

O'NEILL GENERAL HOSPITAL IS NOW A POSSIBILITY

O'Neill may soon have a general hospital. A meeting was held at the Public Library building last Thursday evening where a committee of five of the representative citizens of the community were named to investigate the possibilities of securing a hospital for this vicinity.

For the past few weeks the Lions Club has been repeatedly requested to take up the matter of securing a general hospital; as a result, Dr. L. A. Carter, as president of the Lions Club, called a meeting of the pastors of the city; the mayor; the presiding officers of the various religious, civic and fraternal orders; the president of the Commercial Club; the American Legion, the doctors and the editors of the newspapers, to meet in the library building. At this meeting Dr. L. A. Carter was unanimously chosen chairman and George A. Miles, secretary. Miss Anna O'Donnell, Mrs. R. L. Arbuthnot and W. C. Templeton were chosen a committee of three to select a committee of five to investigate the possibilities of establishing a hospital here; the committee reported the following selection, which was unanimously adopted: Judge R. E. Dickson, chairman; J. A. Donohoe, S. J. Weekes, J. F. Gallagher and J. B. Mellor. This committee, by motion, was instructed to investigate the feasibility and a working basis of a hospital and report their findings at a meeting of the citizens, to be called by the secretary, George A. Miles, some time during the latter part of July.

There seems to be considerable demand for a general hospital to be operated by the community where all the physicians of the county would have the privilege of bringing their patients.

A hospital could be equipped at a relatively small cost to any individual; one of the plans advanced by some of those interested is that the rooms be equipped by the various lodges, societies or churches; the operating room might be equipped by the physicians of the county.

Several large residences have been mentioned as being suitable for this purpose.

The Lions Club is desirous of assisting in obtaining a hospital for O'Neill and are solidly behind the venture; they will do whatever is required of them in furthering the enterprise.

The Lions Clubs are always willing to join hands with all citizens or groups of citizens in all worthy undertakings. If you are interested in a hospital, tell the committee and lend what encouragement you can to promote this institution.

HEAVY WIND DAMAGES NORTHERN HOLT COUNTY

A heavy wind that assumed cyclonic proportions swept through the northern part of the county about eight o'clock last Tuesday evening. The storm came from the west and did considerable damage in the vicinity of Valentine, Ainsworth, Newport, Stuart, and in the community twenty miles north of O'Neill. The barn on the Joe Stein farm was damaged; the barn on the McClellan farm was razed; the hi-line poles were blown down north of the Midway garage; trees were uprooted and piled in the road. The life of another of Holt county's pioneers has terminated with the death of Mrs. Mary Gaffney who passed away at her home in Atkinson, Nebraska, June 14th, 1930, after a lingering illness.

The pall-bearers were her six grandsons, Bartley Malloy, Michael Malloy, James Rotherham, John Rotherham, Jr., Michael Langan and Matthew Hynes.

MAIL DELIVERED WHILE P. O. WAITS ON HIGHWAY

The following article appeared in a Witten, South Dakota, newspaper and tells of the moving of some of the buildings. Bob Williams and Buzz Bowden are assisting C. P. Uhl in moving the buildings:

"A unique occurrence, which Uncle Sam probably does not often duplicate in handling mail, took place in Witten Monday when an exchange of mail was made by the star route carrier between Winner and White River while the postoffice was in transit on its trip to the new Witten townsite, the turn in the highway just west of old Witten, where C. P. Uhl, who moved the building, held up operations for 30 minutes while the mail was delivered and sorted and the carrier's pouch made up for distribution to points west.

The moving of the postoffice to the new town has required considerable time, but Mr. Worsley, our obliging postmaster, has been very accommodating in delivering mail to patrons at the new town, and no one has suffered any great inconvenience through the delay."

JOE STEIN INJURED DURING WIND STORM

Joe Stein, residing about nineteen miles north of O'Neill, was quite seriously injured Tuesday evening when he was struck by some flying object during the windstorm that passed through the northern part of the county.

When the storm came up Joe went to the barn to look after his stock. When he did not return his sisters went in search of him; they found him in a dazed condition; they were unable to get him to the house; the phone lines were all down and they were unable to get assistance until they went to the home of a neighbor a mile away. A trip was made to O'Neill for Dr. Finley.
