ROYAL THEATRE OPENING
THURS., FRIDAY, SATURDAY

The New Royal Theatre will be formally opened Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week with the big comedy picture "Check and Double Check," featuring Amos and Andy.

The theatre will have been remodelled throughout and will be as near sound perfect as experts can make it.

Mr. Downey, owner of the building and Mrs. Rasley have spared nothing in making the Royal the best show house in this part of the state. New machines have been added, new drapes hung and new seats will have been placed for the opening night.

Amos and Andy have been the big hit of the season and their picture has drawn wonderful crowds wherever it has been shown.

WALLING—STARLIN

James F. Walling and Miss Julia Winifred Starlin were united in marriage last Saturday, November 1st, 1930, in the Trinity Episcopal Cathedral, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, by the Rt. Rev. Blair Roberts.

The bride wore a brown chiffon georgette dress with brown shoes and hat; the bridegroom was attired in a dark brown suit.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Starlin of this city; she was graduated from the St. Mary's Academy June 3, 1929. She has been employed in the office of F. J. Dishner for some time. She is a young lady who enjoys a host of friends.

Mr. Walling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Walling of this city; his father is the district manager for the Interstate Power Company; James is a graduate of the Laurel, Nebraska, high school and has attended the Wayne state normal college.

Both of these young people are quite well known in and around O'Neill where they are receiving congratulations from their host of friends.

They returned to O'Neill Monday evening and are at home to their many friends in apartments at the H. H. Haffner home which they prepared previous to their marriage.

The Frontier extends congratulations.

BREINER—MURRY

Miss Mary Murry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Murry, and Alden Breiner, son of Mrs. T. Breiner, were married Thursday morning, October 30th, in Emmet by Rev. Father Byrne. A delicious wedding supper was served to the relatives at the home of Mrs. T. Breiner. Relatives and friends of the newlyweds gave them a shower, oyster supper and dance at the Lawrence Murry home Wednesday night.

FEEDERS MEETING AT ELGIN

A district feeders meeting, which is one of a series to be held this fall, will be held at Elgin on Friday, November 14th. Other meetings in this section of the state will be held at West Point and Lexington. This will be an all day gathering, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. and ending at 3:30.

A number of men from the Agricultural College will be on the program. "The Outlook Situation" for hogs, cattle, sheep and feedstuffs will be given by a man from the Rural Economics Department. One of the state veterinarians will talk on "Animal Diseases and Their Prevention." An animal husbandry man will talk on "Balanced Rations" and will answer questions relative to feeding cattle and hogs. A practical sheep man will be present to address the meeting on "Sheep Feeding."

The Elgin Community Club is sponsoring the meeting and is being assisted by James W. Rooney, Assistant County Extension Agent. The complete program will be published in next week's paper.

"LILION" WON HIS WOMEN BY TREATING 'EM ROUGH

A famous author once wrote that "women should be loved—not understood. And 'Lilion,' the chief character in Franz Molnar's immortal drama of the same name, which Fox Movietone made into an audible screen drama, at the Royal Theatre, Sunday and Monday, followed the advice of this writer, for he dearly loved "Julie," his saintly girl bride, but never attempted to understand her.

The moral of the story, if Molnar really intended to convey one, is found in Lilion's dying speech while resting in Julie's arms: "Nobody's right but they all think they're right—a lot they know!" And another interpretation that may be put upon the symbolical premise for the story is Julie's explanation to her daughter of Lilion's cruelty: "It is possible, dear—that someone may beat you—and beat you—and beat you—and not hurt at all."

Thus is Molnar's version of the greatness of true love pictured in human drama that all the world can understand; a drama that has stood the test of years as one of the most uniquely beautiful ever staged.

Featured with Charles Farrell and Rose Hobart are H. B. Warner, Estelle Taylor and Lee Tracy while Nat Pendleton, Bert Roach and Mildred Van Dorn portray important supporting roles.

MEN GATHER AT BANQUET FELLOWSHIP MEETING
(Tilden Citizen, Oct. 23, 1930)

Between fifty and sixty men gathered around the banquet tables in the basement of the M. E. church, Tuesday evening, in a good fellowship meeting. The fine banquet was served by a group of women from the Ladies Aid, complimentary to the men. Following the dinner Rev. Fortune stated the purpose of the gathering, assuring the men that he was desirous of co-operating in any effort that might bring about a closer fellowship among the men of the community with the hope that such a union would serve a helpful purpose.

