SOUTHWEST BREEZES

Boyd was the boss carpenter. He exercised a kindly patience with my inexperience. H. M. Uttley then had floor for me to lay at his house across the street west. We all thought Bland was a great teacher and I believe Denny Cronin and John Weekes would join me in still thinking so. A little later I succumbed to the lure of a job in Heinrichson's store and in two months turned that over to Sam Thompson, while I became enamored of the type and presses down at the old Frontier and helped Clyde King get out a fair book for Frank Campbell and Neil Brennan who were putting on their exhibition that autumn at the first fair grounds in the county east of town. Young people out of school now do not have this easy sailing into jobs. The pay was not large in those days but we would rather have worked for 50 cents a day than to join anything like a PWA.

4-H Demonstration Days Well Attended

Holt county 4-H club demonstration days in O'Neill and Chambers last Thursday and Friday were attended by 160 boys and girls together with local leaders. These meetings were in charge of Miss Mary Runnals and Guy Davis of the Agricultural college. Those present received valuable training in demonstration work.

These occasions are not only educational but enjoyable as picnic lunches were held at noon and the boys and girls enjoyed the training.
