

Plays Politics With Defense

Willkie Charges New Deal Incompetence Leads To War.

Wendell L. Willkie, returning to Philadelphia where in response to an unprecedented popular demand he was made the Republican nominee for President in June, warned the American people that they are drifting toward war under a government which is incompetent to build an adequate defense in these perilous times.

After citing specific instances of unpreparedness and incompetence, Mr. Willkie declared:

"We must stop this drift toward war. We must stop this incompetence. Fellow Americans, I want to lead the fight for peace. I know how to lead that fight. I will lead this nation back to work. The first step toward peace is to put a job in every home. The second step toward peace is to mobilize American industry for the production of armaments.

"There is a false notion that our defense problem is a recent problem; that it came upon us suddenly. The fact is that the New Deal has known for years that we were faced with this problem. The third term candidate told Congress in January, 1936, that America must save itself from foreign quarrels and foreign attack through adequate defense. Today—nearly five years later—attack is closer than ever and America is still unsafe; our defense is still inadequate.

"What is the reason for our unpreparedness? The New Deal has not lacked information. Thru the state department and the army and navy, its total knowledge regarding foreign powers and military developments has been as good as any in the world. The New Deal has not lacked money. In these five years it has spent a total of 43 billion dollars. What then has it lacked? It has lacked the ability to get things done. It has lacked a fundamental understanding of the forces of production. It has lacked a fundamental regard for the forces that make democracy strong.

"The reason for our failure to build a modern defense system is that the New Deal theorists and the New Deal politicians blocked the creative forces of our people. They could have provided new jobs for thousands of young men by building American aircraft production up to defense requirements. Instead, they kept those thousands idle on the relief rolls. Relief was politically more attractive than defense.

"You know and I know that the system of free enterprise can outstrip any dictator on earth. The slave labor of modern Europe cannot compete with free men, well fed, well housed, and working reasonable hours. I have earned my bread both as a worker and as a manager. I know what free men can do. Given a chance to work, American labor and American industry can outstrip the world.

"So long as money and political power remain its only remedies, the Roosevelt administration will be incompetent to achieve defense. The able men on the national defense advisory council are handicapped because the third term candidate has kept all the power in his own hands. The longer the United States remains incompetent to defend itself, the closer we are drawn toward war. We must stop that drift toward war. We must stop that incompetence. I want to lead the fight for peace. I plead with you to join me in building a new America, so strong, so full of hope, that we can keep the peace that we want, the democracy that we want, and the liberties that we want."

"In failing to establish recovery, the New Deal has failed the farmer. Factory payrolls and farm income rise and fall together. When farm income is up, farmers buy more manufactured products, and thereby increase employment. It is equally true that city workers buy more farm products when their incomes are increased.

"I have pledged myself to win recovery for America. This pledge is just as important to the farmer as it is to the business man. And I know how to fulfill it. I will, with your help, bring this nation of ours together."

Keep Out of War Is Vital Issue

U. S. Voters Must Make Important Decision November 5th.

"The number one issue in this campaign is to keep our country out of war," is the opinion expressed by Raymond A. Moley, former new dealer, confidante and intimate adviser of President Roosevelt, who is now an ardent supporter of Wendell Willkie for president.

"I am for Willkie because I believe he will conduct our foreign relations better than Roosevelt has or will," declared Mr. Moley, who considers the number two issue of the campaign to be "to save our country from becoming an autocracy, which it will be if President Roosevelt is elected to a third term."

General Robert E. Wood, soldier and business man who was responsible for supplying the entire military establishment of the World War, addressing the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations declared that "the present policy of the Roosevelt administration is bound to involve the United States in war. You cannot play with fire and not get burned. You cannot have your government—not private manufacturers—transfer its equipment to foreign powers; you cannot have your government in an unofficial alliance with a foreign power; you cannot be a meddler in Indo-China, or berate Italy and Germany, without eventually involving the nation in war."

"I believe that a majority of the people who are advocating 'aid short of war' do not desire us to enter the war," General Wood declared, "but there are others who do desire us to enter the war, who are taking the necessary steps to prepare the American people for participation, who would enter the war tomorrow if they dared, who are today in practical alliance with England, and unfortunately they are the people who are shaping our national policy today. You hear men—and men who ought to know—that we will actively enter the war within 60 days after the election.