At the close of his brief preliminary talk, Rev. Fortune acted as toastmaster, introducing the speakers in a very terse and clever manner. The first number on the program was a violin solo by Miss Ruth Hansen. Mr. Seeley was introduced as song leader and as such proved one of the hits of the evening's entertainment. After the opening song, "America," the singing was mostly in the form of solos by the leader, occasionally assisted by Mr. Sam Baker, who seemed to be the only singer among the men. The first speaker was Mr. S. C. Blackman who gave his impressions on the "Value of the Church in a Community."

Mr. Fred Sexsmith of O'Neill was called upon for a few remarks and in response gave the Tilden people some pointers on the toastmaster, who formerly served as pastor in O'Neill. In closing his brief talk Mr. Sexsmith recited a poem very appropriate to the occasion.

The principal address was delivered by Mr. H. B. Burch, also of O'Neill who brought a helpful and inspirational message on the subject of the "Value of Brotherhood." He spoke of the obstacles to be overcome before true brotherhood among the nations could be attained and these to a large extent operated to prevent its realization in communities. He next turned to the other side, naming some of the things which must actuate the hearts of men before true brotherhood could become a reality. Mr. Burch stressed two points particularly. One was intolerance, in all its forms, not the least of which is religious intolerance. The next was that of love for our fellowmen. Not the narrow, selfish kind, but a love that is big enough and broad enough to take in men regardless of race or creed. Mr. Burch's talk was well received by the men present.

Rev. Johnson played the piano for the various musical numbers and also gave the opening prayer before the banquet. Rev. Mann pronounced the benediction.

INMAN ITEMS

Miss Kathryn McCarthy, of O'Neill was in Inman Friday on business.

Mr. Ticknor, of Anoka, Nebraska, came Thursday to visit his father, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Chet McClenahan of Chambers were in Inman, Saturday on business.

H. R. Stakoff, of Chicago, Illinois was in Inman several days this week; he is an electrician for the C. & N. W. Railway Company.

Mrs. A. P. Carpenter, who spent the past week in the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Taylor at Clearwater, returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Main came Monday to pack their furniture, preparatory to moving to Grand Island, where they will make their future home.

The ladies of the community served a dinner and supper on Tuesday, (election day) at the I. O. O. F. hall; the proceeds go to the cemetery association.

The teachers of the Inman schools, including Supt. Alice French, Elyda Kennedy, Clarence McClurg, Dorlin Lockman, Elsie Mulford, Emma Anspach and Pauline Raitt, attended the teacher's convention at Norfolk and Lincoln, returning home Sunday evening.

A number of the members of the Royal Neighbor lodge drove to Ewing Monday evening and attended a meeting of the lodge at that place. A class of candidates were initiated; the degree staff of the Orchard camp put on the work. The ladies said they greatly enjoyed the evening at Ewing.

Charles Fowler left Wednesday for Grand Island where he will visit his son Henry and family; he will also visit at Omaha and Sioux City with his sons Mark and Chester, after which he will go to Iowa and Illinois where he will visit a brother and sister. He expects to be gone all winter.

The members of the Epworth League, under the able direction of their president, Harvey Tompkins, are putting on a membership contest during the month of November. The first three weeks will be devoted to increasing membership and attendance in League and the last week will be devoted entirely to the "Win My Chum" campaign, which is an annual event each November.

Mrs. Emma Bartsch and daughters of Royal are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Riley. On Thursday their new farm residence near Royal, with all its contents was destroyed by fire. It is not known how the fire originated, as no fire had been in the house during the absence of Mrs. Bartsch. Mr. Bartsch had been taking his meals at the home of his twin brother. There was some insurance on the loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kopecky returned home Wednesday from a short visit with relatives at Lindsay; from there they went to Gresham, Nebraska, where they transacted business; on Saturday they went to Ceresco, where they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Noyes; on Sunday they drove to Omaha, where they visited relatives including a brother-in-law, John Vavra, who is very ill; Mr. Vavra was in Inman, Friday on business.

Fred Ticknor, who assists his son Harold at the Inman garage, suffered a light paralytic stroke about five o'clock last Thursday afternoon. Mr. Ticknor was alone at the time, his son having gone to O'Neill; about ten minutes after Harold Ticknor had gone to O'Neill, Harry McGraw, on entering the garage, found Mr. Ticknor unconscious and lying prostrate on the floor. He was immediately taken home and a physician called; at this time his condition is quite good.
