Mrs. Edward L. O'Donnell, who has been seriously ill in a hospital at Norfolk, is very much improved. Mr. O'Donnell has been with her since she was taken to the hospital; he is expected home tonight. Friends of Mrs. O'Donnell rejoice with the family in her recovery.

T. T. Waid received a letter from Arthur Cowperthwaite the first of the week which told of their safe arrival in Tampa, Florida. Art says in the letter that he had the time of his young life catching crappies, bass and catfish, on the way to their destination, but was unable to land an alligator.

The Sunday Lincoln Journal contained a picture of Miss Opal Turner and the announcement of her marriage on Wednesday, December 4th to Vernon G. Clements, of Elmwood, Nebraska. Mrs. Clements was Kindergarten and public school music instructor in the public school here for three years, and made many friends.

A BIRTHDAY

On Tuesday, December 10th, about thirty-five relatives, neighbors and friends with well filled baskets drove in at the Agee postoffice to help Mrs. Anna Lansworth celebrate her 70th birthday. For several days there had been mysterious messages going over the telephone line but the party was so well planned that she was taken completely by surprise and was busy as usual with her house work when the crowd arrived. They promptly made it known that they were there to help her celebrate her birthday, and took possession, proceeding to prepare dinner, of which there was plenty and to spare. The Lansworths have lived in this community since 1882 and are well known and highly esteemed by everybody who knows them.

The afternoon was spent in visiting and talking over the changes and happenings from 1882 to the present time, with a few forecasts for the future. Mrs. Lansworth received many nice presents and mementos, as well as the best wishes of all those present, and the sincere wish that she may have many more pleasant birthdays.

HELEN BERNICE NISSEN

Miss Helen Nissen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Nissen, residing in the east side of the county, passed away in the Lutheran hospital in Norfolk last Monday. Several weeks ago Miss Helen was taken to the hospital suffering from appendicitis; an operation was performed and she seemed to be almost recovered; she came home the latter part of last week but the following day she was again taken to the hospital where another operation was performed for bowel trouble; she passed away following the operation.

The deceased was born at Osmond, Nebraska, December 17, 1910, and was eighteen years, eleven months and twenty-two days old at the time of her death. She was a graduate of the Page high school having completed the course of study in 1928; she attended the Wayne state normal and was teaching her first term of school in the vicinity of Plainview when she became ill. She came with her parents to the country home one and one half miles north of Page in 1920. Besides her parents, she leaves to mourn her early death, four sisters and one brother, her grand-parents, one great-grand mother and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church at Page, Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. McKeown, and were said to have been the largest that has been held at the church for many years.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME OF ELIOT CARPENTER, INEZ

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Carpenter, six miles southwest of Inez postoffice, in the southwestern part of Holt county, was entirely destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning of last week.

The family had just started breakfast and were sitting around the heating stove when fire broke through the ceiling and enveloped the house in flames in a very few minutes. Nothing of any consequence could be saved as the house was practically all ablaze before the family knew that anything was wrong.

A defective chimney is thought to have been the cause of the fire.

Mr. Carpenter made an attempt to save some of their household effects and in so doing was badly singed about the head; the telephone could not be reached because of the flames; they were unable to call their neighbors for help.

The fire had been kindled in the heating stove about six o'clock that morning; the fire was discovered about 8:30.

There was no insurance. The building was owned by Wm. Carpenter, of Inez. The loss is estimated to be $2,500. The residence will be reconstructed at once.

OLD FORT RANDALL LANDMARK BURNED

(Norfolk News)

Fort Randall, S. D., Dec. 7: The commanding officers home at old Fort Randall, has been destroyed by fire. The manner in which it caught fire is unknown. The historical landmark was erected at the time the fort was built, and was a building fifty feet square and three stories high, and contained twenty or twenty-five rooms. It was the last remaining building of the large group that at one time comprised Fort Randall, and has stood for seventy-five years.

Ed Donlin had occupied the home since last Spring, but was in Fairfax at the time of the fire. All of his clothing and household furniture was burned, together with the belongings of Joe Onstel, who was picking corn for Mr. Donlin.

The officers' home was built from sawed logs, which were shipped from St. Louis, and siding was placed over them. Niobrara was the last town on this side of the Missouri river and Fort Randall, where the government troops were stationed, was frequently called upon to settle Indian disputes. All the country beyond was Indian reservations, to the British possessions. It was a notable building in that it housed some of the early generals, Harney, Sherman, and Schaff-er.
