WISEMAN AND WILLIAMSON CHARGED WITH STEALING SETS OF HARNESS

The hearing of Clifford Wiseman and Harold Williamson was held before County Judge Malone last Friday and the young men were bound over to the district court. They were charged with the theft of several sets of harness, which were located at the Bud Caldwell farm, one mile east of the Whiting bridge over the Niobrara river, a short time ago. Bonds were furnished for the young men and they were released.

Orlow (Bud) Caldwell plead guilty on February 21st to the charge of receiving stolen property and was sentenced to a term of two to seven years in the state penitentiary at Lincoln.

Caldwell testified that he purchased the harness in question from these two young men.

THE FRONTIER IS ASKING DELINQUENTS TO PAY UP

The Frontier is not asking its readers to buy any bricks, either gold or pressed, but it would like to have those who are in arrears on their subscription to this great family necessity send a check or call at The Frontier office and get on the credit side of the ledger.

It is the intention of The Frontier to give its readers the news all the time in a fair and unbiased way; it does not care to express personal feelings through the local columns. The editor, however, reserves the right to comment on local subjects in an editorial way but will not intentionally present an opinion in a news story.

We would be pleased to hear from our readers at any time. If one has a criticism to make in regard to the paper, tell us what it is, either personally or by mail; if you send it by mail, be sure and sign your name; we do not care for unsigned letters either for or against the paper.

If you have friends or relatives visiting at your home or in your community, drop us a card or letter, telling us about it—we will appreciate it; send us the news about any parties, gatherings, accidents, deaths, marriages, births or any other event that occurs in your locality.

CLAUSSEN AGAIN TAKEN FOR CHICKEN STEALING

(Atkinson Graphic)
According to the Butler County Press, David City, Henry H. Clausen, formerly of Atkinson, is again up to his old tricks—chicken stealing—and has landed in the hands of authorities. Clausen was sent to the penitentiary from Holt county last year to serve a term for chicken stealing. His term expired some time last spring. An item from the Butler County Press of last week is reprinted as follows:

"Account is given in a news story from Bruno in this week's Press of a man coming to the C. E. Kozisek farm near Bruno Wednesday afternoon, February 11th, and stealing chickens. Mrs. Kozisek was alone in the house. She locked the doors and after the man convinced himself by trying the doors he went to the chicken house and filled sacks with chickens and drove on. Mrs. Kozisek phoned to Bruno and men from that place traced the man and caught him and held him for the sheriff. The man gave his name as Henry H. Clausen and said he lived at Fremont. He was arraigned before Judge Hastings in district court Saturday on charge of larceny and pleaded guilty. Sentence was deferred pending investigation of him."

Clausen was sentenced on February 23rd to serve one year in the penitentiary.

O'NEILL BUSINESS MEN VISIT GOVERNOR BRYAN

A delegation of O'Neill and Chambers business men and friends of Highway No. 13, drove to Lincoln and Wednesday appeared before Governor Charles Bryan in his offices in the new capitol building, with the request that the fourteen miles of gap in Highway No. 13 in the northern part of Wheeler county be graded and surfaced and to include the unsurfaced part of the road in the southern part of Holt county.

The Governor was very courteous to the delegation and gave them much consideration but at the same time explained to them the enormous amount of road building that is asked for all over the state and how utterly impossible it is to satisfy everyone who asks for highways. He explained that the state department of Public Works, which is now under the direct supervision of the Governor, expects to build every foot of road possible this year, thus giving employment to many men who need the work; their plan is to scatter the work proportionately throughout the state according to population and the necessity of the road asked for. The Governor pointed out to the delegation how he had saved up to thirty percent on the lettings that have been made since he became Governor and how the present road building program is going to save the state considerable money; the money saved is going to be spent in building more road than was originally planned by the state engineers in their estimates for the year's work.

After going over the details of the road program already let by the Department of Public Works in this county, and which are now being advertised in The Frontier, for No. 54 which runs south from Atkinson through Burwell, the delegation expressed its appreciation for the contracts granted.

Governor Bryan did not insure the delegation that the contract asked for would be let this year, but assured the gentlemen present that the proposition would receive consideration. The whole matter seems to hinge upon the matter of finances; if the money will hold out or if Governor Bryan is successful in getting the work done as cheaply as he anticipates Holt county will, no doubt, get the road to Bartlett finished this year, otherwise it will perhaps lay over for the next year's budget.

Those who made the trip to Lincoln were: Attorney J. J. Harrington; Chairman of the County Board, John Sullivan; President of the O'Neill Commercial Club, Dr. W. F. Finley; R. R. Morrison; M. H. McCarthy; J. B. Mellor; Roy Griffin; J. F. O'Donnell; Homer Mullen; R. L. Arbuthnot; C. P. Hancock; P. J. McManus; W. C. Templeton, all of O'Neill, and Ezra Cook, Roy Lienhart and J. W. Walter, all of Chambers.

ROBBERY FRUSTRATED BY NIGHT WATCHMAN

(Atkinson Graphic)

Robbery of the Wm. Hewitt bulk gasoline and oil tank station was frustrated early last Friday morning by Nightwatchman Geo. E. Spence, who surprised two men who had broken into the building. Also surprised was officer Spence when one of the men poked a gun in his face and kept him covered while the pair made their escape in a Ford car, the number plates of which were covered with cardboard.

The nightwatch saw the car drive up to the station, which is located at the extreme west end of the railroad yard, at about 5:30 a. m. He supposed that it was one of the Hewitts, but decided to make sure and walked up to the place.

Inside were two men with a flashlight. Spence knew that Mr. Hewitt usually used a flashlight when working in the building after dark, so he called to the men to find out who they were. They rushed out and went to their car and the nightwatch, sensing something wrong, went after them, but when he got close to the car, was halted by a gun which was poked in his face by one of the men. The other pulled his cap down over his face, started the car and they sped away.

Officer Spence says that he would have no difficulty in identifying the gun wielder, because he flashed his light in the man's face and got a good look at him. Sheriff Duffy was notified and although officers suspect who the men were, there have been no arrests made.

The following is taken from the March 6th issue of the Atkinson Graphic which just came to our desk. After reading the article we find that O'Neill parties seem to be the fellows they are looking for:

"Officers Coxhill and Spence, and Howard Ruby went to O'Neill, Wednesday to identify a man being held there as one of the two who had a part in the attempted robbery at the Hewitt oil station last week. Mr. Ruby is interested in recovering a hotel bill from a pair that are thought to be the ones who tried the robbery but were caught by Nightwatchman Spence. Spence identified the man in O'Neill as the one who handled a gun while he and his pal escaped."
