Third Regiment Wined and Dined by Good Citizens of Nashville, Tenn.

50 YEARS AGO
 July 21, 1898
 O. C. Bates was down from Atkinson last week in attendance at the Democratic convention. Democrats were so scarce that the Colonel spent the greatest part of his time seeking a microscope in order to look for the O'Neill Democrats. Before evening he found a couple. They held their convention and the Colonel returned home happy and contented.

According to the Nashville, Tenn., papers the members of the Third regiment Nebraska Volunteer infantry were wined and dined by the citizens of that city while on their way to Jacksonville, Fla.

After dining the boys the pretty Southern lassies pinned a bouquet of roses on the coat of each soldier and report says that many of the boys expressed the wish that they might be allowed to remain in Nashville, but the fortunes of war would not allow it and they left with longing, pleasant memories and souvenirs of the beautiful southern city and its people.

25 YEARS AGO
 July 19, 1923
 Capt. Francis M. Brennan, 8th United States Infantry, has taken his company from Ft. Screven, near Savannah, Ga., to Ft. Bragg, N. C., where he will be on duty at the CMTC camps to be held there during the coming Summer.

Captain Brennan returned from Germany last February and while there was stationed in the famous Fortress of Ehrenbreitstein overlooking the Rhine.

 The papers still quote Herbert Hoover. This is one of his latest:

"There are only 2 avenues of privacy left in these days when it is harder and harder to get away from telephones and people. They are prayer and fishing. I strongly recommend both."

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Froelich and son, Billie, and daughter, Nancy, will leave Friday morning on a trip through Yellowstone park.
