THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

Fifty-Five Years Ago
The Frontier, February 12, 1885

This winter has been a terror on the pocket books of those who had to buy fuel.
Dr. A. H. Corbett and Miss Sadie Caykendall were united in marriage in the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, February 8.

Fifty Years Ago
The Frontier, February 13, 1890

Little Susie, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Doyle died on Monday of some infant trouble and was buried on Tuesday, the funeral services being held in the Catholic Church.

R. R. Dickson was down to Ne-ligh, Tuesday on business. "Dick" says the people down there are all crazy over the beet sugar industry and some of the professional men contemplate retiring and going in to the culture of sugar beets.

Tuesday evening the friends of Mrs. J. J. McCafferty made an informal and impromptu descent upon that good lady's hospitable and happy fireside, the occasion being the anniversary of her birthday, the exact figures of which we forgot in the merriment and good cheer which prevailed.

Forty Years Ago
The Frontier, February 15, 1900

Hogs touched a fancy figure yesterday—$4.47 1/2, and word came from Omaha, "10 lower."

The board of examiners have recommended to Congressman Neville for appointment to the Annapolis Naval Academy, three of the six taking the examination, Parnell Golden and Merle Kline of this city and M. V. Post of North Platte.

Charles Meals took second place in the examinations for the West Point Military Academy. There were eight in the contest, Mr. Meals standing the highest in the physical examination and second in the mental.

Thirty Years Ago
The Frontier, February 10, 1910

Mrs. George A. Miles returned home Saturday evening from a visit with relatives at Osmond.

Farmers still complain that there is too much snow in the fields to husk corn.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Dickson entertained at their pleasant and beautiful home Tuesday evening. The popular game of 500 was the principal amusement.

Henry Hoxie died at the home of his son-in-law, Howard Bradley, in the southeast part of town yesterday. He was one of the earliest settlers in this section of the state.

Twenty Years Ago
The Frontier, February 12, 1920

Leo Mullen went to Omaha Sunday morning for a visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Milder, of Omaha, arrived in Omaha the latter part of last week and took over the management of the Chicago Bargain Store, changing the name to the Leader.

Miss Helen Wrede, the little 6-year-old daughter of Geo. Wrede, died at the residence of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wrede, in this city Wednesday evening.

Ten Years Ago
The Frontier, February 13, 1930

The fire department was called to the Cap Uhl residence east of the city limits last Saturday night for the second time in two weeks. The last fire completely destroyed the building.

The state banking board took over the Nebraska State bank on Monday, February 10.

Special Announcement

By The

Perrigo Optical Co.

It has always been our aim to give our patrons the best. With this in view we are pleased to announce the start of a new, improved, more scientific territory service.

The purchase of new instruments, the American Projecto-Chart and Woolf-Ski-Optometer, to be used on our territory now makes it possible to give a more thorough and complete examination, such as was never before offered outside our Norfolk Office.

This better service is in charge of our new territory representative a specialist of outstanding ability and many years experience. See him at Golden Hotel in O'Neill, Tuesday, February 20th.

DR. M. N. KROYER,

The Chairman submitted the following list of committees for the ensuing year:
