HAD TO TAKE LAXATIVE EVERY NIGHT, HE SAYS

"I was a farmer for sixty-four years of my life and there were mighty few mornings during that time that I didn't see the sun rise. But when I retired five years ago and decided to take things easy, my health began to fail.

"I blame all my troubles on constipation, brought on by lack of my usual outdoor exercise. I had to take laxatives almost every night. Then my stomach got all out of fix and nearly everything I ate disagreed with me. I was bilious, felt dull and no account, and just had to force myself to keep going.

"Four bottles of Sargon put my stomach in fine shape and the Sargon Soft Mass Pills got rid of my constipation and biliousness entirely. I'm through taking laxatives now, but stay regulated just as good as when I was working twelve hours a day on the farm. I've got a hearty appetite everything agrees with me perfectly and I'm so much stronger and better in every way, I feel like a new man now."—John M. Duncan, 2109 S. 46th St., Omaha.

Chas. E. Stout, Agent.

BASEBALLPHOBIA

By D. L. Crellin

Highballs inside often puts a man out.

The militant housewife often misses a high fly.

There was no double-cross reported in the games.

The pinch hitters performed like a bunch of quitters.

Fowls in the infield would score a hit for Thanksgiving.

Hornsby was inclined to pout after the ump cried "Heezout."

"Strike! till the last armed foe expires" seemed to be the spirit that inspired both teams.

A reporter who counted the hand-claps states that President Hoover favored the Cubs by a slight margin, perhaps one clap.

A lonesome old maid, with precision, saw the error and changed her decision; for her no marital terrors, no hits, no runs, no errors.

Next year, after hibernating, the Cubs may emerge full-grown grizzlies. Then, with tooth and claw, they may be a pennant ripping lot of animals. Their growls seem to indicate it.

We are waiting to hear from the town that burned down while the firemen were listening to the radio reports from the City of Brotherly Love.

A flapper made a hit, on a hair-brained half-wit, and away to the judge made a run; but when they got home, from their honey-moon room, she found her mistake was no fun.

As to who was the "goat" of the series it might be said that there was no such animal. One of the "ifs" of the series is what might have happened in the last game had Malone been taken out and another pitcher put in.

When casting about for the hero of the series it might be well to imagine what would have taken place if any of the players had been disabled early in the contest. Well, Mickey Cochrane is our hero. His absence would have been fatal for the Athletics. This is merely my opinion based on reports of the games.

Now's Time to Remind Him, Girls; "Sweetest Day" Falls On Oct. 19

CHICAGO—Add to what every girl should know that "Sweetest Day" for 1929 will fall on October 19.

And, for that matter, to what every husband ought to know and mark on his shaving mug or put in his little red book.

"Sweetest Day" will fall on Saturday, Oct. 19," it was announced by Ferdinand A. Bunte of Bunte Brothers, candy manufacturers. "The day, which is a strictly American festival of joy bringing, is different from every other gift-giving holiday because it's all in the spirit of surprise.

"Children and adults both will observe the day this year, according to present indications, as nationally as they do St. Valentine's Day or Hallowe'en. The idea is to give an unexpected gift, such as wholesome and nutritious candy, or some other present, to someone you love, someone who has done you a kindness, or one of those ill or unfortunate somebodies whose joys are few.

Thousands of letters from school children have been received by candy manufacturers, Mr. Bunte said, asking when the official "Sweetest Day" was to be held.

Building for the Future

If you were building a house to live in only a year or two you probably wouldn't build as good a house as if you expected to live in it 20 or 30 years. It would not be as comfortable and yet it would cost you more for the time you lived in it.

It's much the same way with a telephone company. Telephone companies build systems that will last many years and make repairs, additions and improvements which will be serviceable far in the future because only by doing this can they provide the most satisfactory and adequate service.
