THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

Fifty-Five Years Ago

The Frontier, October 22, 1885
There was a slight sprinkling of snow last Monday.

The O'Neill papers were in the center of a warm political campaign. Most of The Frontier's political fire was aimed at M. D. Long, who was the county clerk and democratic candidate for re-election.

Fifty Years Ago

The Frontier, October 23, 1890
The fight for congressman in the Third district seems to hold the center of the stage this year. Congressman George W. E. Dorsey, republican, running for re-election and he was opposed by O. M. Kem, populist of Custer county, and Thompson, democrat.

Forty Years Ago

The Frontier, October 25, 1900
Ellsworth Mack was around town about daylight Tuesday morning hunting up his friends and treating them to fragrant Havanas on account of the arrival of a daughter at his home the night before.

Thirty Years Ago

The Frontier, October 27, 1910
The Townsend Bridge Co., crew finished work on the Redbird bridge Monday and came to town.
At Norfolk last Thursday night Jack Sullivan of this city put Kid West of South Dakota down and out on the fifth round of a scheduled twenty-round bout. About 100 from this city were at the ringside.

Twenty Years Ago

The Frontier, October 28, 1920
Jack Sullivan, now of Butte, Mont., was visiting local friends several days this week.

Dr. J. F. Murphy of St. Louis, Mo., who has been here since last Friday visiting at the home of Mrs. J. P. Gallagher and other relatives and hunting pheasants, left on Thursday morning for his home.

Mrs. Roy Andersen of Stephenson, Washington, who is here visiting her parents, returned on Wednesday from Norfolk, where she

Doesn't Know Where He's Going, but He's On His Way

Where Wendell Willkie Once Washed Dishes

Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president, washed dishes as a youth in this Aberdeen, S. Dak., restaurant, using experience he gained when working his way thru college. When asked about his job as a dish washer Willkie said he worked in the Aberdeen restaurant "long enough to get a raise." Candidate Willkie has returned from a campaign tour during which he visited 18 western states. As a young man, he worked as a harvest hand on farms in several of these states, an experience which contributed to the sympathetic attitude he holds toward the problems of the farmer and the laboring man.

War OR Defense

THE presidential campaign, as it grows in intensity day by day, challenges thoughtful minds more fully than any other during the last eighty years.

In the two leading contenders, President Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie, we have two flashing personalities. As the campaign proceeds, however, thoughtful voters will take increasing care to see to it that the brilliance of neither of them obscures the fundamental issues at stake.

Stripped of all other political questions great and small, the one paramount issue is, "Shall this, our present form of democracy, be retained or must the nation proceed with the avalanche speed of the last few years toward a highly centralized, bureaucratic government, having within itself the power to sustain itself without decision on the part of the people?"

It is apparent that men and women everywhere sense the crucial import of this question, whether they have analyzed it or not. And that explains the unusual character of the fight that is being waged in behalf of Wendell L. Willkie in every state in the union.

WHICH COSTS MORE ?

ANSWER: Light is cheap! The light you dine by actually costs no more than the cream in one cup of coffee!

Interstate Power Company

The Willkie Clubs have sprung into existence without political leadership or party jurisdiction. Their millions of members, for the most part, are men and women who heretofore have taken little part in politics. They are made up of independent voters, small businessmen and women and young people. They fear the effect of a Third Term, not because of traditions against it, but because of the deep-seated feeling that the American principle of representative government is in danger.

But not even this historic contest between Willkie who would preserve the American principle and Roosevelt who regards it as a relic of horse and buggy days can submerge another constant thought that is in the mind of every American citizen: "Will America get into the war?"

Hidden Taxes

More than 22 per cent of the total national income is taken by Federal, State and local tax collectors. Even tho a person does not pay taxes directly, taxes nevertheless are passed on to him hidden in higher prices for the things he has to buy. A person with an income of $80 a month pays indirect taxes of $9.67 a month, or 12 per cent of his income. One with an income of $150 a month pays $19.10 monthly in hidden taxes, or 12.7 per cent of his income. This is in addition to taxes paid directly.

WENDELL WILLKIE
Says:

"Government employment has increased nearly 100 per cent. Government expenditures have increased nearly 200 per cent, now amounting to over nine billion dollars. Government borrowing has increased over 150 per cent. Here is one real political boom. Here is one activity in which the enterpriser has become both rich and powerful. But all this has been accomplished at the expense of the people, who have paid for it not only in taxes but in the losses which their enterprises have suffered as a result of this government activity."

To The Voters of O'Neill:

I have been nominated by the Republican Party for City Assessor. Having served in the Legislature I am acquainted with the tax laws affecting the assessment of property. I served as your assessor for six years just prior to 1934, and, if elected again, will endeavor, as I did before, to make a fair, impartial and equitable assessment of property in O'Neill. If my record and qualifications meet with your approval, I respectfully solicit your votes on election day, November 5, 1940.
