THE RAY COBURN BASS PONDS WELL STOCKED

Back in the early nineties, Peter Greely conceived the plan to make useful two springs that arose just west of his home on Turkey Creek, twenty-five miles northwest of O'Neill. Two dams were constructed and two large ponds were soon filled. A few large mouth black bass were purchased by Mr. Greely and from this start the ponds were soon abundantly stocked. In a few years these waters were literally alive with large bronze-backs, which took the lure readily and provided not only rare sport for Peter and his neighbors but the finest of fish food. With the exception of a heavy loss when a cloudburst swept out a portion of the dams, and another time during Mr. Greely's absence a gang of seiners cleaned the ponds, there has been no lack of bass for the table until a few years ago when Mr. Ray Coburn purchased the farm and very generously opened the ponds to the public. It was not long, however, before he discovered that some of the said public had no respect for limits or his generosity and in order to save the few that were left he closed the waters to all fishermen. The ponds are now well supplied with fingerling bass which Mr. Coburn will offer for sale to the state for stocking purposes.

During the past two years the Game, Forestation and Parks Commission has offered special encouragement to individuals who have practical sites where permanent ponds may be built for bass rearing. Such ponds should have a constant supply of fresh water, so situated as to be free from flood waters, and having drainage facilities so that they may be drawn down to small, shallow areas in order that the fingerlings can be taken out. Plenty of vegetation is necessary, also, as it is upon the insect life that breeds on mosses and other aquatic plants that the young fish feed and thrive. Bass rearing in private ponds bids fair to become a feature industry in Holt county as nowhere in the state are opportunities offered to equal those found in the many flowing well districts of the county. There are also many sites in the north half where warm water ponds can be constructed and maintained at a small cost. There is a constantly increased demand for fingerling bass from other states as well as Nebraska, so that it will be many years hence before the market will be reasonably supplied. The game laws have been so amended that full protection is given owners of private fish hatcheries and since fishermen everywhere realize ter fishing in public waters there is no lack of hearty co-operation on their part.

Anyone who is interested in knowing more about private bass culture can obtain full information by writing to the Game, Forestation and Parks Commission, Lincoln, Nebraska.

INTERSTATE POWER CO. PRESENT GOLD MEDALS

On Tuesday evening, August 19th, at Long Pine, Nebraska, the Interstate Power Company presented to Mr. Isaac Peterson, Mr. James Kurtz, and Edward Trautman, three of their employees at Long Pine, the H. L. Clarke medal for life saving.

On March 5, 1929, these three men rescued Willard Wheeler, age ten, of Long Pine, from the pond at the Hydro Plant and saved his life by applying the Schaefer Prone pressure method of resuscitation. This boy, together with another boy about his own age, were fishing from a pier, and in some manner both lost their footing and fell into the water. Clement managed to swim to shore, ran to the hydro plant and notified the operators there of what happened. They hurried to the scene of the accident and after some fifteen or twenty minutes, succeeded in bringing the boy to the surface with a common garden rake, from about seven feet of water. They carried him to the plant and after about twenty to twenty-five minutes work, succeeded in bringing him back to life by applying the Schaefer method of resuscitation, in which every member of the Interstate Power Company is oughly instructed.

The H. L. Clarke medal is purely a company medal and is a personal gift from Mr. Clarke, president of the Utilities Power and Light Corporation, of which Interstate Power Co. is a subsidiary. It is solid gold, suitably inscribed with the name of the recipient and date of accident, and is given in all meritorious cases of life saving by any company member. Mr. Clarke has always taken a very keen personal interest in the safety work of his organization and the receiving of this medal is a singular honor.

The meeting was held in the open air and Mayor McDonald, of Long Pine, very ably conducted the meeting in the pleasing manner which is so characteristic of him, and to him is due, to a great extent, the success of the affair. The music was rendered by the Atkinson Band, which donated its services for the occasion.

The medals were presented by Mr. C. E. Dove, assistant general manager of the Interstate Power Company from Dubuque, Iowa. The following newspaper and business men made some very appropriate remarks and particularly Mr. J. A. Donohoe, an attorney, of O'Neill, who spoke of the wonderful privilege it is to save the life of a fellow man. Those presented were Mr. L. C. Walling, District Manager of the O'Neill District; Dr. J. E. Webb, Safety Director; C. E. Dove, Assistant General Manager; Harry Bayley, General Sales Manager, all of Dubuque, Iowa; S. J. Weekes, Dr. W. F. Finley, Dr. J. P. Brown, H. J. Birmingham, Scott Hough, George A. Miles. Other members of the Interstate Power Company from O'Neill were C. D. Wood, District Manager, Merchandise Department; James Rhea, Commercial Department; K. Fenderson, Superintendent of Operation; H. D. Kruse, Transformer Inspector; L. O. Coin and C. V. Sullivan, Accounting Department; Con Kingrey, Operating Department; J. W. McNamara, Secretary to the manager; R. Kelly, Atkinson; Ray Crellin, Ewing; W. S. Tyler, Ainsworth.

Those above mentioned as well as a number of others from nearby towns were guests of the Interstate Power Company at a six o'clock banquet at Long Pine.

LOCAL NEWS.

W. H. Allinger and Howard Bauman returned home Wednesday from a ten days fishing trip to the lakes in Minnesota. The editor and family will vouch for the statement that the boys did not come home empty handed because one of those large northern pickerel adorned our table Wednesday evening. It was a rare treat.

