

They Seem to Be Contented

Lady Drummond Hay and Commander Hugo Eckener, seen in the dining salon of the Graf Zeppelin during the flight from Lakehurst to Friedrichshaven on the first leg of their record-breaking flight around the world. Both appear contented and happy and why not? (International Newsreel)

Wants More Planes

Thomas L. Hill (above), war flier, is leading a movement to have Congress appropriate $40,000,000 to provide aeroplanes free to clubs who give civilian flying instruction throughout the country. According to Hill's plan such action would make available 250,000 trained fliers for duty in case of war. (International Newsreel)

America's Only Speed Hope

Lieutenant Alford J. Williams, America's outstanding racing ace, appears to be the only hope that this country has as a promising entrant in the Schneider Cup races to be held in England on September 6. He is shown here trying out his Mercury racer on the Severn river at Annapolis. At top Williams, left, is seen being congratulated by Admiral Moffett. (International Newsreel)

Regains His Gold

Salvatore Ateca has won a complete victory over Mexico in establishing his right of ownership to $770,000 in securities seized recently in New York. Who wouldn't look happy at such good news? (International Newsreel)

Gets Soviet Contract

Saul G. Bron, chairman of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, announces the consummation of a contract between the Soviet Rubber Trust and the Seiberling Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio, in accordance with which the American firm will prepare designs and all plans and specifications for the construction of a new factory in the Soviet Union. How Two Met Death in Speedboat Crash

Bow of the lake steamer, "Thousand Islander," shows the gaping hole torn when it collided with the speedboat, "Giggle," in the St. Lawrence river. Above is Charles Lipe, Syracuse millionaire, who was owner of the "Giggle" and who met death with his wife (below) either by drowning or injuries received in the crash. Their bodies have not been recovered. (International Newsreel)

Twirling Flyer

One thing Dale "Red" Jackson did not learn, when he and Forest O'Erine set a world's refueling endurance record, was how to pitch. Just to show his versatility "Red" twirled a few innings before the scheduled big leaguers. St. Louis Robins, of which his plane is namesake, came on the field. (International Newsreel)

Lady Astor Has a Trying Day of It

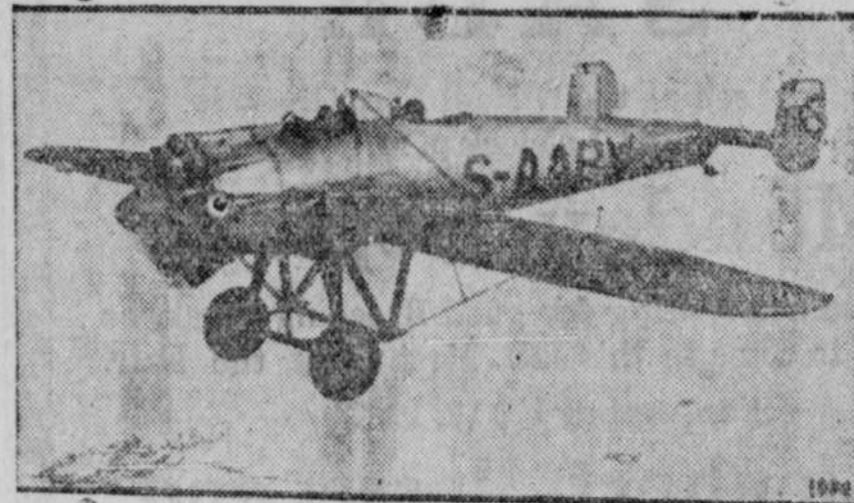

Lady Nancy Astor was called "a dirty liar" in Parliament during a turbulent session when she was accused of whispering that Jack Jones, Laborite, was drunk. Jack later retracted those words but declared he was a better man drunk than she was sober. The speaker rebuked the "Honorable Lady" for interrupting a serious debate. All in all it was a tough day for her.
