Mr. and Mrs. George Pongratz were happily surprised by a card party Sunday night given in honor of their 32nd wedding anniversary.

SHIELDS

A huge surprise party was given at the beautiful and commodious home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Block on Saturday, Feb. 19, that proved to be a complete success from every angle. They entertained a large number of friends and relatives who came to celebrate, and they met with general approval. We were all under the impression that the Block family did not approve of dancing and card playing, but the way Emil cut loose and went into a tailspin, wasn't slow.

This program was planned prior to the snow storm and it looked as though it would have to be postponed on account of the congested roads. But it had no ill effect on the attendance that twisted in from every direction as some of the roads were made impassible by the drifts of snow.

Paul Cihouts, Alfred Cemaue of Verdigre, and Clarence Butterfield, Vivian Coutts and Francis Meyer of O'Neill, furnished excellent music for the evening program. There were two large rooms where the light fantastic had access to, and made good use of it for the rest of the night. The piano accordion was a great sensation and enjoyed very much.

A round table discussion of conditions locally and otherwise, got them all to talking and made the evening interesting. We all admired the intelligence and well instructed influence and the local participants enjoyed the visiting strangers very much, and their music was a treat to this locality.

We all enjoyed the delicious refreshments at midnight, a repast that was nicely balanced in variety.

The best thing about these events is that they are free to all, and if they weren't it would be a knockout blow. Much credit is due the efficient assistants for the success of this affair. About three o'clock the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" concluded the program, when all dispersed, extending their hospitality to all concerned. Trusting that we may all meet again with a recreation of the same kind.

lunch together. Both are against a big navy and a big army. The latter comes from Montana. She used to be a congresswoman and voted against America's entry into the World War.

When the naval bill comes up on the floor, there will be a bitter fight. One amendment to provide money for defense only will be launched. Three groups will be seen in this fight. One is composed of the real pacifists. Another is the big navy lobby, and the other is the "for national defense only" group.

If the plans of the big navy people go thru, Uncle Sam may have two navies. One for the east and one for the west coast. Experts here say that our future line of defense may be drawn from Alaska south to Hawaii and Guam; thru the Panama canal and the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico in the Atlantic.

Once the 14-inch gun was the real weapon on a battleship. Experts now say they hear Japan is installing 18-inch guns. So the ships with the 14 or 16-inch guns would be at the mercy of a ship with 18-inch guns. If foreign countries install 18-inch guns, Uncle Sam will have to do it. That's why our experts watch with great interest just what the other nations are doing.

Trade Disputes Are Endless

Free traders and anti-free traders have their daily debates in the house these days. One side says the tariff is the cause of all our ills. The other side says free trade ruins the American market for Americans. One side says foreigners can't pay us the 11 billion dollars they owe us until they trade us something. Farm district members say they don't want to trade with foreigners who have nothing to trade except farm commodities. The easterners don't want any free trade on finished goods or machinery. Others say a lot of countries owing us these billions have no money and have to send us anything they have whether its farm-commodities or machines. That's why a lot of people here say that maybe we would be better off if the foreigners didn't owe us a penny. A lot of these would like us to cancel those debts.

Business is said to be slumping now in Great Britain, too. Aha! So the capitalists are on a strike against the New Deal over there, too.

Elmer Juracek and Miss Veda Stewart, both of Star, Nebr., are announcing their coming marriage by giving a free wedding dance to be held at Oak View park on Wednesday, March 9. Good music is assured and everyone is welcome.

Mrs. Helen Simar returned Wednesday night from a buying trip to the Omaha market where she purchased a new line of spring goods for her store.

Really the joke seems to be on the descendants of those hardy pioneers who came to America from Europe to avoid the deadening influence of too much regimentation.

Miss Jane Mains came up from Lincoln last Friday night and spent Saturday and Sunday visiting the home folks, returning to her school duties at Lincoln Sunday.

Mrs. Ernest Nelson and small daughter came up from Omaha

Sunday to spend a few days visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Reardon, and with friends here.

One of the small business leaders who went to Washington to attend the President's conference said that the way for the government to help business was to let it alone. But that is contrary to New Deal human nature.

A North Dakota business man attending the conference in Washington says that if it were made known that there would never be a third-term President, the unrest in a lot of additional unrest among aspiring New Deal statesmen.
