THE FRONTIER CROSSES THE FIFTIETH MERIDIAN

With this issue The Frontier crosses the half century mark and starts on a new year. Fifty years ago W. D. Mathews started The Frontier in O'Neill when the town and surrounding country was new and sparsely settled. Running a newspaper in a new country is an up-hill business, but its founder "stuck" through those hard years and laid the foundation of a sturdy newspaper that has performed a specific mission year after year and now enjoys the largest circulation of any paper in the county. Dennis H. Cronin and Clyde King purchased The Frontier from Mr. Mathews in 1892 and six years later Mr. Cronin purchased Mr. King's interest and has been the sole owner for the past thirty-two years.

The Frontier has always enjoyed a good business; its aim has always been to give the news to its readers while it was news. The Frontier endeavors at all times to publish only the facts; it has always made it a point to discard anything that could not be verified.

The management of The Frontier wishes to thank the people for the encouragement they have given it in the past and trust that we may be able to continue to merit your future patronage and good will.

The following letter from W. D. Mathews will be of interest to the old timers who were acquainted with him:

Memphis, Tenn., May 22, 1930
Editor The Frontier:

According to your date line you this week close the fiftieth year of the founding of The Frontier, and naturally you will all feel pretty cheery. However, it is not quite full fifty years since I got out number one of volume one, according to calendar figuring. I think I landed in O'Neill about the middle of July, and the first issue saluted the world soon thereafter. By the way, the thought occurred to me that it would be a fine thing for me to visit the old town, and as a compliment give a little banquet to those who still live within the confines of the town, but I stop short when I realize that it would be a mighty slim banquet. With pencil in hand, I got ready to make out the list of prospective guests, wondering if the expense would be too great for my pocket-book. I was astounded. Where are the fellows of then? Who were they? Alas, after putting down the names of Charlie Millard and Howell Utley I had to stop short. Only two to join me in the feast. Of course I might catch Sanford Parker up from Omaha and use him, with pleasure. And there is Denny Cronin, the little brother of a by'e who delivered milk at our house—yes, now U. S. Marshal and owner of my old Frontier. Is the list complete? Can recall no more, unless I went outside of the town. Guess I will forego the trip. It would be too sad—fruitful of more tears than smiles.

But here are my sincere felicitations to you of the paper and the town, county and state.
With a smile for all.
Truly,
W. D. MATHEWS

INTERSTATE POWER CO. HOLDING SALES MEETING

A sales meeting of the O'Neill District of the Interstate Power Co., is being held in rooms at the Power Company o.c.e.

BINKERD FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion was held at the home of J. B. Binkerd, of Lynch, on Sunday, May 25, 1930. The day was pleasantly spent in reviewing past events in the lives of those present. Thirty guests partook of the reunion dinner. Those present were: Nels Olson; Mrs. John Metier and daughter Nellie; Mrs. Virginia Lorous and family; Miss Ada Binkerd; Helga Olson; Mr. Metcalf, all of Sioux City; Mrs. F. B. Pine of Salt Lake, Utah; G. A. Binkerd of Neligh; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brady and family and Mr. and Mrs. James Wiley and family, both of Dorsey, Neb.; Mrs. Harriet Binkerd and Mr. and Mrs. Hurley Binkerd and family, both of Lynch. Old time friends also in attendance were Mrs. "Pop" Duffey, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hurless and Mrs. George Shuber. All departed in the late afternoon, hoping to meet again the following year.

RUNOLFSON—PELSTER

Gene Runolfson and Miss Hilda Pelster, both of Ainsworth, were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage by the pastor, Rev. Othel A. Fortune, at six o'clock, Monday evening.

TENTH ANNUAL POULTRY FIELD DAY JUNE 12, 1930

Poultry Field Day in Nebraska is becoming quite a well known institution. This year will make the tenth time Nebraska poultry raisers have spent a day in June with one another at the Agricultural College Campus. Attendance at these annual poultry days has been increasing steadily until 500 visitors can be counted when weather is good, and good weather isn't unusual in Nebraska. The program is as follows:

- 10:00 Feed And It's Effect on Market Quality of Poultry, H. E. Drews.
 - 10:30 How Shall We Feed the Breeding Flock, LaRue Brown.
 - 10:45 Recent Experiments in Chick Feeding, F. E. Mussehl.
 - 11:15 Question Box Discussion on Feeding and Management, by Messrs. Alder, Claybaugh, Hill and Redditt.
 - 11:45 Welcome To the Campus, Dean W. W. Burr.
 - Picnic Lunch on the Campus; bring your lunch or visit the College Cafeteria.
 - 1:00 Laugh A Lot, with L. C. Oberlies.
 - 1:30 Tour of University Poultry Farm.
 - 2:30 Trip To A Good, Well Kept Poultry Farm.
- The Nebraska Poultry Improvement Association will hold a short business session in the Student Activities building, 4 p. m.

CLASS HISTORY OF 1930 OF THE O'NEILL PUBLIC SCHOOL

Our high school days are soon passed and gone and as we look back over the years, we recall the many joys we have experienced. During our journey through school there have been many additions to our class and many have fallen by the way. Only seven members are now left who started together in the Primary, namely, Roberta Brittell, Grace Hancock, Pearl Clevisch, Anita Liddy, Tommy Tompson, Edgerton Haskins, and Lloyd Davidson. Now there are 42 of us.

Year after year, one by one, they enrolled in our school class. In the Seventh grade, Verna Clyde, Bruce Rummel and Austin Shreiner joined our ranks and in the Eighth grade our number increased by the addition of five more; they were Violet Roseler, Nellie Toy, Stella Van Every, Dorothy Youngkin and Albert Rummel.

