GREAT REPUBLICAN LANDSLIDE! Republicans Elect Governors In 17 States

NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS ELECT NEARLY ALL ON THE STATE TICKET; LOSE TWO

Three Republican Congressmen Elected. Stefan, Heinke and Curtis, Are Easy Winners in Race. Cochran, Swanson Re-elected

STEFAN WINS RACE BY MAJORITY OF 50,000

KARL STEFAN

Nebraska republicans hummed a victory tune Wednesday night—with sour notes only where the melody skipped over the governorship they lost after a nip and tuck race.

Aside from Gov. R. L. Cochran, pulled thru largely by his Omaha strength, democrats retained their partisans in only two congressional seats, the secretary of state's office and the short term lieutenant governorship.

Everything else went to the republicans, returned to the strongholds from which the new deal ejected them several long terms ago.

The g. o. p. made its strength known outside state borders by picking up congressional seats now held by Representative Henry C. Luckey in the First district and Representative C. G. Binderup in the Third. Luckey was defeated only after a photo finish that narrowed republican George Heinke's victory margin a few hundred votes.

Binderup went down to a resident of his own town, Carl T. Curtis, of Minden, who surprised the victory margin to a few hundred strength.

Representatives Karl Stefan (r) of Norfolk, Charles F. McLaughlin (d), of Omaha and Harry B. Coffey (d) of Chadron, all incumbents, won an easy re-election.

Voters who rejected Robert G. Simmons in his previous republican bids for the U. S. senate chose him on a nonpartisan ticket as chief justice of the supreme court to succeed Charles A. Goss. Simmons had a wide margin over C. A. Sorensen, former attorney general.

In other state races, the contest for treasurer was the only one that looked close after the ballots started rolling in. Former Treasurer T. W. Bass (r) finally edged out Treasurer Walter H. Jensen (d).

Three Johnsons came thru to victory for the republicans. Ray C. Johnson won over Auditor William H. Price (d), Walter R. Johnson defeated Attorney General Richard C. Hunter (d) and W. E. Johnson captured the lieutenant governorship from Terry Carpenter (d), the running mate who previously opposed Governor Cochran's old age pension policies.

Harry R. Swanson, secretary of state, was the only full term democrat to join Cochran in the victory column. A close race with L. E. Marsh gave him some bad moments early in the tabulation, but Swanson later pulled away.

term on the railway commission.

It was a bad year for all the proposed constitutional amendments save the repeal of double liability on stockholders in failed state banks. That proposal won, after previous unsuccessful attempts to put it over.

The four companion measures embodying the short ballot plan failed badly, however, as did the scheme to license slot machines for added pension revenue.

State Superintendent Charles W. Taylor rolled up a big total against Sarah T. Muir, the Lincoln teacher and former legislature who opposed him.

In the Fifth university regent district Stanley D. Long of Grand Island got a slight margin over Malcolm B. Wilcox, of Holdrege. In the Sixth district, Frank M. Johnson, Lexington, topped Frank J. Taylor, St. Paul.

Holt County Results

In the congressional race Congressman Karl Stefan, of Norfolk, smothered Edgar Howard, former congressman and pioneer newspaper man of Columbus. Howard received 1512 votes in the county to 5011 for Congressman Stefan or a majority of 3499 in the county for the congressman. He received the greatest vote and the largest majority ever cast for a candidate for office in this county. When the final returns are compiled the congressman will have a majority in the district of between 50 and 60 thousand, which is some majority, even in New Deal times, in any man's country.

On the county ticket all incumbents were elected with the exception of the county assessor, Assessor Sullivan going down to defeat at the hands of Fred Mulford, Stuart republican with a vote of 2972 for himself while Mulford received 3304, or a majority of 332 votes. Assessor Sullivan had served one term in office and has made a good, painstaking official. The county assessor elect was formerly a resident of Stuart and while residing in the city was assessor of that precinct and the fact that he is highly thought of in that city was evidenced by the heavy vote he polled there on election day and in all the townships in the western part of the county.

County Treasurer Winchell was the star vote getter on the democratic ticket as he received 4223 votes for reelection as county treasurer to 2299 cast for his republican opponent, or a majority of 1929.

County Clerk J. C. Gallagher was the second highest vote getter on the democratic ticket. He received 3978 votes in his quest of reelection to a third term as against 2640 votes cast for Mrs. Mabel Meredith McKenna, his republican opponent, or a majority of 1313.

Pete Duffy had one of the greatest struggles of his long career as sheriff of this county in staying off Art Marquardt, of Ewing, from ousting him. Pete has been such an easy winner for several years that most people looked upon his election as a certainty until the last week of the campaign when reports coming in from the hustings made it appear as if Pete had a real fight on his hands. The final count on the countess was Duffy 3667 and Marquardt 3133 votes, or a majority for Duffy of 534 votes, the lowest majority he ever received except in his first and second campaigns. Mr. Marquardt made a splendid campaign and during the campaign made hundreds of friends throughout the county and he can be looked upon to take a prominent part in the political affairs hereafter.

Richard L. Tomlinson, democratic candidate for clerk of the district court, a new comer to politics, made a splendid campaign for the office. Although he was going against the most efficient clerk of the district court this county ever had, he put up quite a scrap with the result that he polled 2938 votes to 3543 votes cast for Ira H. Moss incumbent, or a majority for Moss of 605.

The race for county attorney was between the candidates who made the contest against each other four years ago, which resulted in a victory for County Attorney Cronin with a majority of a little over 100 votes. It was a different story this year as County Attorney Cronin made a runaway race of it last Tuesday receiving 3845 votes to 2829 cast for Mr. Harmon, or a majority for Cronin of 1016.

