end here with home folks. Mrs. Muriel and Dorothy Chicken went to Venus, Nebraska, Sunday where they will spend a couple of weeks camping near the Middle Branch.

Mrs. Neal Chase and children who have been here the past ten days visiting relatives, returned to their home in Petersburg, Nebraska, on Monday.

Jay Butler was up from Neligh, Friday, on business; he was accompanied home by his two nieces, Gayle Butler and Vera Walesby, who spent the week-end there.

The members of the Ladies Aid of the M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. Art Renner on Thursday afternoon; a large crowd was present and a delicious lunch was served.

The ladies department of the L. D. S. church held an ice cream social last Saturday evening, the proceeds to be used to pay for the new roof recently put on their church.

Miss Bessie Soderstein, B. A. M. A., of Clearwater, who is a teacher of Sociology at Graceland College, gave a very interesting lecture at the L. D. S. church Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Watson and children were visiting in Neligh, Sunday. Mrs. Chas. Gilligan and children, of Sioux City, Iowa, are here visiting her mother, Mrs. Ellen Gallagher and other relatives.

Mrs. John J. Hancock and son Billie, of Casper, Wyoming, came Saturday for a visit at the home of Mrs. Mary Hancock; Mrs. Hancock and two sons have been visiting relatives at Newman Grove, the past five weeks.

Chester Fowler, who has spent the past five weeks visiting at Grand Island, Norfolk, Carroll and Wayne, Nebraska, returned home Monday to stay until he returns to Sioux City, where he will again teach in the schools of that city.

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Johnson and children, of Lincoln, came Sunday for a short visit with her mother, Mrs. Florence Smith; they left on Monday for Alliance, Nebraska, at which place they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Paul Weeden.

Mrs. Jennie Wilcox and daughter, Miss Dorothy, went to Lynch, Saturday to the home of her son, George and family; on Monday, in company with Mr. and Mrs. George Wilcox, they went to Mankato, Minnesota, for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Adams and family.

Miss Frances Gallagher who has been here spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Ellen Gallagher, returned to California, Monday, to resume her work as a trained nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Corliss Jackson and children, of Ainsworth, Nebraska, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Roe.

Peter, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Jens Hansen, living east of town, met with a serious accident Sunday afternoon while horseback riding. Two boys who were on their way to Page, found the unconscious boy by the roadside and took him at once to Page where his injuries were examined by Dr. French, who found his condition so serious that he was taken to the Lutheran Hospital at Norfolk; at 10 o'clock Monday night he was still unconscious.

PEARL S. CLEVISH

Pearl S. Clevish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Clevish of this city passed away last Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the general hospital in Grand Island, where she had been since the previous Tuesday, having submitted to an operation for appendicitis on that date.

Miss Pearl, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Clevish, left on the morning of July 15th on an auto trip that was to take them to Grand Island, Hastings and points in the eastern part of the state. Miss Pearl has not been in the best of health for some time and it was thought that the trip might be of lasting benefit to her. While driving between Fullerton and Central City, Miss Pearl became ill; upon reaching Grand Island a physician was consulted and it was found that Miss Pearl was suffering from appendicitis and that an operation was necessary; she seemed to be recovering nicely from the effects of the operation until Saturday morning when her condition became grave and she passed away Sunday afternoon as stated above.

Pearl S. Clevish was born near O'Neill Nebraska, November 12, 1912; she was 17 years, 7 months and 28 days old at the time of her death. She was graduated from the O'Neill public schools with the class of 1930. She was a favorite among her schoolmates and enjoyed a host of friends throughout the entire community; her death came as a surprise and a shock to the people of O'Neill.

The remains were brought to O'Neill by Biglin Brothers and taken to the home in the southeastern part of the city. Funeral services were held from the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. A. Hutchins, of Meadow Grove, Nebraska; burial was in Prospect Hill cemetery. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

The pall-bearers were chosen from the graduating class of 1930, of which the deceased was a member; they were Gerald Calvert, Lloyd Davidson, Albert Rummell, Robert Fox, Howard Medlen, Elwin Thompson.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our deep appreciation for the many acts of kindness shown and for the many beautiful floral offerings sent to our dear daughter and sister, Pearl, during her sickness and following her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Clevish
Mr. and Mrs. Lee Osborn

Clayton Harding was shaking hands with friends and relatives in O'Neill, Saturday. He came up from Omaha for a visit over the week-end at the home of his sister, Mrs. John J. Rohde; he returned home Monday.

MEYERS—CRAMER

Dean Meyers, of Omaha, and Miss Charlotte Cramer, of Valentine, Nebraska, were married on July 17th by County Judge Malone in his offices in the court house.

MEEK AND VICINITY.

Cecil Griffith and Roy Blunt helped Roy Spindler stack rye last week.

Charley Hoyer is threshing in this locality, starting at Will Devall's Tuesday afternoon.

Ralph Ernst and sister Miss Myrtle, were Sunday dinner guests at the John Robertson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walters and daughters spent Sunday at the Geo. Tavener home, near Phoenix.

Small grain is about all cut in this vicinity at this writing; some of it is pretty good and some hardly worth cutting.

Guests at the Eric Borg home on Sunday were Mrs. Ohmart and daughters, Bob Strong, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hubby.

A son, Harlan Oscar, was born to Mr. and Oscar Johnson, at the Community hospital at Spencer, Wednesday, July 16th; mother and babe are doing nicely.

We are still hoping that rain comes soon as crops are beginning to show the effect of the dry weather and we are hoping that it comes in time to save the corn.

They found Mrs. Johnson feeling fine. John Kaczor and sons, of Boyd county, and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Benson were Sunday guests at the W. F. Kaczor home.

