster mother intended to use the poison to commit suicide, having threatened it previously.

Mrs. Pollard was said to be dependent over the treatment of the child by her husband.

NORFOLK PLANS A BULL FIGHT

Attorney General of Nebraska to Be Ignored by Roundup Committee

NORFOLK, NEB.—(Special)—The city is cast on the bull fight question in Norfolk. The attorney general of Nebraska has written an official letter to the Chamber of Commerce that it can't be done in Nebraska and Fred Humphrey, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, after consulting with the directors here has written the attorney general that the bull fight will be held as scheduled.

The entire city is excited over the stand taken by the Chamber of Commerce. To defy the order of the attorney general they declare will bring a heap of bad publicity on the city and perhaps even Judge M. S. McDuffee, the president of the Chamber of Commerce might be arrested.

Four ministers, members of the Norfolk Ministerial association, have written letters to the Chamber of Commerce asking that the wishes of Attorney General Sorenson be complied with.

But the Chamber of Commerce declares the bull fight will be held as scheduled—and what is the attorney general going to do about it.

"He is no czar, that he can tell what form of entertainment it can offer to the public," says one Chamber of Commerce official, "we are intelligent enough to know that we can't torture a bull or any other animal—all we are going to do is to have a bull fight in which the bull has nothing to lose and the toradors, the matadors and the picadores have to be nimble and quick."

The bull fight which Norfolk is putting on August 9, 10 and 11 is in connection with the city's annual round-up in which Leonard Stroud, Roy Hunter and a lot of the frontier's days stars are to appear. The bull fight was decided upon as an added attraction and the directors of the Chamber of Commerce contracted for it after making investigation into all of its phases.

"This so-called bull fight," said Judge McDuffee, "is in reality an educational part of the show. While real Mexicans and real Brahma bulls perform, no animal is tortured. It is merely an illustration of what a bull fight looks like in Mexico. We have a lot of letters from ministers who have written us since Attorney General Sorenson ruled against our bull fight, but we have assured these ministers that everything is all right and that they need not worry about animals being treated cruelly."

SMOOTH STRANGER GETS MONEY ON BAD CHECKS

O'Neill—Tony Toy, D. Abdouch and Abe Saunto, three merchants of O'Neill, were visited by a man who represented himself as being a man who was well acquainted with friends and relatives of the O'Neill merchants.

They had confidence in the stranger, and when he made some purchases, giving $100 checks on a North Dakota bank, they did not hesitate to take them. After he was gone they began to wonder if he could be genuine, so they phoned the Dakota bank and were informed that Sam Corey, the name he gave them, had no account at that bank and never had. Now the sheriff is looking for the "confidence" man, driving a coupe with a North Dakota license.

THRASHING HUGE CROP ALLIANCE—US BEING RUSHED

ALLIANCE—(UP)—Harvest activity was at high pitch all of last week and will be for most of this week with many of the larger wheat growers working both day and night in an effort to finish threshing while the grain is at its best. The rolling plains are dotted with scores of threshing crews preparing the grain for market.

Box Butte county alone is shipping nearly 100 carloads of wheat a day. Railroads are rushing grain cars into this section and adding a large number of additional crews in an effort to keep pace with the swift moving harvest. Elevators at Alliance, Hemingford and Berea, the three important grain terminals in the county, have enlarged their forces and are working 24 hours a day.

Although it was believed two months ago that the crop in northwestern Nebraska would be light this year, the yield in most sections are surprisingly large. The average yield is between 20 and 25 bushels to the acre. And some farmers report yields ranging as high as 50 bushels.

NEBRASKA TAX LEVY IS FIXED

The Rate of 2.4 Mills Expected to Raise Fund of $7,645,798.22

LINCOLN, NEB.—(UP)—Property in Nebraska will be taxed at the rate of 2.40 mills this year, the state board of taxation decided Friday in setting the tax levy for 1929.

This levy will raise $7,645,798.22 on the basis of property being assessed at $3,185,749,262. The 2.40 mills levy consists of 2.18 mills to raise $6,944,933.39 for the state general fund and 22 mills to raise $700,864.83 for the construction of the capitol building.

Although the levy is larger than last year's rate of 2.06 mills, the levy is not as large as it was expected to be, the reduction being due to the increased returns from the intangible property tax and from other sources provided by the last legislature.

The new intangible property tax law is expected to pay $255,766.50 of the taxes this year as compared with $116,429.40 collected last year.

Additional returns are to be collected this year also from taxing the franchise of public utilities. Previously only the American Railway Express company and the Western Union Telegraph company had paid a franchise tax, but Friday it was announced that franchises of utilities had been assessed at approximately $4,500,000.
