

The Frontier Woman —

New Refrigerator, Stove and Davenport in Year Cheer Dorsey 'Housewife'

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Hi there, all you nice people! (Hum sakes, another week gone by, another gray hair, too, probably, and probably more, grin!) Tomatoes to can, tomato juice to make, relishes, corn to can, and don't look now but I betcha the wild plums will soon be getting ripe.

Pears are coming onto the market. Here's a pointer or two on pears: They should be canned when slightly under ripe. Did you know that? It's a good point to remember when buying. The quality and flavor are much improved, as well as the appearance of the product, since no surplus texture is found floating in the syrup or settling in the bottom of the jar.

The rich, juicy Bartlett pear is always desirable for canning, but some of the late, rather flavorless varieties when canned in a thin syrup make a pleasing breakfast fruit or luncheon dessert.

PEAR PRESERVES

Four pounds pears, 4 cups water, 4 cups sugar, 2 lemons, sliced thin. The fruit may be preserved whole in halves or quarters. Boil sugar and water together for 5 minutes, add pears and sliced lemon and cook until pears are clear and transparent, and the syrup is thick. Pack into clean, hot pint jars and seal at once.

If hard pears such as Keifers are used, cook them in water until tender using the water in which they are cooked, for making the syrup. A few cloves or a stick of cinnamon may be added for flavor. Using pineapple juice instead of water in the syrup gives a delicious flavor.

Dear Mrs. Pease:

Hi there. Well, you said you wanted letters so here comes one from Scott community as I surely would hate to miss out on your friendly Frontier Woman every week.

We surely enjoy The Frontier. Our subscription is about out so I am sending in the check tomorrow. I really enjoy the hints, recipes and such from our friends old and new.

I think the Jack and Jill Corner is sure a cute idea, even if our 2 children are just school age. Janet, our daughter, was 6 last week, and Larry, our son, will be 8 in September.

We just got through threshing at our place. I enjoy cooking for threshers (maybe better than they enjoy eating it.) I will miss it, though, if every one gets combines in the community.

My isn't it nice to have fruit this year? The mulberries weren't too plentiful, looks like plenty of grapes, plums and we have 2 apple trees and got some strawberries and the last week I have been busy with chokecherries with the kiddies' help. Do my 2 boys big and little ever like the jelly? When we were haying we even got a few raspberries so in the new Servel went some ice cream and the raspberries went on top. Boy was that ever good!

My I don't know how we ever got along without our refrigerator. I think I was very lucky this year with a new refrigerator, combination stove, and davenport for our home. I really enjoy the radio, too. Well, I'd better close for this time, no recipes or hints today but I think this idea is a good one to pass on: "Of all the things you wear, your expression is the most important."

JUST A HOUSEWIFE, Dorsey.

Dear Mrs. Pease:

We are enjoying The Frontier, thanks to your generosity Mrs. Pease. Didn't intend to write so soon, but your asking for letters got my pen started again.

Our "doings" around our home are about what they would be around any normal

BEAUTY—AND THE BERLIN BLOCKADE . . . Cut down on a woman's food rations and she'll put up with it more or less cheerfully. But interfere with her beauty treatments at your peril. That is why the Russians, with their blockade of the German capital, have been making rabid anti-communists out of Berlin's women. There has been no electric power to run the beauty shops, and coiffures now are created out-of-doors with a backdrop of bomb blasted buildings.

home at this time of year. Garden, yard and canning. Our beets have been canned since the last letter. The beans are a sort of a joke but have some left over from last year.

Apples, cherries and choke cherries are plentiful, and we made quite a lot of jelly, now that sugar is easy to buy. We have a crate of peaches in the bottom of the ice box, and we are already to enjoy them fresh.

Wish you could see our rose moss. They are so generous with their blossoms and the gladiolus are beautiful, too, but a wee bit disappointed in them, as we don't have as good a variety of colors. We had better ones last year. The golden glow is topped with yellow blooms and it makes one think of Fall.

I can see a huge plant of golden rod from my window, across the alley, waving in the wind, and it stands up quite proud of its flowers, always admire it, even if it is wild.

The new bed of strawberries are enjoying these nice rains, although the hay crews are being held back as well as threshing in some neighborhoods.

By the time this is printed, school will be just around the corner. It will be washing, ironing and lunches for the busy mothers.

I am alone this afternoon and if I have chatted too long, blame it on my pen. Will bid you so long now and get supper.

AUNT JUDY.

COMPARE THE VALUE

Yes, compare the features—compare the prices—compare what you get for what you pay—and you, too, will come to the conclusion that Chevrolet continues to be first in value, just as it continues to be first in Big-Car Quality at Lowest Cost, and just as it continues first in demand, year after year.

COMPARE THE POPULARITY

You can identify the biggest value in any list of products by picking out the one product which enjoys greatest popularity, year after year; and, of course, in the field of motor cars, that one product is Chevrolet—outstanding leader in popularity for the total 17-year period, 1931 to date!

COMPARE THE FEATURES

Only Chevrolet combines the Unitized Knee-Action Ride for gliding smoothness; the world's champion Valve-in-Head engine for performance and economy; Body by Fisher for tasteful beauty; and Fisher Unisteel Construction plus Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes for all-round safety protection!

COMPARE THE PRICES

You'll agree with millions of other car buyers that prices—like quality—are a major consideration in these times; and just as Chevrolet's Big-Car quality is unique in its price range, so Chevrolet prices are the lowest in its field. Chevrolet costs less to buy, to run and to maintain!