Esther Cole Harris again demonstrated her ability as a vote getter in her contest for reelection to the office of register of deeds, a position she has ably and acceptably filled for the past eight years. Mrs. Harris received more votes than any candidate on the republican county ticket, a total of 4047 voters having marked an X in front of her name. Her opponent, Mrs. Julia Corrigan Samples received a total of 2383 votes, leaving Mrs. Harris with a majority of 1664.

M. F. Norton, who has been county surveyor for this county for many, many years was the only candidate for this office, he being the nominee on the republican ticket and he was elected with a vote of 5134.

The race for supervisor from this district was between Thomas J. Brennan of this city and John Sullivan, who has filled the post for over twenty years. It was a good scrap and created much interest during the last few days of the campaign. Sullivan won out with a majority of 133, the vote standing Sullivan 754 and Brennan 621. Mr. Brennan said he had an enjoyable time during the campaign and wishes to express his sincere thanks to his many friends for their labors in his behalf.

In the First district Supervisor Stein, who has represented that district on the board for many years was again victorious receiving 369 votes to 292 cast for his democratic opponent, Troschynski

In the Fifth district Supervisor Gibson retains his seat, receiving 674 votes to 495 cast for his republican opponent J. W. Walter, or a majority of 179 for Gibson.

In the Seventh district Chairman Matousek had an easy time in defeating his opponent, Jesse James, formerly supervisor from that district. When the votes were finally counted it was discovered that Matousek had 760 votes to 330 cast for James, or a majority of 430.

As a result of the election there will be no change in the personnel of the board, it remaining the same as it has been for the past two years.

On the non-political ticket Miss Elja McCullough was the only candidate for the office of superintendent of schools and she received a vote of 5567.

In the race for chief justice of the state supreme court Robert G. Simmons, formerly congressman from this district, was an easy winner in this county over C. A. Sorensen, formerly attorney general of the state. Simmons received 3520 votes to 2099 cast for Sorensen, or a majority of 1421 for Simmons.

Present state superintendent C. W. Taylor received a splendid endorsement from the voters of this county. He received 3636 votes to 1723 cast for his opponent, Sarah T. Muir, or a majority of 1843.

Frank J. Taylor, of St. Paul, one of the present regents of the state university, carried this county with a small majority over Frank M. Johnson. Taylor received 2399 votes to 2319 cast for Johnson, or a majority for Taylor of 80 votes.

The race for membership in the legislature from this legislative district was a close one in this county between Senator Frank J. Brady, present member, and Lloyd G. Gillespie of this city. The final vote, in this county, is Brady 3213 and 3025 for Gillespie, or a majority in the county for Brady of 188 votes.

W. R. Johnson, Old Pioneer Passes Away

Wallace R. Johnson died suddenly at his home northwest of O'Neill last Saturday morning about 2:15 of a cerebral hemorrhage, at the age of 74 years, 4 months and 8 days.

Mr. Johnson was a large robust man and had always enjoyed good health. He was in this city last Thursday afternoon and visited in this office for a couple of hours and was in fine health and, as usual in his visits to this office, discussed olden times with the writer. He was again in the city on Friday and after leaving here drove to Atkinson, where he visited for a time and looked after business matters, then drove home. Shortly before 2:00 o'clock he suffered a heart attack. His son, Floyd, who lives about three-quarters of a mile from his father's home was called and by the time he reached the house his father had passed away.

Wallace R. Johnson was born in Peoria, Illinois, on June 27, 1864, where the family resided until Wallace had reached the age of fifteen years, when the family moved to Nebraska, locating at Hastings for a year and then came to this county in 1880, and located on Eagle Creek northwest of this city. When Wallace reached the age of 21 he took a homestead on Eagle Creek and made his home there from that time until his death, a period of fifty-eight years.

On June 19, 1895, he was united in marriage to Miss Lizzie Gordon. Two children were born to this union, one son, Floyd Robert of this city and one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Brown, of Atkinson, whom with their mother are left to mourn the passing of a kind, affectionate and indulgent husband and father. In addition he leaves two brothers, Clyde O. and Dell Johnson, both of O'Neill, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Purdy, Denver, Colo.

Wallace Johnson was one of the hale and hearty pioneers of this county and had a host of friends in all parts of the county, as he was well known in all sections. A large and robust man, his stature commanded and attracted attention in any crowd any place. He had a very agreeable disposition and in a calm and modulated voice he liked to discuss pioneer days in the county with the old timers and there was not a trip he made to this city but what he called upon some of the old timers and took time out to discuss pioneer days. The writer had been intimately acquainted with Wallace for over fifty years and we always found him a man who could be depended upon. Loyal and true to his family and faithful to his friends, of whom there were legions. The passing of this sturdy old pioneer who had done much in the settlement and development of this county will be sincerely regretted by friends everywhere and the old time friends in his own immediate neighborhood, except his family, will miss him most for Wallace was a true friend to many of them when they found themselves in financial distress. A careful and prudent business man he had been very successful in a business way and several years ago had accumulated enough to take life easy. But like other hardy pioneers he was not content to sit aside and let others superintend the work, he had to look after it himself and he passed away while still actively conducting the affairs of his ranch.

The funeral was held last Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist church in this city, services being conducted by Rev. Wright, burial in Prospect Hill cemetery. It was one of the largest funerals seen in this city for many months, attesting the high esteem in which the deceased was held by the people of this city and county.

Joe Martin made a business trip to Nezeal on Wednesday.
