

King George Rides Through the Streets of Paris

King George and Queen Elizabeth on their first visit abroad since they ascended the throne, ride through the streets of Paris, which was elaborately decorated in honor of their state visit. In the background are the massed flags of the two nations on the pylons in the Place de L'Etoile. Social functions, diplomatic conferences and a review of France's armed might for the king at Versailles helped bind the alliance of the two nations.

World Events Through the Camera's Lens

1—Japanese soldiers pole their boats over the flooded waters of the Yellow river after Chinese troops made breaks in the dykes to delay the Nipponese advance. 2—King George and Queen Elizabeth of England, whose recent visit to France strengthened the military alliance between the two nations for defense. 3—"Big Jim" Farley shown addressing the meeting of the national gathering of the Young Democrats of America at Seattle, Wash.

Door Pockets Have Multitude of Uses

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS
HAVE you door space going to waste? There is always the inside of a closet door—even in the tiniest apartment. A pocket like the one shown here gives a place for shoes, whisk broom, hat brush, shoe brush and even a dust cloth to have within easy reach when tidying up the bedroom. A large pocket at the bottom takes care of small pieces of laundry.

This door pocket may be made from 2 1/4 yards of 35-inch-wide cotton material. All the dimensions as well as suggestions for making are given here in the diagram.

There are other doors in every house where pockets of various types and sizes may be used to good advantage. The broom closet door offers a place for cleaning brushes and bottles of furniture polish. Two large pockets on the pantry door—one for clean dish towels and one for soiled ones, have been in use in my kitchen for years. A large pocket of heavy ticking on the inside of the door leading to the basement makes a place for old newspapers that are so useful for many purposes. Pockets on the inside of a door leading to the attic often make a place to keep small cleaning equipment. And here is another thought—even a small wall space in your closet may be used for a series of pockets for individual pairs of stockings. This is much neater than keeping them in a drawer.

Humble Work
 It is a great mistake to suppose that the best work of the world is done by people of great strength and great opportunities. It is unquestionably an advantage to have both these things, but neither of them is a necessity to the man who has the spirit and the pluck to achieve great results. Some of the greatest work of our time has been done by men of physical feebleness.

Preparing for Air Raids

Nuns who have volunteered as women instructors in a course in air raid protection given under the auspices of the British Red Cross in London, England, examine the gas masks issued to them at the headquarters at Stoke Newington, near the British capital.

SPURS CUBS

Gabby Hartnett, who succeeded Charley Grimm as manager of the Chicago Cubs, is spurring his players on in the hope of capturing another National League pennant. A member of the Cubs for 16 years he is regarded as one of the greatest catchers in the history of the game.

RED MENACE

Wally Berger, who came to the Cincinnati Reds from the New York Giants a while ago, has regained the batting form that made him a terror for National League pitchers a year or two ago. His excellent work has contributed to keeping the Reds up among the pennant contenders.

King of the Pie-Eaters

With his hands tied behind him, LeRoy Cobb, age thirteen, of Gainesville, Ga., won with a crust to spare in a pie-eating contest that attracted lads from all over the countryside. LeRoy ate his lunch at the usual hour, but that didn't handicap him at all when it came to eating a meringue-covered chocolate pie in record time.

100 Passengers in a Plane—In the Future