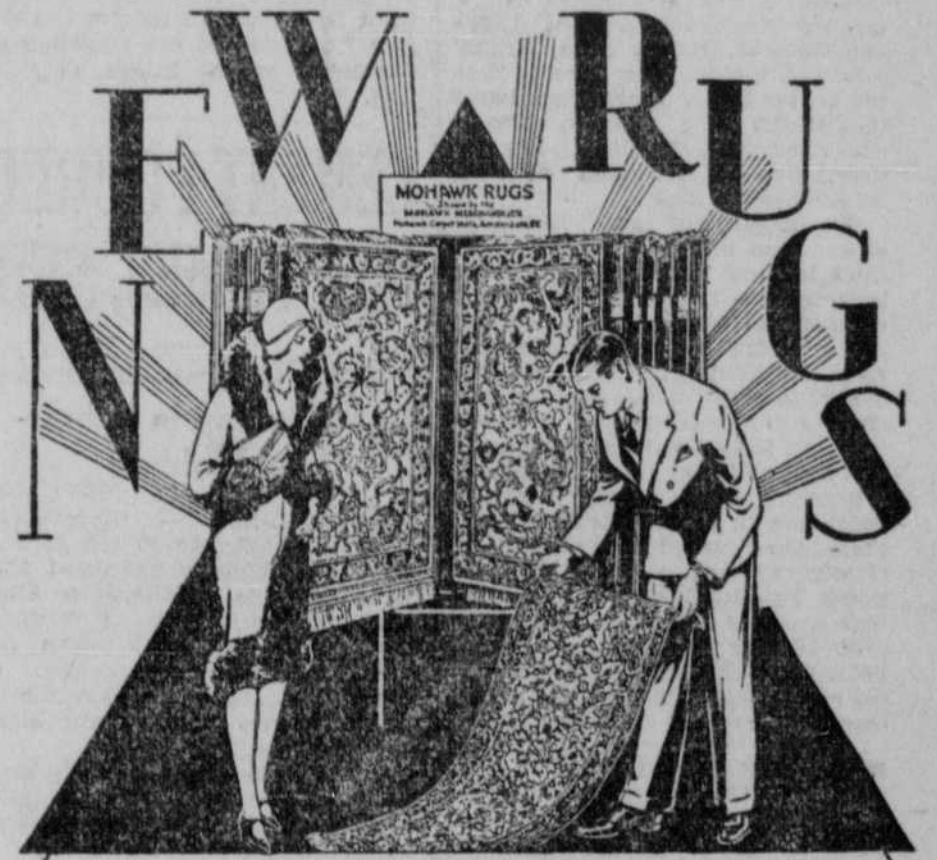

When we started High School we added to our list Twila Bradley, Eula Cole, Bessie Fuller, Mildred Grandorff, Agnes Knapp, Ruth Morrow, Cleta Murray, Gurna Oppen, Grace Welch, Clyde Burge, Robert Fox, Levi Fuller, Edwin Getscher, Charles Green, Dick Robertson and Harold Sexsmith.

In the Tenth grade, a few more were added, these being Margaret Cuddy, Marie Grutsch, Elwin Grutsch and in the second semester, Leta Johnson.

We completed our class of forty-two in the Eleventh grade by adding seven more, Vivian Eidenmiller, Helen Givens, Laurel Hough, ExLaura McDonough, Julian Rummel, Harold Shoemaker and Howard Medlen.

In the Ninth grade we had Miss Munson for our class sponsor. Our class officers were Atlee Graves, President; Bruce Rummel, V.-Pres.; Faye Rouse was elected Secretary and Treasurer, but she soon left here so we elected Lois Brentson.

In the Tenth grade we had Miss Beighly for sponsor. The class officers that year were, Bruce Rummel, President; Ralph Tomlinson, V.-Pres-

O'NEILL WOMAN'S CLUB CLOSES YEAR WITH DINNER

The O'Neill Woman's Club closed this year's work with a dinner at the McMillan & Markey tea rooms, after which they adjourned to their club rooms, where a short business session was held when the president, Mrs. L. A. Carter, turned over the affairs of the club to the newly elected president, Miss Anna O'Donnell.

The rest of the evening was spent playing Bridge; Mrs. John Frinking of Omaha, was awarded the high score prize and Mrs. J. P. Gilligan, the all-out.

O'NEILL LIONS CLUB CELEBRATE CHARTER NIGHT

The O'Neill Lions Club celebrated their "Charter Night" Tuesday evening at the K. C. hall at a seven o'clock banquet, followed by a dance in the opera house.

The rooms were tastily decorated with purple and gold—the Lions International colors, and with plants and flowers. Covers were laid for one hundred and twenty-five at the banquet. Each Lion and Lioness and all guests wore a Lions hat; balloon and noise makers were in evidence in all parts of the banquet hall; the "tail twister," whose privilege it is to collect fines for real and imaginary offenses, caused considerable merriment; Lion Dr. Allerton, of Tilden, contributed his share of the amusement as assistant "tail twister" and also gave a short address as a visiting Lion.

Mrs. J. M. Davis, the wife of the Lion District Governor, accompanied her husband to O'Neill and was a guest at the banquet.

The vocal solo by Lioness Mrs. George Agnes, accompanied by Mrs. H. J. Reardon, and the violin selection by "Cub" Burdette Miller, were well rendered.

Lion District Governor J. M. Davis, of Hastings, Nebraska, presented the Charter to the club; Lion President L. A. Carter accepted the Charter in a few well chosen remarks.

The address of welcome to the visiting Lions and Lionesses was given by J. F. O'Donnell, acting for Mayor C. E. Stout, who was unable to attend.

Following the banquet the party adjourned to the opera house below where they danced to the Lou Bishop orchestra until midnight.
