METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Judging from comments, last Sunday was a good day in Zion, and helpful. It would seem that the Gospel is more appreciated than a political harangue. At least, if any were expecting the latter they did not get it, either morning or evening. Beloved, we have orders to preach the Word. We shall try again; in the morning, on "My Peace I Leave With You" Not peace as the world giveth.

And you have an urgent invitation to our Sunday School, also the Epworth League in the evening at 6:30. Here is your meeting, young folks. We are glad to see you there, as well as at the preaching services. In the evening you are invited to meet with us at the Presbyterian church. That was a fine response last Sunday evening, with over 200 present. Let us keep the good work going. The "Greatest Need of the World," in the evening.

Benj. Kuhler, Pastor

Mrs. Miser, Mrs. Black and daughter came from Verdell, Friday for a short visit with Mrs. Eric Borg; they will be remembered here as Mary and Phenie Nelson; they grew to womanhood in this locality, but moved away several years ago.

A very interesting Christian Endeavor meeting was held at Paddock Union, Sunday evening, with Sam Robertson as leader; the topic was, "Building the King's Highway Across America;" it was ably discussed and many interesting points were brought out.

Someone evidently made a mistake in last week's items. Where it read "Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rouse and sons motored to O'Neill, Sunday for a visit at the Will Langan home," it should have read "Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rouse motored to O'Neill, Sunday for a short visit at the A. L. Rouse home." In another item it should have read "Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thomsen and baby, of near Lynch, visited at the Will Langan home, Sunday."

Edward Beckwith and son Bob, of Neligh, stopped for a few minutes at the Fred Beckwith home, Saturday. They had been hunting at Long Pine and Wood Lake. Edward and Fred Beckwith are brothers.

Joe Welsh suffered the loss by fire of an eight ton haystack which burned on the meadow, one-half mile west of Andrew Johnson's. It is thought to have been accidentally set afire by hunters who might have dropped a lighted match nearby.

Thursday evening William Paul and son Julian, of Elgin, stopped for a short visit at the Fred Beckwith farm; they were trucking potatoes from Gordon to the Union store at Neligh. They ate supper at Leon Beckwith's before continuing their journey.

Rev. Conrad, from the Nebraska Children's Home, conducted services at the M. E. church in Emmet, Sunday. In his sermon he brought out the need for people to take the responsibilities which are placed in their path. Especially should parents feel a great responsibility for their children. After the sermon, he baptized his little grandson, Joe William Stecker. Rev. Conrad will be in this vicinity this week and will appreciate any help.

The masquerade party given by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lorenze at their home Thursday evening was a great success; almost everyone present was masqued and wore a clever costume. Aladene and Mayadene Kee were dressed as negroes and were very cute little darkeys. Mrs. Joe Winkler represented a genuine Gipsy fortune teller. When the guests arrived they were ushered in silence to the house, where they gazed upon rows of unfamiliar beings; various games were played and many prizes were given. The happy crowd departed at a late hour, congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Lorenze on their ability to entertain.

Nearly everyone is busy husking corn and it won't be long until some will be through, although the corn is of a good quality; the yield isn't so great as was at first expected, at least in most fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hull were called to Parnlee, South Dakota, for the second time Saturday night, owing to the severe illness of their little grand-daughter, Delphane, daughter of their son Claud. So far we have not learned how the little one is since they went, but hope to learn that she is better.

The Hallowe'en party held at the A. L. Borg home was attended by a large crowd and a jolly time was had by all; it was a spooky place, as one happened on ghosts and goblins in all sorts of places. Some of the costumes were very amusing and many stunts were pulled off. Mrs. Borg deserves a great deal of praise for the planning and carrying out of the program.

TAKE WINTER'S FIRST WARNING

WEATHER

Unsettled and Colder Tomorrow

CHANGE NOW TO WINTER GRADES OF 80 mile-an-hour TAGOLENE

THERE'S a terrific strain in cold weather starting if there's incorrect oil in your crankcase. If your oil is not free-flowing you may get a DRY start—and abnormal friction and engine wear. Your battery will waste its very life blood.

But easy starting isn't enough. Beware of oil that flows freely, yet lacks lubricating body. Take this warning now! Change to winter grades of The Improved Tagolene.

Only select, paraffin base mid-continent oils are good enough for The Improved Tagolene. Every drop quickly spreads out tissue-thin between all moving parts of the motor, to save these parts against a dry start.

The Improved Tagolene is road-tested at 80 miles an hour and more, so that in any weather you may enjoy a margin of safety at whatever speed you drive. Profit by the margin of safety Tagolene offers against cold and speed and every other strain. Drive in today for cold weather protection.