Eric and Everett Johnson left Monday morning for Sheridan county where they expect to be for a month at least; Eric came down on a visit and Everett returned with him.

Harry Fox, Frank Griffith and Will Devall spent Sunday afternoon at will Kaczor's. Grandpa Kaczor, who recently came over to his son, Willis' from Boyd county, is feeling quite good.

Callers on Mrs. Oscar Johnson and the new baby at the Spencer hospital on Sunday were Oscar and Raymond Johnson; Mrs. Roy Karr; Mrs. Clarence Hicks and daughter; Mrs. Roy Spindler and daughters; Mrs. Frank Griffith, and Mrs. Roy Blunt;

A letter written by Mrs. Harry Spindler, was received a few days ago, stating that she thought the illness she wrote about in last week's issue was mostly due to the long, hot spell they had in that country; we are glad to learn that she is much better.

A "little girl who is going somewhere" was the description of Marjorie White, written by a well known critic after seeing her first picture, "Sunny Side Up." Her work in "Happy Days" and "The Golden Calf" amply bore out the critic's prediction.

"The New Movietone Follies of 1930," romantic musical production coming to the Royal Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, July 27-28-29, she bursts forth into her full glory as the leading comedienne of the audible screen. Miss White has a made-to-order role which gives her every opportunity to display her comedy talents beside being featured in two spectacular musical numbers and sharing honors with El Brendel in another song.

In addition to Miss White and Brendel, the cast for "The New Movietone Follies of 1930" includes Frank Richardson, Noel Francis, William Collier, Jr., Miriam Seegar, J. M. Kerrigan, Yola D'Avril, Huntly Gordon, Paul Nicholson and many other well known players.

THANKS

We take this method of extending a vote of thanks for the splendid chicken dinner given at the Grand Cafe by Mr. Thomas Brennan. The dinner was very well prepared and very well served. The Band certainly appreciates this nice consideration.

AN EDITORIAL ENTITLED "NORRIS, OF NEBRASKA"

Remarks of Hon. William E. Borah of Idaho, in the U. S. Senate, Saturday, July 19, 1930

Mr. Borah. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have published in the Record an editorial appearing in the New York World of this morning entitled "Norris, of Nebraska." I think it expresses views which will find sympathetic approval on the part of every member of this body.

There being no objection, the editorial was ordered printed in the Record, as follows:

George W. Norris, of Nebraska, a veteran of 27 years of service in Congress, is a candidate this year for re-election to the Senate. His political opponents in Nebraska, who dislike him for his radicalism and his insurgency, are determined to defeat him. Apparently convinced that he would run away with the Republican primaries no matter who opposed him certain members of his party have thought up a new dodge. They have found an obscure young man, vaguely reported to be a grocer in the town of Broken Bow, who happens to have the name of George W. Norris, and they have persuaded this young gentleman to enter the Republican primaries. The effect of this action, of course, will be to confuse the electorate and to complicate the counting of ballots. There is a third candidate in the field, a standpatter endorsed by the organization—State Treasurer Stebbins. It is not suggested that Mr. Stebbins has had a hand in the arrangement to enter a second George W. Norris in the primary, but obviously he will be the beneficiary of the confusion which is certain to result.

It is a neat trick and a scurvy one. It is being used for the purpose of keeping out of the Senate one of the most useful members of that body because he is entirely too independent to suit the regular organization of his party and entirely too critical of corporation methods to satisfy the business interests of Nebraska.

There are many points of view which we do not happen to share with Mr. Norris. We part company with him entirely on the question of prohibition. We lack his sublime faith in the ability of legislation to solve the problems of the farmer. In recent weeks we have criticized the reservation which he has sought to attach to the London naval treaty because we have believed this reservation to be mischievous.

If we differ with Mr. Norris on such points, however, we can at least honor the integrity of his motives. Over a long period of years he has done yeoman service in the Senate. He is a tireless worker. He is a bold champion of causes which command his loyalty. Not once, within our memory, has he been found fighting on the side of bigotry, hysteria, or private greed. He is a sane man, a tolerant man, and a devoted servant of the mythical average voter who usually loses his political friends on the morning after election. No other man in the Senate has worked more faithfully for the application of common sense in solving the problem of Muscle Shoals. No other man has more generously befriended lost causes, the under dog, and the rights of small minorities. No other man has incurred more bitter hostility on the part of the patrioteers, the regulars, the party hacks, and the poor relations of the rich.

George W. Norris is too useful a man to lose from public life. We should like to see him reelected to his present office even if we were unable to agree with him on a single point in his budget of beliefs. In a Senate containing so many store-window dummies who work on strings, his real independence and his robust honesty the qualities too valuable to be discarded. Whether he will make his campaign this year as an independent, in an attempt to avoid the trap which his opponents have laid for him, or whether he will take his chance on the regular ticket of his party, we do not know. In either case we hope that his courage and his integrity and his years of gallant service are honored as they deserve to be honored by the Republican voters of Nebraska.

INMAN NEWS

Miss Ruth Keyes came home from Wayne, Friday to spend the week-end.

A good many Inman people attended the Chautauqua at Page this week.

Wm. Stevens is quite ill at his home in the south part of town this week.

Mrs. D. B. Gifford and children, of Wayne, Nebraska, are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker.

Miss Emma Ruspach, who has been attending school at Wayne the past six weeks, returned home Saturday.

Miss Barbara Adcock, of Wayne, Nebraska, was here over the week-end visiting her sister, Mrs. Earl Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sholes and family have moved here from Ewing and are residing in the old butcher shop building.

The defunct bank of this place is paying another dividend this week which is very pleasing to the people of this community.

Miss Esther Fraka and Miss Regina Ruther, who are attending summer school at Wayne spent the week-
