

Out Our Way

By Williams

Test for French Fries

To aid potato chip manufacturers, and buyers for hotels and restaurants in which French fried potatoes are served, Dr. W. M. Peacock, above, potato specialist of the United States department of agriculture, has devised a test to determine the fitness of potatoes for this purpose.

M'NEILS OF ONAWA SHELTER SHORTHORNS THAT RANK WITH BEST HERDS IN THE COUNTRY

BY FRANCIS T. MARTIN
Seventy two years ago, Edwin McNeill, a Pennsylvanian who had not yet attained his majority, had visions of the "Golden West."

feeling could not be suppressed. He liked Iowa, and Monona county and in 1868 he was back there. He bought as his first investment in land, 240 acres within a mile or so of Onawa. He settled in a section of the state that is remarkable for the quality of its soil, and he prospered because he knew the fundamentals of making money.

when this inland waterways system has been completed and put in operation and permanent prosperity will come to this section only if and when it declares its water independence of the New England states and insists upon working out its own destiny through industrial plants located in the heart of agriculture with scientifically developed water transportation breaking down the ruinous freight rate structure in operation at this time.

and the critic knows that Short-horns bred along such lines are Shorthorns, par excellence. But, the McNeills not only have good females but they have good herd bulls. Their herd at this time is headed by a son of Brownsdale Goldspur, the International champion son of Brownvale Count.

Dog Has Swelled Head, But It's Only the Mumps

Seaside, Ore.—(NEA)—Mike, pet dog owned by Jack Billeu, is one hound that's swelled up about himself. Mike likes to play with children of the neighborhood. The children like to play with Mike. Recently, after a romp, several youngsters told parents they were not feeling well. A doctor was called and pronounced their ailment mumps. Mike's jaws began to swell and a veterinarian was summoned. Mumps again he reported. Now Mike's just sitting around, wondering what in tarnation to do for his swelled head.

with its basis of water borne commerce costs and charges. Some time ago a thoughtful cartoonist drew a picture of a cow with its fore feet in the Mississippi valley section and with the Mississippi valley states furnishing the feed. The cow was being milked on the Atlantic seaboard for the sole use and benefit of that section of the nation. The effect of the development of inland waterways will be to turn the cow around and she will be milked in the same valley from which she is being fed.

Crotalaria has been introduced in South Carolina as a soil-building crop.

UNIQUE THINGS MONEY CAN BUY

An advertisement appeared in a newspaper offering "£100 for a shapely finger of a healthy woman for grafting purposes." The owner of the finger was not to be more than forty-five years of age.

It appears that in America there is a regular tariff for this sort of thing. A thousand dollars was recently offered for an ear to be grafted on to the son of a wealthy man, while human skin for grafting fetches, on an average, £10 per square inch.

In old days the bodies of royal princes were supposed to be too sacred to be touched by a cane, so each prince had a "whipping boy," who was paid quite a good wage to act as proxy and take the beatings which the prince's ill-conduct had merited.

There is a story that the great Sir Francis Drake, in a fit of rage, once cut off the head of a cabin-boy and that the mother of the boy set a curse upon the Drake family, saying: "No male child will be born in the Drake family until a member of the family lives in the dungeons of Shardeoles, the home of the Drakes, for seven years, or a stranger for 14 years."

The present head of the family, Mr. Edward Drake, has four daughters, but no sons, and it is a fact that the squires recently received a letter from a stranger offering to "do time" in these dungeons for 14 years. The price demanded has not been made public.

Belgrade has a newspaper, the Varodny List, the editors of which had so often been imprisoned for political offenses that at last the owner issued the following advertisement: "Whoever wishes a snug berth in this cold weather can call at our office for the post of responsible editor at £2 a day. We will see that he is supplied with good food during his stay in the state prison."

Next morning a crowd of nearly 50 men was waiting outside the office, all eager to be imprisoned at £2 a day.

You might hardly imagine that any woman would agree to call herself ugly. Yet listen. A firm of florists in St. Louis, Mo., could not keep a pretty girl as cashier because each in turn got married. After losing seven girls in two years, the firm, in desperation, advertised for an "ugly cashier." The salary offered was $30 (£6) a week.

Within three days they had no fewer than 250 applicants for the post. One more proof of how money talks.—London Mail.

Gene and the Classics
Gene Tunney said at a dinner in honor of Hugh Walpole, the English lecturer and novelist:

"If we were to read the old books—Tolstol and Tacitus and so on—then we'd judge all these new off-color books more wisely.

"I know a man who reproached his daughter one day for her ignorance of the classics, and the girl's answer was:

"Golly, dad, how can a girl read the books she ought to when she's only got time, as it is, to read the ones she oughtn't to."

His Brand?
Mrs. Slaughter—I want some cigars for my husband for his birthday.

Clerk—What kind, madam?
Mrs. Slaughter—Well, I don't know, exactly; but he is a middle-aged man and always dresses in black.—Border Cities Star.

Home at Last
"How did you like your travels?"

"Awful—bad weather, bad hotels—and when I got home two fleas jumped out of my trunk."

"How glad they must have been to get home again."—Lustige Kolner Zeitung, Cologne.

swat! another night's sleep gone!

Flit kills mosquitoes quick!

Spray FLIT

Largest Seller in 121 Countries

P. S.—He Sold the Shoes!
Woman Customer (embarrassed)—Doesn't it seem to you that women's feet are much larger than they were years ago?

Shoe Clerk—Naturally so—haven't they been filling men's shoes?

Political Note
Senator—If you marry me, dear, I'll make you the happiest woman in the world.

His Intended—Are you sure this isn't a campaign promise?

Undesirable
"Hey, you'll have to get out of our town. Move on to the next town."

"They sent us over here."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Shampoo Regularly with Cuticura Soap

This treatment will keep the scalp in a healthy condition and the hair soft and lustrous.

Vegetarian Meat
Revival of propaganda on behalf of vegetarian diet is predicted as a result of the discovery of a new "meat powder" which is made of the gluten from white flour. It imparts a red-meat flavor to vegetables, and Collier's Weekly reports that it has been such a success in the Orient that it is expected to meet with a wide acceptance as soon as it is introduced in America.

Civilization, like evolution, never stops.

Imaginative people live for their vacations.

The secret of PERMANENT POWER..

There is only one way to keep your motor full-powered. Every engineer knows the secret—correct lubrication.

Every mile your motor runs with too little oil—oil of wrong grade—or dirty, diluted oil—sends it nearer the junk heap.

The new model motors have higher engine speeds and higher compression. They need new model oil—new POLARINE.

New Polarine has high resistance to the thinning and "cracking" effect of heat. It thickens least in cold weather. Thoroughly de-waxed, it does not clog oil lines or carbon the motor. Its oil film clings to metal surfaces.

No oil can do more to keep your motor permanently powerful than new Polarine. Consult the chart for the correct grade to use—25¢ a quart for every grade.

NEW Polarine

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEBRASKA "A Nebraska Institution"

At Red Crown Service Stations and Dealers everywhere in Nebraska