CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The following mention of the Golden Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McAllister at their home in Denison, Iowa, appeared in a recent issue of a Denison newspaper. Mr. and Mrs. McAllister have many friends in Holt county who will be pleased to learn that they are well and happy and are enjoying life.

A golden wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McAllister, and his 73rd birthday were joyously celebrated at their home in north Denison on Sunday last. With a big family, scattered near and far, it was impossible for all the sons and daughters to be present, but eight of them were there, and the gathering gave the greatest pleasure to the honored ones of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McAllister were married fifty years ago at Grand Island Nebraska, and not many months afterwards made their way to the vicinity of O'Neill, Holt county, Nebraska. There they became home-steaders and lived for 30 years. They were prosperous in their home and he became a leading farmer and fine stock breeder. Along with the business affairs they were blessed by the birth of thirteen children, six boys and seven girls. Today all these children are living and they have 54 children themselves, and there are three great-grandchildren. Now comes a most remarkable fact, there has not been a death in the family in all these 50 years among the children and grand-children.

The following of their children were present at the double anniversary on Sunday: Jessie, Howard and Victor of this city; Mrs. Frank Dohse of Omaha; Mrs. Ella North of Greybull, Wyoming; Mrs. Tom Fleener and Mrs. John Heide of Denison, and Mrs. Belle Steinkuehler, of Vail. Those not present were, Raymond of Winnipeg, Canada; Edward, of Hibbing, Minnesota; David who lives in Idaho; Mrs. Jennie Eppenbough of Agee, Nebraska, and Mrs. Amanda Calkins of Greybull, Wyoming. Mr. McAllister was born in Philadelphia, Penn., November 25, 1856, and his wife in Wyandotte county, Ohio, August 11, 1857. They have been residents of Denison for fourteen years.

Of course the occasion did not go by without a bounteous spread for the dinner. Mrs. Ella North and her husband live in a part of the country noted for turkeys and wild game. As they brought a 25 pound turkey, and many pounds of elk meat, there was no lack for most delicious meats. These were added to by cakes, pies and fine vegetables. It was a not to be forgotten time when grown children and their wives and husbands and a host of the grandchildren were all together eating, talking, laughing. As an event of the occasion, Mr. and Mrs. McAllister were escorted to the photograph gallery and the bride of 50 years adorned for such a glorious event. The worthy pair is truly to be congratulated on the occasion of the birthday and the wedding anniversary. To be the parents of thirteen children and have 54 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren all of whom are alive at this time, never will come to any two other persons in the world. They are members of the Methodist church of this city and highly respected citizens of this community.

RHEUMATIC PAINS AND INDIGESTION NOW GONE

"After 20 years suffering the Sargon treatment took right hold of my case, fixed me up in fine shape and I'm feeling just great."

FRED F. FOUNTAIN.

Constipation and indigestion gradually grew worse with me, and finally, I went through a course of treatments that gave me some temporary relief, but nothing lasting. Then rheumatism came on and my left knee hurt so bad I could hardly walk. A few weeks ago I started Sargon with Sargon Pills, and I'll tell anybody this is a wonderful treatment! My appetite is fine now, my indigestion is over and every rheumatic pain in my body is gone! Sargon Pills regulated me perfectly, toned up my liver and rid my whole system of poisons."—Fred F. Fountain, 115 S. E. 4th St., Mason City. Chas. E. Stout, Agent.

"DYNAMITE," DeMILLE'S FIRST TALKING FILM, THRILLING

Spectacular and thrilling to the nth degree, Cecil B. De Mille's first talking production, "Dynamite," allows this super-director to take one of the biggest bows of his career, and provides screen patrons with a production that should keep all of them talking for many weeks after seeing it.

Scintillating society panoramas are blended into an enthralling dramatic situation in which a coal miner and his rival for the hand of a society girl face death together a thousand feet below the earth.

Before going far with a review one must praise wholeheartedly the exceptional work of Conrad Nagel as a young society gadabout, Kay Johnson, Broadway stage star, as a girl of high social position and Charles Bickford as Hagon Derk, the miner. It is difficult to say which of these players gives the best characterization, but sufficient to remark that each one helps make "Dynamite" rank several miles ahead of the average screen release. The fine cast of the picture also includes Julia Faye, who has been seen in many other De Mille photoplays, Robert Edeson, Scott Kolk, Leslie Fenton and Joel McCrea.

"Dynamite" is far more than a "type" picture. It belongs in no classification. It is the genius of De Mille at his best, aided by what is perhaps the most original plot ever conceived by Jeanie MacPherson, author of many of De Mille's greatest stories.

Any one of a dozen thrilling episodes in "Dynamite" will keep the millions of De Mille fans talking. The "aero-hoop" race, in which girls strapped to great hoops participate, the archery competition, the game of "Doug" and all the other lavish and unusual touches which the director has administered make the new picture one long to be remembered. The dialog by Miss MacPherson, Gladys Unger and John Howard Lawson is beautifully tailored and from start to thrilling climax the film is a natural "smash."
