

Byrd's 'Penguin Special' to Get Antarctic Workout

Diagrammed here is the $150,000 snow cruiser designed by Dr. Thomas Poulter at Chicago's Armour Institute for Admiral Richard E. Byrd's exploration trip to the Antarctic. It averages 10 miles an hour, and in its 27-ton body carries enough fuel for a non-stop New York-San Francisco trip and back. It carries a plane on its back. Each wheel has a separate motor and tires are changed by raising the axle internally, letting the body rest on the snow.

War Birds Try Wings in Canadian Training School

Far removed from dangerous bombing zones, Canada has become the training grounds for thousands of pilots Britain needs for her army. At Trenton, Ont., the Royal Canadian air force trains war birds by the hundreds. Upper left: Competent mechanics are necessary, so these boys make repairs on a motor while wearing gas masks. Upper right: A student pilot receives instructions on the "link trainer," which duplicates any aerial maneuver. Lower left: Blind flying is all-important to a combat pilot, so these fledglings receive proper training. Lower right: This young man is learning the finer points of aerial gunnery, completing his war-time education.

Giant Nazi Bomber Humbled by Great Britain's Guns

Twisting, looping and sideslipping, this Nazi bombing plane tried desperately to escape British anti-aircraft guns and planes in Scotland. However, the big ship crashed, smashing through a stone wall. It taxied more than a half-mile in a last unsuccessful effort to take off. The pilot was captured attempting to flee. Two others in the ship were killed, and a third injured.

Glamour Girl—Royal Evacuees—Heroine

It takes all kinds of glamour to make a world—and these four not-so-very-old persons pictured here have contributed their variety. Left: Mary Steele of New York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Steele and probable successor to Brenda Frazier as No. 1 glamour girl, as she appeared at the opening of the national horse show in New York. Center: Royal evacuees from London are Prince Edward and Princess Alexandra, children of the duke and duchess of Kent. The prince is England's pet glamour boy. Right: Elinor Randolph, 15, Clarksburg, W. Va., who won a $500 scholarship when she saved a little girl friend from drowning.

Safety Note: Why Not Camouflage It?

When air-raid sirens blare out their warnings to take cover, Londoners will do exactly that. They will grab the new bed comforter and scam for the bomb-proof shelter. The coverlet is shown at left as a comforter. At right, the quilt as it is transformed into a warm, comfortable garment.

Impersonator

Possessed of a burning desire to see Hollywood, Anthony Meli, 16-year-old Lawrence, Mass., school-boy, dressed as a girl, appropriated $1,000 from his father, and flew to the cinema city. When arrested he had $195, which he spent for male attire "before Papa gets here."

Chinese Puppet Meets Jap Puppeteers

Wang Ching Wei, left, latest Chinese puppet with whom the Japanese are attempting to establish a new Chinese government, jokes with two officers of the friendly Japanese staff. Wang has been branded a traitor by countrymen loyal to Chiang Kai-shek, and his life is forfeit should he fall into Chiang's hands.

Bearded 'Angel'

Handsome, white-bearded Jose Lazara, reputed Spain's wealthiest man, is making his first visit to the United States. Senor Lazara is said to have been the financial "angel" behind Franco's revolt in Spain.

Baby Panda Headed for Brookfield Zoo

Latest arrival at Chicago's Brookfield zoo is this baby panda from Chengtu province, China, cared for by Rey Scott. The animals are becoming exceedingly rare and special dispensation was necessary to take the panda out of China.

Needlework King

Crochet and embroidery champion of Utah's state fair is Frank Mortensen of Midvale, who, when he isn't knocking off a bit of fancy needlework, is a "mucker" in an ore smelter. Crocheting is his hobby.

It's Saturday Night on the Western Front

War is war, but Saturday night has a tradition. So these British troops take time out for their Saturday night bath. No de luxe accommodations for "Tommy Atkins" today, but wooden tubs and tin pails make a satisfactory substitute for behind-the-line ablutions.

IT'S POP CORN TIME

Every year new and delicious pop corn recipes appear, to make new friends for this old favorite. Here is a treat for your family and friends:

Caramel Corn

1 cup white sugar 1/2 cup water
1/2 cup white corn 2 tablespoons butter
syrup 1/2 tablespoon vinegar
2 tablespoons sorghum 2 quarts pop corn

Combine all ingredients except the corn. Cook until syrup becomes brittle when tested in cold water. Pour over popped corn, stirring the corn while pouring. Turn on to buttered platter.

Nigerian Law

Going to law among natives in northern Cameroon and Nigeria, West Africa, means going to the nearest crocodile pool. Disputes are settled by the disputants entering the pool, in the presence of witnesses, and trying to swim across. The truthful man, the natives believe, will succeed; the other will either refuse to swim or be eaten by a crocodile.
