

The Judge —

Relief At Last

By M.B.

SEEKS POSSESSION OF HER DAUGHTER

Mrs. Sadie Earl, of Denver, accompanied by her son, Edward Hohnstein, also of Denver, and her sister, Mrs. William Tonkinson, of Fort Morgan, Colo., arrived in O'Neill recently for the trial of the habeas corpus case instituted by Mrs. Earl for the possession of her daughter, Margaret Hohnstein, 15, a minor who has been in the care and possession of her aunt, Mrs. Ada Doolittle, of Ewing, since the early spring of 1921.

Mrs. Earl based her contention upon the relationship as mother to the little girl, while Mrs. Doolittle claimed the right by reason of having made her home with the Doolittle family since she was a small child. There was also an attempted proceeding had in this state whereby the son of Mrs. Doolittle contended that he had legally and properly come into the girl's possession. The judge decreed that the girl should stay in her present home until he could find out more about matters not established to his satisfaction in the trial.

FINED FOR OBSTRUCTING PASSAGE OF FLOOD WATER

Adam Dohman and Paul Dohman, residing west of Atkinson, were found guilty of obstructing the waterway along a highway near their farm, by County Judge Malone, last week, and were fined $10.00 each and costs. F. O. Hammerburg, township road overseer, filed the complaint some time ago.

Township road makers claim that water backed up along the road where material was placed in the ditch by the Dohmans, making it impossible to maintain a good road in that section.

The Dohman brothers did not deny diverting the water, but as their defense they claimed that the township dug a ditch which diverted the water from its natural course to the river. By such flow of the water they claimed that their farm land and buildings were damaged by flood waters.

They declared that they blocked the ditch in an effort to protect their property from the water. It was agreed they would now leave the ditch unobstructed but if flood waters injured their crops and buildings they would appraise the damage and sue the township for the amount. They will not appeal the case.

E. A. Wells, of Dubuque, Iowa, has been appointed superintendent of operation for the west end of the O'Neill division of the Interstate Power Company. Carl Oppen, who has just been transferred to Creighton, will have charge of operation in the east end of the district.

Lightning struck the radio aerial at the H. B. Hubbard residence in the eastern part of the city, and did some damage to the interior of the house as well as the radio. As a result of the bolt, Mrs. Dean Streeter, residing just west of the Hubbard home was knocked down and stunned.

Willard Arnold will not take a bath again when a storm is in the offing. Willard was in the act of taking a bath at the laundry while the electrical storm was in progress Tuesday; he says that the lightning struck near the laundry and that the tub seemed to be a ball of fire for a second; he received a shock but was not seriously injured.

About two o'clock this (Thursday) morning the old house south of the H. J. McKenna residence east of the Fair grounds, was discovered to be on fire. The fire department was called but the supply of hose was inadequate to reach the fire; by the time the department reached the scene the fire had almost enveloped the house. There was a few pieces of furniture in the building but it was not being regularly occupied.

A few days ago The Frontier received a news item from Emmet signed "A Friend" but did not bear the sender's name. The Frontier cannot use news items unless we know from whom they are received. We do not doubt the honesty of the party who contributed the item but we have a rule which requires that we consign all articles to the waste basket which are not signed. We will gladly withhold the name of the party who sends us the items but we insist that the name of the author accompany the items.

Klopp Plane Stops Here On 93 County State Tour

FOR the first time in the history of Nebraska aviation, an air tour of Nebraska's 93 counties is being made by a chartered plane of the Klopp Printing company of Omaha, carrying an official representative of the Nebraska Diamond Jubilee Celebration to be held in Omaha, November 1 to 8, in connection with the Ak-Sar-Ben Stock show. The plane stopped here.

The late Walter C. Klopp, treasurer of the Klopp Printing company an aviation enthusiast, had planned to make the trip, but died suddenly of heart failure on the eve of his departure. His father A. T. Klopp, president of the company, decided to send the plane on its original schedule as a tribute to his son's interest in aviation.

The plane left Omaha, September 5, and expects to cover all of the 93 counties in a little more than a month's time. W. H. Metcalfe, vice president of the Klopp Printing company, will call upon the county officials of each county visited. These officials will also be invited to take a ride in the Klopp plane, piloted by Robert Shields, a licensed government commercial transport pilot. The plane is owned by the Rapid Aviation, Inc., in which Walter C. Klopp was a stock holder.

As the plane circled over this city before landing, the whirr of the motor attracted considerable attention.

"We are in favor of a business airplane trip, because we believe firmly that air travel will be the future method of transporting salesmen economically," said Mr. Klopp. "When that time arrives we expect to be ready for it."

"Right now air travel is a little too expensive to use regularly in our territory, but I believe the time will soon arrive when it will be not only a great time saver, but also cheaper than other modes of travel."

Albert R. Wood served as "ambassador of goodwill" inviting residents of this county to take part in the Nebraska Diamond Jubilee and Ak-Sar-Ben Stock show, Omaha's $100,000 celebration, arranged in observance of Nebraska's seventy-fifth anniversary.

He invited this county to send entries to the various Jubilee events, including the Nebraska Young Citizens' contest, the state band contest, the Nebraska story contest and the state old fiddlers' contest.

"And we want every stock raiser and farmer to know that Ak-Sar-Ben and the Jubilee desire every county to have entries and exhibits in the Livestock and Agricultural shows," said Mr. Wood.

A $10,000 historical pageant, "The Making of Nebraska", parades and historical exhibits, worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, will be among the free Jubilee attractions.