"We are being edged into the war without the masses' knowledge. If the United States enters the war it would start with a debt of 50 billions and the cost of the war will mean an ultimate debt of 100 to 150 billions and will end with great economic dislocations. It is up to the American people to decide whether they want to make these sacrifices to preserve not England, but the British empire, and help regulate Europe and Asia. But they should make the decision with all the cards on the table, not misled by artifice and subterfuge."

Farmers Hit by New Deal Trade Treaties

As of November 1, 1939, under the New Deal's Trade Treaty program, American import tariffs have been reduced on 1,003 commodities, of which 397 were reduced by 41 to 50 per cent. All reductions made in the various trade agreements have averaged 39 per cent below the rates fixed by Congress in the Tariff Act of 1930. Yet—duties on 152 agricultural products have been reduced and 95 of these were reduced from 41 to 50 per cent. From the fiscal year 1932 through 1939 total value of American imports increased 20.2 per cent. Non-agricultural imports have increased only 20.5 per cent, while competitive agricultural imports—agricultural products which compete with the American farmer—increased 29.6 per cent during the same seven years. Imports of non-competitive agricultural products, however, increased only 11.3 per cent.

Passed On to You
Every purchaser of merchandise of any kind pays as taxes more than $1.00 on each $4.00 he spends. That is the hidden taxes which are passed along by the producer to the consumer.

He Stands for Peace

This is how Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president, looked in 1917 when he volunteered for service as a private in the army one month after the United States declared war. After four months of intensive training he was commissioned a lieutenant, then spent a year in training camps in this country and served several months under fire in France.

Having first-hand knowledge of the horrors of war, Mr. Willkie has made this solemn pledge to the American people:

"If you elect me president I give you my word of honor I will never send an American boy to the shambles of the trenches of a European war."

More Jobs, Less Taxes Is Willkie's Pledge

"It is absolutely impossible," Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president, declares, "for a government to go on supporting a growing number of unemployed. Somebody has to pay the bill. And that bill is going to be paid by those who have jobs.

"The average income per individual in the United States last year was only $540. The average tax paid per individual was $110. One-fifth of our national income goes for taxes. And the biggest item on the tax bill, aside from defense, is relief for the unemployed. Taxes don't anywhere near cover it. So the New Deal borrows the money.

"In seven and one-half years it has borrowed $22,000,000,000. This can't go on indefinitely. The one and only remedy for this increasing public debt is jobs.

"Now what makes jobs? Business makes jobs. Little business, big business, corporations, partnerships and small companies. Under our system if we are going to have jobs we have got to have employment. Measured by the standard of our growth (1900 to 1929) we are short about 700,000 enterprises, short 700,000 employees."

"The New Deal has helped make unemployment by picking on business. Under the New Deal the employer who puts up money to make a profit has been in the dog-house. I am not interested in profits as such. I am not interested in employers as such. But I am interested in both employers and profits as a means of making jobs for those who are unemployed, better jobs for those employed."

On High Authority
A Democratic candidate for President, in an address delivered in New York on Nov. 3, 1932, said something which can hardly be improved upon as an answer to the New Deal's prize argument for the third term. "A great man," he declared, "left a watchword that we can well repeat—'There is no indispensable man.'" The "great man" referred to was Woodrow Wilson and the speaker was Franklin D. Roosevelt!

Benefits WORTH PRESERVING

LABOR TAX REVENUE

AS GOOD CITIZENS OF NEBRASKA you will unquestionably agree that these substantial economic benefits generated by the State's legal brewing industry are well worth retaining and protecting.

- Excise taxes received by State annually approximates $500,000.
- Brewers, distributors and retailers in Nebraska employ about 9,000 persons; their annual payroll is nearly $7,500,000.

The great majority of Nebraska's beer retailers obey the law and are co-operating in our program to wipe out the few "black sheep" dealers who abuse the licensed privilege of selling beer.

THE PUBLIC CAN HELP TO INSURE CONTINUANCE OF THESE IMPORTANT CONTRIBUTIONS FROM THE STATE'S BREWING INDUSTRY BY PATRONIZING ONLY LAW-ABIDING RETAILERS AND REPORTING VIOLATORS TO THE STATE LIQUOR CONTROL COMMISSION OR TO US.
