BEFORE secret suffering breaks out in open revolt-before the little home is irretrievably shattered by a husband's strong pipe-can't something be done? Certainly. A new pipe will help, or even an old pipe cleaned and filled with Sir Walter Raleigh's favorite smoking minture. It really is milder, with no sacrifice of richness and fragrance. It really is as popular with the smoked-at as it is with the smoker.

Letter Long Undelivered

A letter that had laid crumbling in a mail chute for 42 years was recently recovered in a structure in St. Paul, Minn., which was about to be vacated. The Northern States Envelope company had occupied the premises for a half century, but were compelled to leave on account of the building having been condemned in order to widen the street. As the last of the effects were being taken out the letter was discovered. It had been mailed in February, 1888.

Texas Ranch Sells More Than 10,000 Cattle a Year Exclusively By Mail Orders to Buyers Located Throughout Midwest States

Stamford, Tex. -(NEA)-Selling cattle by mail order has made the old Swenson ranch one of the biggest business corporations in west

Out Our Way

This ranch, founded in 1883 by E. P. and S. A. Swenson, has grown to corporation size, owning 225,000 acres of choice grazing lands and representing an investment of several million dollars. And the Swenson Land and Cattle company has made most of its money by filling mail orders for Hereford cattle.

On the Swenson lands graze 28, 000 head of cattle, of which 25,000 are Herefords and 2,000 shorthorns. Scores of herd bulls of pedigreed royalty are kept, and these vie with the best cattle in the country. Dur-ing the past 10 years five grand champion awards, at the Chicago Livestock show have been won by representative bulls from this ranch. Sell 10,000 Head Annually Filling mail orders for cattle has been the big business of the Swenson organization for years. Annual sales are in excess of 10,000 head and often the demand exceeds twice that number. For the most part, their orders come from mid-west states in the corn belt.

'We sold more than 10,000 head of cattle, exclusively by mail orders to buyers during the past year," says-A. J. Swenson, general manager of the organization. "We could have just as easily sold twice that number had we been able to produce the cattle.

Use Modern Methods

Naturally, in such a big business, cattle raising is done scientifically. Losses from disease have been reduced to a minimum through scientific breeding and care. Modern machinery and equipment keeps the ranch clean from animal pests.

Criminal Should Pay.

From Atlanta Constitution. One of those sob sisters who take flowers and angel cakes to murderers condemned to the death chair or the gallows has sent to the newspapers another lachrymose appeal for the abolition of death penilties. She repeats the stereotyped paranoaic pleas and suggests for the millionth time, at least, that 'rather than take life let the crimnals be put to imprisonment for

Without going over again the reasons why the arguments against executing willful murderers, rapists and the like are not persuasive, it is enough to recall that putting criminals to imprisonment does not sufficiently keep them in prison for life. Almost daily in the country in some state such bloody and unconscionable criminals are being paroled or pardoned from life imprisonment by politically influenced parole boards and overpersuaded governors.

The cases are by no means rare where murderers convicted and sen-tenced to death by honest juries and judges are first commuted to life imprisonment and later are paroled or fully pardoned to menace society again. One has only to keep a watchful eye on the columns of his daily newspaper to become con-vinced shortly that imprisonment for life does not mean for life except in the fewest of cases reported. It would be a great help in deterring men from high crimes if death sentences were more generally car-

If we imagine that industry exists to support people, then the more men that it employs the better. In his view an employer who took on 200 men at $2 a day would be better serving the public than one who took on 50 men at $8 a day.

That sort of program is often urged as in the interests of society -employ more men, they say, even if you have to pay them smaller > pardoned from electric chairs, gibbets and penitentiaries. Objectors to Peace.

From New York Times. With the man who is against war even after war has come, we are all familiar. On grounds of con-science he refuses to bear arms or do any kind of military service. If he is a Quaker, our laws and cus-toms excuse him. If he is merely a conscientious objector, his fate is uncertain. But the curious thing is, that he has his analogue in piping times of peace. That is to say, if some great movement to prevent was is under way, if an interna-tional treaty designed to make peace secure is being discussed, the conscientious objector rushes into opposition with many of the characteristics, and some of the perversity, of men who profess ardent patriot-ism but will take no part in a war which they themselves may have done much to bring on.

At Washington for some days past the Senate committees have been hearing testimony from gentlemen who solemnly assert that their consciences will not allow them to approve the naval treaty. There need be no question of their sincerity Many of them are naval officers, active or retired, and when their techical opinion about the implications and consequences of the treats is asked, they give it. The fact that they disagree with their own president and secretary of state does not in the least deter them. Their honest thought about the treaty has been requested by the Senate and they express it fearlessly. It would be a pity if they were not permitted to do so The country is entitled to know what the admirals of the navy thing about a problem which is mainly naval. Their views may in the end be set aside—they were in fact, set aside by our delegation at the London conference—but they are unquestionably doing their dut as they see it. Yet their queer like ness to conscientious objectors in time of war is undeniable.

With them may be grouped certain senators who always object to treaties of peace, because they say they are driven to it by conscience Here again there is no occasion to challenge their good faith. They unconsciously assume an attitude very like that of the conscientious objector to war who appeals to a higher law. No law can touch the conscientious objector to reace, but nothing can prevent his being studied and classified as a national curiosity.

Q. What is a good definition of a lyric? T. F.

A lyric is a short poem, musical in style and personal in tone, jobs for as many men as possible. and the start has to be with a few high priced men. For not otherwise can the low costs be attained which will increase consumption and make more high priced jobs necessary. Production calls out man power; production is not called out by man power.
