Republican Ticket

The republicans of Nebraska and Holt county present a splendid ticket to the voters of the state and county at the coming election. The ticket is headed by Charles Warner, of Lancaster county, a real farmer and why not have a "Farmer For Governor of a Farming State?" Mr. Warner served thirteen terms in the Nebraska state legislature and is probably better acquainted with state finances than any other man in the state. In every way he is qualified to fill the office of governor.

The entire republican state ticket is worthy of your support. Let us get rid of the ring that is now in control of the state house by electing the republican state candidates to office. They are all men of integrity and experienced in the lines in which they wish to serve the state and the voters will make no mistake in voting republican at the coming election.

OUR COUNTY TICKET

Probably never before have the republicans of the county presented to the voters of the county a better balanced county ticket, filled with candidates well qualified to fill the positions to which they aspire.

For County Clerk, Mrs. Mabel Meredith McKenna, of this city, is the candidate. Mrs. McKenna is a native of this city and has spent her entire life in Holt county. She is affable, well educated, a stenographer and a capable businesswoman and one who will capably and efficiently perform the duties devolving upon the county clerk. You will make no mistake in voting for Mabel Meredith McKenna.

For Sheriff of Holt County the republican party presents A. H. Marquardt of Ewing. Mr. Marquardt has been a resident of the eastern part of the county for over twenty years and has always taken an active interest in civic affairs of that section of the county. He is a good business man and specially well fitted for the position to which he aspires. The people in the east end of the county who have known Art ever since he has been a resident of the county are almost unanimous in support of his candidacy. He would make a splendid official.

For the office of County Treasurer the republicans present another resident of the eastern end of the county, W. E. Starr. Mr. Starr was born and raised in the southern part of the county, being the son of the late Robert Starr, one of the old time residents of the Chambers section of the county. He has a very pleasant personality and is capable of filling the office to which he aspires.

For Clerk of the District Court the republicans again present the present efficient, capable and worthy clerk, Ira H. Moss. Mr. Moss has filled the office in a manner that has made him known to attorneys and litigants over the state as one of the best clerks of the district court in the state of Nebraska. He deserves the support of all electors who believe in efficiency in public office.

The republican party again present the name of Julius D. Cronin for county attorney. He has filled the office for several years and in an efficient and capable manner. He did not figure on running again for the office but was drafted by representative citizens of all parties who believed the county needed his continuance in this important office.

Esther Cole Harris, the present affable and efficient register of deeds is the republican candidate for reelection. She has made a splendid official prompt and punctual in the performance of the duties of her office and with a minimum cost to the taxpayers of the county. On her record she deserves reelection.

For the office of County Assessor the republican party presents Fred Mulford of Stuart. Mr. Mulford has been precinct assessor of his township for many years and he will have the untied support of the electors of the western part of the county, regardless of party, for the office which he seeks for they recognize that he has the qualifications to make a splendid county assessor. You will make no mistake in supporting Mr. Mulford.

For the office of County Surveyor the republican party presents the present official, M. F. Norton, and he is the only candidate on the ballot for this office so his election is assured.

The county board of supervisors of the county are the governing body of the county and especial care should be exercised by the electors in selecting members of that body. The republican party present an especial fine list of candidates for these offices in the several districts.

In the First District J. C. Stein the present supervisor is a candidate for reelection. Mr. Stein is a former chairman of the board and has occupied the position for several years. He is one of the county's large taxpayers, careful and conservative and his experience on the board renders him far more valuable to his constituents than any new member could be. A vote for J. C. Stein will be a vote for a capable and qualified official.

In the Third District the republicans present the name of Thomas J. Brennan, Thomas, the son of the late Col. Neil Brennan, was born and grew to manhood in this city. He served the city honorably and efficiently for several years as a member of the city council from the Second Ward and has the qualifications to make a very valuable member of the county board. Tom has convictions of his own and is not afraid to express them. He would be a real leader if a member of the county board.

In the Fifth District the republican party presents the name of J. W. Walter. Mr. Walter was a member of the county board for two years, being appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Ezra Cooke who died in office. During his service on the board Mr. Walter was one of the ablest members that ever served on the board in the county. He is a business man, not a politician and devoted his time to protecting the welfare of the taxpayers of the county. He should be returned by the voters of the southern part of the county. Holt county taxpayers need his services on the board.

