EMMET ITEMS Mrs. E. N. Garvin and children of Scotts Bluff are visiting relatives here this week. Carl Luben had his arm broken while cranking a car last Sunday; his parents took him to the doctor at once. Clement Cleary had his wrist broken last Saturday; he was stacking hay for Fred Beckwith and was knocked off the stack by a large sweep load of hay. Most of the grain near here is threshed now; the corn and potatoes look discouraging. Haying is in session now and there appears to be some pretty good hay. Mrs. Ralph Beckwith, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Wilson hospital at Stuart last Monday, is recovering nicely and expects to return home Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lorenze and Glen and the Billy Schmore family called at the G. A. Seger home Sunday afternoon; not finding them at home they called at the Guy Beckwith home.

SURROUNDING AND PLEASANT VIEW (Last Week)

Karl Hoppe reports a good run with his threshing machine. Mrs. W. S. Spencer and children autoed to Emmet, Monday afternoon. Henrietta Dexter, of Atkinson, called on Robert Fullerton's, Friday. Miss Eva Grothe of near Emmet, assisted her sister, Mrs. Sam Banks, Monday. Miss Delia Hennings, of California is visiting her brother, Bert and family. Mrs. John Schrank and children visited at the Guy Alton home, Sunday afternoon. Mary Niezocki was called to the Lutz home near Stuart by the death of her friend, Mrs. Lutz. Joe Stein, of Meek, was looking over the county road work north of Emmet, Thursday afternoon. The Wm. Dexter family and Roy Ries were callers on Mr. and Mrs. Nels Anderson, Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Mary Bougie and Earl Miller were callers on Mr. and Mrs. Nels Anderson, Thursday afternoon. Miss Helen Sorrey accompanied Miss Ione Anderson to her home near Newport, Wednesday, by train and will return to her home near Atkinson, Monday. The Luther League met at the home of John Nabor, Sr., Thursday evening and the Ladies Aid was entertained Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pruss in O'Neill. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roth and son and Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Miller enjoyed an ice cream feed, on Sunday afternoon at the Miller home; Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Miller visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones in Atkinson in the evening. Mrs. Wm. Evans left on the morning train for a visit with friends at Springview and expects to meet her children, Miss Charlotte and Lloyd, there. They made the trip through Yellowstone Park and will accompany their mother home by auto. Mrs. John Delosch and family, of near Stuart, and Herbert Bryan, a nephew of Mrs. Delosch, from Iowa; a friend, Obert Talmage, of Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klingler were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones in Atkinson, Sunday; Klingler's called on Mr. and Mrs. Nels Anderson on their way home Sunday evening.

MEEK AND VICINITY

(Last Week)

Orville Lowrey recently purchased a new Tudor Ford sedan. Some from this community attended the Camp Meeting which is being held near Bassett, on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson, son Paul and daughter Margaret, called at the Harry Fox home Sunday afternoon. Hot, dry weather still continues and the corn in this part of the county is beginning to show the effects of the dry heat. Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Sanders and children, of Opportunity, and Mrs. E. H. Rouse were Sunday visitors at the Arden Johnson home. Will Devall and sons have recently built a dam, which makes a fine swimming pool for the community during these hot evenings. Saturday night over fifty were in the pool at one time. The house or the Andrew Johnson place burned down Monday morning. We have not learned how it happened; it seems that no one was home when it burned. The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack McClellan. Word was received here the first of the week that Walter Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Griffith of North Platte, underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils and adenoids; the little fellow was doing as well as could be expected.

If we still had with us the old fashioned family which consumed a three foot stack of wheat cakes each morning for breakfast there wouldn't be any surplus wheat problem.

If you haven't time to go camping, put up a tent in the back yard, carry your water from the neighbor's hydrant, cook on a smoky oil stove and drink warm water. The effect will be the same.

The crisis is past. Pictures of Charles Augustus Lindberg Jr., have been printed and the people who think he looks like his mother didn't start a war against those who insist that he looks like his father.—New York World.

These tree-sitting endurance contests that the boys and girls are starting will doubtless be taken up in due time by the candidates who are not sure whether the prevailing sentiment in their districts is wet or dry.

The bakers of the nation say that if the people will eat as much bread as they did twenty years ago, one hundred million more bushels of wheat will be used in America each year and the farm problem will be solved. That's easy—all you have to do is to make fat women stylish again, just as they were in the old burlesque days.
