Senator Norris speaks for his friend EDGAR HOWARD A few days ago, Senator Norris wrote and authorized publication of the following statement: "I am very anxious that Edgar Howard be elected from the Third congressional district of Nebraska. I have no personal interest whatever in this contest, but I have known Edgar Howard for a great many years. I have worked with him while he served in the house of representatives, and I think I know the viewpoints and the real heart of the man. "He fought valiantly against gag rule and machine control in the house of representatives, both when that body was controlled by the republicans and when it was controlled by the democrats. In every fight he has ever made his heart was in the right place. He has never been led astray by any political boss nor by any political machine. "Voted His Sentiments" "He has always voted his sentiments and has courageously defended them at all times, both in and out of congress. He has always battled valiantly for the advancement of the happiness and the welfare of the common people as distinguished from monopoly and special interests. "I want every citizen to vote his honest sentiments whether he agrees with me or not, but I have had better opportunities than some of you to observe the work of Edgar Howard in public life, and I think I am only performing my public duty when I say to my fellow citizens in the Third congressional district that, in my judgment, he is entitled to the office which he seeks. I deem it my duty to communicate to his constituents my belief in his honesty, his integrity, his ability, and his courage. "Your fight has been his fight and your fight will continue to be his fight if he is returned to the house of representatives."