In the Seventh District the republicans presents the present chairman of the county board Ed J. Matousek. Ed is now completing his fourth year as a member of the board and he has been a very efficient and alert member. He has been one of the leaders of the board since he took office and we are sure that the voters of the Seventh District will again return him with a largely increased majority. From the vote he received at the primary his election is conceded by all except a few die hards. He is deserving of reelection for he has been a valuable assistant in keeping down expenditures in all departments of county government.

THE NEBRASKA SCENE

By the Lowell Service
Lincoln, Nebraska—The political popoff of last week—in fact the real sensation of the state campaign—was Charley Warner's declaration for an old age pension of $30 a month.

Reactions in some sections of the state were amusing.

Conservative newspapers of republican vintage have maintained discreet silence. The Omaha World-Herald and the Lincoln Star proceeded to lambast Warner. Political observers noted the fact that the republican candidate for governor issued a statement from Holdrege after penetrating the territory dominated by Binderup's cavalcade. Reports received in Lincoln indicate that the Binderup crowds have been large in many instances.

Conservatives and opponents of the old age pension program immediately sent scouts into the southwest section of the state to check on public sentiment. It was feared that, perhaps, Warner's advisers had detected a rising wave of sentiment.

Questionnaires directed to candidates for the legislature by old age pension advocates indicate that there are twenty-three districts in which both candidates are pledged to more liberal legislation for the old people. In twelve more districts one candidate is favorable. If the advocates of "ham and eggs" carry half of these and elect six, it will not matter how the governor stands on the pension issue. Twenty-nine members of the legislature can pass bills over the governor's vote.

Abolition of the railway commission, homestead exemption, the sales tax, and revision of the county budget are scheduled to come before the legislature.

The future of the legislative council is also a vital issue. There are a number of candidates who advocate repeal of the council plan.

The Supreme Court has heard arguments in behalf of Walter H. Jurgensen, ousted lieutenant governor, who was convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to serve from two to five years in the penitentiary. William B. Rose presided as acting chief justice. Attorneys for Jurgensen asked dismissal, declaring that political prejudice was a factor, and that a retrial would be a waste of time and money.

The Supreme Court is well up with the docket. It is believed that a decision will be handed down in about six weeks. There is a forty-day period for argument of a motion for rehearing.

The certified list of candidates for the election of November 8th has been sent to the county clerks by Secretary of State Swanson. Local candidates will be certified to the printers by the county clerks.

The democrats have first place on the ballot, the republicans are next and petition candidates occupy third position. Candidates on the non-political ticket are rotated.

The initiated proposal to authorize the legislature to legalize the operation of slot machines comes first on the list of amendments. The amendment to repeal double liability of bank stock holders is next, and then comes the four proposals of the stock holders group. The first short ballot amendment provides for the election of governor, lieutenant governor and auditor for four year terms and prohibits second consecutive terms. The next proposal is to place the state superintendent on the board of educational lands and funds. Next, the voter is asked to pass on the reorganization of the board of pardons. The proposed set up is governor, state superintendent, and auditor instead of governor, secretary of state and attorney general.

The last amendment on the list provides for a recall of the elective executive state officers.

Dean F. W. Upton of the graduate school of the University of Nebraska reports that 473 students have registered for graduate work, as compared with 452 in 1937. Of these, 182 are working for master of arts degree; 181 for master of science degree; and 100 for Ph. D. degree. The remainder are not working for degrees, but are taking advanced work. The new graduate school of social work has 48 students enrolled.

The following resolution dealing with the motor vehicle regulatory law was adopted by the League of Nebraska Municipalities at its recent meeting at Kearney: "That counties or state build and operate testing stations, except in counties that already have testing stations, such stations being allowed to remain in operation; that rules and regulations be set up in the law itself and not promulgated by any person; that test of lights, brakes, and steering equipment sufficient for safety on our streets and highways is sufficient; that testing be prerequisite to obtaining license after 1939; and that fees be the same to all operators of stations."

Another resolution adopted was one asking for an amendment of the state gasoline tax law "so as to provide for a larger share to municipalities of that part of the gasoline tax now remitted to county treasurers."

The National Biscuit Company is accused of having violated the anti-trust laws. Has it been making too much dough?

A school for Santa Clauses is to be opened at Santa Claus, Indiana. No doubt the graduates will go immediately to Washington.
