NOTICE.

I understand that some book salesmen are canvassing the county, giving the impression that I am sending them out and that I am asking school boards and teachers to buy their books. Please understand that I will send out no one, at any time, to any teacher or school board without first notifying teachers or school boards personally. If any teacher or school board buys any books or other articles from agents, they do so upon their own responsibility. Some of the articles and books sold by these people are very commendable and are a very good thing in the school, others are of very little value. If you wish to buy anything of this nature and are in doubt as to its value for your purpose, call me before you make the purchase. Do not allow unscrupulous salesmen to talk you into buying what you do not want or need.

Signed: Luella A. Parker,
County Superintendent

ANNUAL MEETING

The regular annual meeting of the Holt County Agricultural Society will meet at the office of the president, F. J. Dishner, in O'Neill, Tuesday, November 21st, 1929, at two o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of electing officers and transacting such other business as may come before the meeting.

F. J. Dishner, President.

SAFETY AND COURTESY

Safety and courtesy are very much one and the same thing. cannot move as fast as he might under other circumstances.

Safety for oneself as well as for others is largely the outcome of the expression of a courteous thought.

In the matter of horn blowing and light dimming plain ordinary good breeding exercised with intelligence and swiftness is a guarantee for safety. The horn is the voice of the automobile, and the projected voice of the driver. Loud, arrogant demands from the horn of the car in back of you, when your inability to move quickly is apparent, is not only revealing of the personality of the driver, but is equally discourteous and unsafe.

The nervous driver knows that cars are back of him, and will move as quickly as he can, but the noise of a horn upsets and annoys him sometimes to the point where he

NOTICE

Owing to the Supreme Court not having yet rendered its decision in the case brought against the State Board of Equalization in the matter of the raise of ten percent on all cattle in the state, it is impossible to make up the tax books as we do not know what the valuation will be; as soon as the decision is rendered and we have time to make up the books they will be turned over to the Treasurer.
