NICELY REWARDED FOR RETURN OF TRUNK

FREMONT.—Bob Millard, Fremont private detective, likes the assignment that turn out as did one he has just completed.

Last week, Mrs. Hamilton F. Corbett, wife of the president of the First National bank of Portland, Ore., was driving through North Bend, Neb., on a transcontinental tour. A trunk containing $10,000 worth of furs and jewelry was lost from the rear of the car. She discovered the loss at Fremont.

She reported it to Police Chief Gallagher who suggested the case be turned over to Millard.

Meanwhile, Mrs. W. H. Strate, who lives on a farm west of Fremont, had found the trunk. Learning Millard was hunting it, she delivered it to him.

Informed of the recovery, Mrs. Corbett, in Chicago, instructed Millard to bring the trunk to her. Millard delivered the trunk, had all his expenses paid on the trip, with the finest accommodations, and brought home a check for a sum which went into three figures as compensation for the job. He also brought a check for Mrs. Strate to whom another reward is likely to be paid by an insurance company.

The first two were given by Michael McNamara to his grandson, Leo, who surrendered them when the bank brought suit. St. Joseph's church, of which Michael McNamara is a member, holds the other two. Daniel McNamara says that Michael was incompetent to transact business at the time he gave the certificates and that the ones held by the church were loans. The lower court held that the church was legally entitled to the proceeds because this point was not proven.

FEDERAL JUDGE IS KEPT BUSY

North Nebraska District, Including Omaha, Has Its Dockets Filled

OMAHA, NEB.—Friends of Federal Judge J. W. Woodruff claim for him the title of "potential busiest man in Nebraska."

The judge, who presides over the destinies of federal court for the northern division of Nebraska has enough cases on his docket to keep his court busy for years if each case should be fought out in court.

Figures prepared by United States District Attorney J. C. Kinsler disclosed there are 853 liquor cases, 46 risk insurance suits, 276 United States civil cases and 314 private civil cases awaiting his honor upon his return from outstate. In addition he must pass on 838 bankruptcy cases which have accumulated during the last several years.

The judge opened a session at Norfolk, Monday, which will keep him away until November 4 when he must return to Chadron to hear the first degree murder trial of Francisco Uzenita, Mexican charged with slaying Omer Robertson on the Fort Robinson military reservation.

He is expected to return about November 10. Liquor cases will be tried first, Kinsler said. After as many of them as possible are disposed of war risk cases will be taken up.

Should every alleged bootlegger elect to fight to the bitter end it would be several years before the liquor docket would be out of the way and in the meantime federal dry agents would be bringing in new prisoners daily.

But, it precedent is followed, 75 per cent of the dry law violators will throw themselves on the mercy of the court.

In addition to taking care of the big Omaha docket, Judge Woodruff is obliged to hold court at North Platte, Norfolk and Chadron twice annually.

In several times asking that additional federal judges be given Nebraska, Omaha Bar association has stated that this district is one of the most crowded in the entire country.

CLUB WOMEN TO VISIT NORFOLK

Unusual Art Exhibit to Feature Nebraska Federation Convention

NORFOLK, NEB.—When Nebraska women's club members attend the state convention here, October 22 to 24, they will view an unusual art exhibit prepared by school children under the direction of Mrs. Maybelle Thompson Mason, one of the middle west's three instructors in the modern theory of color.

Mrs. Mason studied this theory with the noted Rudolph Schaefer, San Francisco, its "daddy." The other two midwestern instructors in the same work are in Chicago and Kansas City.

Everything in the exhibit will be characterized by originality and will be free hand. Mrs. Mason says she teaches nothing by the old fashioned dictation method, and that accounts for the creative designs and methods of execution seen in the work of her students.

In the grade schools, this work has been taught for the purpose of making all children better citizens, while in the high school it is taught to give training for the profession of art.

SUGAR FACTORY OPENS SEASON

Concern at Grand Island, Neb., to Pay Beet Growers $500,000

GRAND ISLAND, NEB.—(UP)—The task of converting into sugar 9,000 acres of sugar beets was well under way here Monday as the plant of the American Beet Sugar company was running full blast.

Approximately 200 employees started pulp crushing operations Saturday and the plant will continue in operation for 120 days, working 24 hours a day. Bert Denman is superintendent of the plant, and much new machinery was installed this year. Something new is the installation of a pulp dryer which serves to dry the pulp and produce a feed with between 15 to 20 per cent molasses content. Formerly pulp was returned to the growers in wet form for direct feeding.

The economic importance of the plant is seen in the fact that at least $500,000 will be paid to farmers for the beets, and the payroll of employees of the plant during the season will run $1,000 daily. A special beet train is operated daily during harvesting season, between North Platte and Grand Island, collecting the dumpings.

Making of refined sugar began Sunday and between 18,000,000 and 20,000,000 pounds will be produced during the run. During the season, the average daily consumption of coal is 140 tons; 50 tons of lime; between four and five tons of coke; and 2,000,000 gallons of water.

The average yield per acre this year is placed at nine tons and the sugar content is said to exceed that of last year. For this product the farmer will receive $7 per ton on beets averaging 15 per cent sugar content and $6.50 per ton for beets under that average.

The arrest of the pair was brought about when a woman, who had lived with them at Western, Neb., this summer as Ivan's wife, appeared at Western last week making inquiries as to their whereabouts.

STATE FAIR HAD LESS PROFIT THIS YEAR

LINCOLN.—(UP)—A tentative financial report, submitted to the state fair board this afternoon by Secretary George Jackson, shows a total of $22,328.38 was received from all sources for the eight days of the 1923 fair, while disbursements amounted to $21,957.21. This leaves a profit of $1,751.45 which includes an unexpended balance of $1,390.35.

While the attendance of this year exceeded that of the previous fairs, there was a decline of approximately $4,000 in the profits. Bad weather, which decreased the expected attendance in the new grandstand, was a large factor in the reduction.

The day receipts for the grandstand amounted to $34,789.60, while the night performances attracted a total gate of $15,262.50. Ticket sales showed that most of this sum was collected during the first three days of the fair before the cold spell set in.

RUSSIAN AVIATORS ARE INVITED TO OMAHA

OMAHA.—(UP)—Omaha Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting here Thursday night ignored the Bolshevik bogey man and decided that it could consistently invite the Russian airplane "band of the Soviets" to stop at the local airfield enroute from Moscow to New York.

There was spirited opposition to the invitation, the opponents to the plan being led by Colonel Amos Thomas, commander of a national guard regiment. He held that inasmuch as the government of the United States had never recognized the soviet government the chamber could not invite Segmen Shestakov, chief pilot, and his three companions to partake of Nebraska hospitality.

"The Russian government," Colonel Thomas said, "stands opposed to everything we favor. Religion, for instance, has no part in their scheme of things. Their conception of marriage, I understand, is utterly opposed to ours, and they have property rights contrary to ours."

STATE DEFENDS LIVESTOCK TAX

Stanton County Farmers' Contention on Valuation Boost Is Attacked

LINCOLN, NEB.—(UP)—A denial that a general 10 per cent increase in the assessment valuation of livestock is valid because no special five-day previous notice was given was made in the brief filed Thursday in the supreme court by the state.

The state argued against the contention of Stanton county taxpayers that the increase in assessment valuation on livestock for taxation purposes as provided by the board of equalization was invalid.

In 1905, the state contends, the law provided for raising the assessment value on certain property in all counties uniformly without disturbing other property valuations. The state also declared the special notice provision does not apply in this case but only when the board decides to make a direct, independent, non-equalizing change in the assessed valuations of a particular county or counties.
