MOTORING MANNERS

Did you ever stop to wonder what driving a car does to most motorists? We are alluding to their conduct as gentlemen or as ladies. There seems to be something about getting behind the steering wheel of an auto that brings out our worst nature and the most docile and genteel of us turn animal.

The average driver assumes a rather hostile air concerning the motorist who tries to pass him. The kindest fellow on foot can make the nastiest remarks when he sits behind the steering wheel. Haven't you heard an O'Neill driver remark that the other fellow doesn't know how to drive and should lose his license? Some of the sweet-faced girls can work up the meanest sort of frown when crossed by another motorist. You can meet one of these ladies at a gathering and find her polite, cordial and friendly, but meet her on the road in an auto, and she acts like a life-long enemy.

The quietest-mannered people in a parlor often develop into the nation's loudest horn-honkers. What causes such a condition? We can't explain it, but look out for it!

O'NEILL PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

Eighth Grade

Warren Burgess, Robert Baughman and Meredith McKenna went to Norfolk last Thursday to attend the ball game that night.

The pupils of this class room showered their teacher, Miss Tomjack, with peanuts last Thursday. We all enjoyed it as we ate peanuts for a period of time in the afternoon.

We are happy to have Arlene Elkins back in school again after a period of illness which caused her absence.

Miss Mary Horiskey and Mr. Alders were visitors to this classroom last Wednesday. They were very attentive listeners to the reports given in history and the geography of Nebraska.

Seventh Grade

Mr. George told us some interesting things about his visit to Akron, Ohio, the largest rubber manufacturing center in the world, when he talked to our class last Friday.

A committee from the class will write letters to several well-known rubber companies. In this way we hope to get samples of the rubber in various stages of its manufacture.

Our visit to the city fire department was one which none of us will forget. After explaining the various parts of the fire trucks, hose, sirens, and fire extinguishers, a fireman gave us a thrilling ride back to school, plus the sound effects of the bell and siren.

We have completed our study of the Vikings and will begin a study of Jungle people.

We have a pretty Dutch sandtable this week. Hilda of Holland has moved in with her pretty houses, windmills and canals. Our new work in arithmetic is in short division and we are finding the work interesting.

WIFE OF O'NEILLAN DIES IN WYOMING

The following article concerning the wife of a former resident of O'Neill was taken from a Rawlins, Wyo., newspaper and will be of interest to Mr. Gallagher's many old time friends in this vicinity.

"The residents of this community were grieved yesterday morning when the report was received that Mrs. Lorena Gallagher, 58, wife of P. L. Gallagher, had died at her home at 314 Sixth Street at 5:20 o'clock that morning.

Death was from heart disease followed by about a week's serious illness. Although Mrs. Gallagher had not been in good health for a number of years, during which time it was necessary to undergo several operations, it was not until about a week ago that she became ill from the flu.

Her heart was not able to stand the rigors of the disease. Her husband, Pat Gallagher, has been home since the latter part of last week, also suffering from the flu. Because of Mr. Gallagher's serious illness with threatened pneumonia, it has been difficult to secure details on Mrs. Gallagher's life.

"Mrs. Gallagher was born June 25, 1880 at Central City, Colo., and attended school in Ohio. She came to Rawlins in 1920 and because of her sunny disposition and interest taken in her friends she was loved and respected by all who knew her. The community will miss her smiling face and lovely personality.

She is survived by her husband, P. L. Gallagher, who is connected with the H. Rasmussen Furniture Company, a son, J. H. Gildea of Green River, Wyo.; and one sister, Mrs. Edward Miller of Leadville, Colo. The recitation of the Rosary will be at 7:30 o'clock tonight and the funeral services will be held from the Catholic church at 9 o'clock tomorrow, Thursday morning.

The Reverend Father William Short will officiate, burial to be made in the Rawlins cemetery. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Rasmussen Funeral Parlors."

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace says he is not in favor of a price fixing program for farm products, Henry doesn't seem to be in favor of any one thing very long.

have told us much about their homes in Holland and the ways in which their life differs from ours. The following Brownies have done outstanding work in reading this past six weeks period: Marilyn Holsclaw, Berna Pruss, Bernard Spry, Mavis Spry and Marjorie Hungerford. The Butterflies who have done superior work in reading are: Donna Rae Dailey, John Salmans, Billie Marcellus and Patty Brt.

ONE QUITS AND ONE HOPS IN

Drew Murphy, of Albion, who rented the Horiskey store building on Douglas street, formerly occupied by the Food Center, the forepart of January, intending to open a restaurant therein about March 15 has given up his lease and is not coming to O'Neill. The first of this week the building was rented by Mrs. Helen Serich, who for the past three years has operated the Green Lantern in Ewing, one of the better restaurants in that city.

She disposed of her restaurant there the latter part of last week to a lady from Stuart and is here now supervising alterations and decorations in the building she has rented and hopes to be able to open up for business by the first of April.

Mrs. Serick has had considerable experience in the restaurant business and had the reputation in Ewing of running a splendid eating house and one that was liberally patronized by the people of that section of the county. Her desire to enter business in a larger field was the reason for her disposal of her Ewing business and coming to this city.

We understand that Mr. Murphy who has been wanting to get into the restaurant business in this city for several years, has not entirely given up the idea and may later on be able to secure more desirable quarters.
