Oil Company Starts Pension Fund

Ponca City, Okla.—The Continental Oil Company announced today the establishment of a retirement and pension fund for all of its employees who reach the age of 65 in the case of men and 60 in the case of women.

The plan, according to Dan Moran, president of the Company, will be cooperative in character, employees making regular monthly contributions which will be supplemented by a contribution on the Company's part. It will provide a minimum benefit of $30 a month, and in the average case the total retirement income including the Federal pension will amount to a figure somewhere between one-third and one-half of the employee's salary. For the older employees the Company is providing a benefit in recognition of service already rendered.

"The new retirement and pension plan," said Mr. Moran, "was adopted by the directors of the Company after authorization by the stockholders at the last annual meeting, and it is their opinion that it will benefit both the Company and employees."

The plan effects approximately 5,000 employees. It will be administered by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

an independent candidate for congress in the First district. She will oppose Congressman H. C. Luckey and republican nominee, George H. Heinke * of Nebraska City.

Mrs. McGerr was a candidate for the nomination in 1934. She lost out by 400 votes. Two years ago she was active in support of Mr. Luckey, and her friends passed out the word that Mr. Luckey would not file in 1938, but would support Mrs. McGerr.

At the Lancaster county democratic convention Mrs. McGerr told C. L. Clark and others that she meant to file as an independent. Partisan pressure was brought to bear, but Mrs. McGerr persisted.

The independent candidate has issued a statement supporting the administration on the main issues.

The policy to be followed by the Administration in dealing with members of congress who have escaped the purge remains a mystery. In Nebraska several months ago, word came that Editor James E. Lawrence of the Lincoln Star had close contact with the White House. He conducted preliminary editorial campaigns against Congressman Coffee and Luckey.

At the democratic state convention at Columbus, John C. Mullen, brother of the late Arthur F. Mullen, commanded the forces that heretofore worked under the direction of the late chief. The policy of the Mullen forces was one of affability and kindness. Editor Lawrence, as author of the platform, encountered no opposition.

The first tug of war is expected soon after election when a United States Marshall is named to succeed J. C. Byrnes. The latter was a personal friend of the late Arthur Mullen. Before his death, it has been stated, Arthur Mullen made a "last request". He asked that one of his friends be named to fill the place. There are more than twenty candidates for the position.

Senator Norris has always disapproved interest in patronage. Since the death of Arthur Mullen and Senator Burke's alienation from the administration, the senior senator may be compelled to take part in the naming of appointees in order to protect the administration against the inroads of the Burke forces in 1940. There is a possibility that he might be induced to cooperate with Editor Lawrence in patronage matters.

YOUTH

Youth is not the age of pleasure; we then expect too much, and we are, therefore, exposed to daily disappointments and mortifications. When we are a little older, and have brought down our wishes to our experience, then we become calm and begin to enjoy ourselves.—Lord Liverpool.

FRIENDSHIP

A good man is the best friend, and therefore soonest to be chosen, longest to be retained and indeed never to be parted with, unless he ceases to be that for which he is chosen.—Jeremy Taylor.

Miss Joan Pharris of Long Pine, Nebraska, spent the week-end with Mrs. Goldie Liddy.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kurty, Mr. and Mrs. Awaft Spangler and daughter, Lavon drove to Martin, South Dakota, Sunday to visit the new baby born to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Clyde. Mrs. Clyde was formally Beulah Spangler.