Spencer Advocate: The state veterinarian has sent Dr. J. D. Sprague from his staff to Spencer and vicinity in connection with the recent outbreak of anthrax in the county. Dr. Sprague will be in Spencer a few days on this work. Anthrax infection has developed on several farms. So far it has been confined to a couple of localities, but precaution is being taken against further spread.

Spencer Advocate: Edw. Donlin of Ft. Randall stumbled onto something a while back which caused him to pause and scratch his head and wonder if the hot weather had affected him. He noticed a good sized tree, about 35 feet high, growing inside of an old steel tire, apparently dropped from a wagon at some time in the dim past. Mr. Donlin was unable to figure out how the tire could have been looped around that large a tree and finally decided that the tree had grown up inside the tire. This unusual sight will be found near the old Ft. Randall fort.

2,000,000 Chevrolet Sixes now on the road

Since January, 1929, Chevrolet has produced and sold over 2,000,000 six-cylinder automobiles—nearly five times as many as any other manufacturer has ever built in an equal length of time.

These 2,000,000 buyers have chosen Chevrolet because it offers many desirable qualities not obtainable in any other car so low in price—

—the smoothness, silence and flexibility of a modern six-cylinder engine—the comfort and roadability of a modern, full-length chassis—and the style, safety and distinction of bodies by Fisher.

Yet, despite these fine car advantages, the Chevrolet Six is unusually economical. Its gas, oil, tire and upkeep economy is unsurpassed. And

SIX-CYLINDER SMOOTHNESS AT LOW COST

A fellow who was camping at the free tourist park Wednesday night claimed to have been robbed of $28 by a couple of fellows whom he claims stole his gasoline. Several who have investigated the story do not take it seriously.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hodgkin stopped in O'Neill Tuesday for a short visit with old time friends; they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mellor while in the city. They were enroute to Rochester, Minnesota where Walter expects to go through the Mayo clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Surber and daughter, Miss Florence, accompanied by Rev. H. D. Johnson, drove to Waterbury, Nebraska, last Sunday; Mrs. Surber and Miss Florence remained there while Mr. Surber and Rev. Johnson drove to Yankton, S. D., where Rev. Johnson boarded the train for Pierpont, South Dakota, where he joined his family; they will remain there for a few days visit before returning home the latter part of the week.

Petty thieving has become a common thing in O'Neill. Filling stations, stores and cars are being robbed regularly in and around O'Neill. Some of the more recent cases were the stealing of the gas from Fred McNally's car at his home; Mrs. Protivinsky saw the party getting the gas but he got away before she could notify Mr. McNally. Wednesday night a fellow attempted to take the gas from W. H. Starlin's car but was frightened away by Chief of Police Hough before he got the can filled. We understand that an attempt was made to enter the DuBois pool hall one night this week. H. E. Coyne discovered a fellow in his basement Saturday night just before closing time; the fellow claimed to have no knowledge as to how he got into the basement; two nights later the screen was cut from a rear window at the Coyne hardware.

Mrs. Christ Holmes and little grand-daughter, of Kenosha, Wisconsin, and Mrs. Grace Goodrich, of Chicago, came Sunday for a visit at the home of their cousin L. A. Simonson and family.

Mrs. George Jones is in a Norfolk hospital where she recently submitted to the removal of a cancer from her right breast. She is getting along as well as could be expected and the doctors are quite hopeful for her recovery. Her daughter, Mrs. D. N. Loy, is with her.

Mrs. Ted Riddell and daughter Fandra, returned to their home in Scotts Bluffs, Nebraska last Sunday; they expected to stop over in Omaha for a short visit with Mrs. Ed Latta and daughter Miss Libby. Mrs. Riddell and daughter have been visiting at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Gilligan.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Wagman gave them a real surprise last Sunday, August 17th, when they all came home for a reunion and for the celebration of their wedding anniversary; a 3-course dinner was served; the children presented their parents with a black walnut rocking chair as a remembrance; a cafeteria supper followed the afternoon festivities. Those present were Joe Wagman and family, O'Neill; Mrs. Louis Schoenbers and family, Yankton, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Petrositch, Danbury Iowa; Wm. Wagman, Yankton; Fred Wagman, O'Neill; Wendell Wagman, Austin, Minnesota.

Buz Bowden was arraigned in Judge Mike Enright's court last Monday charged with fighting; Judge Enright assessed a fine of sixty days on bread and water; after giving Buz a lecture he agreed to suspend the fine providing that Buz would leave town and remain away. Buz accepted the latter penalty. Judge Enright also delivered a sentence of thirty days on bread and water to Frank Morrison for fighting; this sentence was also suspended if Morrison would leave town and remain away. Bowden and Morrison are accused of "beating" a fellow associate named Brown quite severely last Sunday near the Dr. Wilkinson home in the southwestern part of the city. Dr. Brown was required to sew up Brown's face and bandage up several cracked ribs.

J. M. Seybold drove to Kearney last Saturday; he expects to return with Mrs. Seybold and daughter who have been visiting relatives at Kearney for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Langmack and children spent last week in Hartington, Allen and Wayne, visiting in the homes of Mrs. Langmack's brothers.

Mrs. Lorena McManus who is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Simonson, went to Omaha, Friday for a few day's visit. She expects to return to her home in Casper, Wyoming the latter part of the month to resume teaching in the Casper schools.

James Heeney and son Francis, of Hubbard, Nebraska, have been visiting at the James Timlin home several days during the past week; they have been buying a carload of pigs which they are shipping to their ranch at Hubbard.
