Charles Pruss is critically ill here at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. W. Caster. The nature of his illness and advanced age make recovery very doubtful.

Mr. and Mrs. George Conard were here from Redbird Sunday visiting at the R. M. Conard home.

The Y. M. club met at the home of Mrs. E. E. Clark Tuesday of this week for an all day meeting.

A group of Epworthians of the M. E. church, and their sponsors, numbering about thirty, attended a group meeting at Chambers Monday evening.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella Gallagher were held Monday morning at the St. Patrick's Catholic church at O'Neill, Monsignor McNamara presiding. Pall bearers were J. P. Harte, H. J. Harte, E. L. Watson and I. L. Watson of Inman, and Patrick Carr of Stafford.

Ellen Boyles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Boyles, was born in County Donegal, Ireland, Dec. 8, 1854, and died at her home east of Inman on Feb. 3, 1938, at the age of 83 years, 1 month and twenty-five days. Leaving Ireland with her parents when still a young girl, they settled at Philadelphia, Pa. Coming to Holt county in 1880, she was united in marriage to Michael Gallagher on October 11, 1881, at O'Neill, Nebr. To this union ten children were born, nine of whom survive her. Her husband and one son, Edward, preceded her in death. Surviving children are Mrs. Mayme Harte, Inman; Mrs. Frances Kemp, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Helen Gilligan, Sioux City, Iowa; Miss Beila of Inman, and Mrs. Anna Chase of Sheldon, Iowa; John M., Daniel, James P. and Joseph F. of Inman. She also leaves one brother, Patrick Boyles of Chambers, and eighteen grandchildren.

Mrs. Gallagher, who was one of the oldest residents of this vicinity, was one of those hospitable women whose home was always open to her friends. As long as her health permitted her chief concern was for the care and comfort of her family and friends. Her generous hospitality, warm friendliness and sunny disposition won for her a host of friends who are grieved at her passing. Burial was in Calvary cemetery at O'Neill.

SHIELDS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Murray became the scene of a lot of clever performers that came for miles around to properly celebrate their daughter Elaine's birthday anniversary, that fell on Feb. 4. she greeted her numerous pals very politely and received many valuable gifts that she most likely will keep for a long time as a remembrance of her school chums. Her generous friends by means of a clever talk, were a real spur in arousing a fresh determination for her to participate and have a good time every time she has a birthday, as it helps break the monotony during the winter.

Those attending came well supplied with all the nicest things to eat you ever saw, and it didn't look much like a depression to look at the spread.

Mrs. Maring and Mrs. Cleary, co-chairmen, arraigned the program and it clicked off like an eight-day clock. A social hour was held for several purposes, one was to become acquainted with the reel, and another was to demonstrate the ability and willingness to dance.

A variety of card games were played and the rest had the privilege of enjoying his favorite among the following, pitch euchre or high five. The music was furnished by the newly organized orchestra composed of Mrs. Thomas Murray, Mrs. Martha Murray and Mrs. Cora Murray, a lady band that entertained the party throughout the evening and aided considerably in making the party a success from the standpoint of thorough enjoyment.

After the bountiful lunch was served an intermission followed and during this time there were several clever stunts pulled off.

Several competitors made a triumphal debut in the clog dance. Clarence Murphy took first to the tune of Turkey in the Straw, Bob Earley second in Mrs. McCloud's reel. Tom Murray gave us all a little treat along the feud from the famous fight of '89 between John L. Sullivan and Kilrain, down thru Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jefferies, Johnson and finally dwelt some time on the fight between Ketchel and our great warrior, Montana Jack Sullivan. Tom has abundance of class talent and is well posted on the pugilistic affairs.

Joe McNichols gave us all a lively discussion relative to the initial opening of the O'Neill stock pavilion on Feb. 4. He has great confidence in the new organization, owned and controlled by experienced men who grew up with the business and that know all about stock from A to Z, and anything entrusted in their charge will be handled to the interest of the stockmen that intend to patronize home industries. Joe's friendly smile and congenial manner was enthusiastically received and is wasn't doubted as a great many attended the last sale, and were greatly surprised in both prices and clearance.

This concluded our program with the exception of the dance that lasted until about daylight, when they all returned to their homes extending their hospitality for such an enjoyable evening. E. E.
