No DDT Used, Still There Were No Flies; Would Be Awful to Revert to Old Fly Spray

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Hi there, all you nice people! Dear me, September almost half gone and still lots of canning to do and the house certainly does need some Fall housecleaning. Don't you agree?

This Summer I never did apply any DDT to the screens and screen doors and we seldom had flies. Once in a great while I saw one, but it didn't last long. Wouldn't it be awful to have to go back to those years when you sprayed for flies with the old kind of fly spray?

Don't overlook macaroni or spaghetti. Cook only until tender and not a minute longer. To judge when spaghetti and macaroni are done, press a piece against the sides of the pan with a fork or spoon. If the spaghetti or macaroni cuts easily, it is done.

Water should be actively boiling when macaroni, spaghetti or noodles are to be cooked. The rapid motion of the water keeps these foods in motion so they will not stick to the bottom of the pan. It also keeps the pieces separated from each other.

As soon as spaghetti or macaroni are done, drain them. Then rinse them at once by running hot or cold water over them. Use hot water if these foods are to be served hot, as in spaghetti and meat sauce, or macaroni and cheese. Use cold water if they are to be used cold, as in salad. Rinsing seems to give the individual pieces the firmness and body that these foods must have to be at their best.

Have you ever tried noodles cooked into tomato juice seasoned with a touch of minced onion and parsley. A thinly sliced frankfurter adds flavor.

Subscription Winning Letter

Mrs. Gladys Potts, Emmet, wins this week's 3-months' subscription.

Dear Mrs. Pease: You say you need letters so will try and write you one. Where has this Summer gone. Seems as though school was out only yesterday and here it starts in another week. I have 2 little boys in grade school, 1 girl in high school and my older boy starts to Wayne college this fall. My family is growing up so quickly. I will only have a 4-year-old girl at home.

I surely like anything on lunch boxes. I hate that job and job it is. Our teacher cooks soup for the children in cold weather and they really enjoy it.

We have tried to have flowers in our yard but it is not fenced so the chickens are pretty bad but we have had lots of zinnias, glads, moss rose and morning glories. We planted gourds on our cave and they have covered the entire cave but the chickens eat the little gourds as fast as they form. My Chinese elms have grown nicely this year.

I have a good garden and the tomatoes are beginning to ripen. Have 2 bushes to can today. I have canned over 400 quarts so far, mostly fruit, jelly and jam. I am sending you a recipe for marmalade.

SUNSHINE MARMALADE
Four oranges ground with seeds removed. Measure in cup, then finish with ground carrots till you have 4 cups. Add 4 cups sugar, cook till thick and clear. Seal in hot steril jars.

MRS. GLADYS POTTS, Emmet, Nebraska.

Mrs. Potts, we're glad you wrote us. If it hadn't been for you we wouldn't have had any letter for this issue. Do write us again one of these days.

Send Us a Letter

We need letters for this department so much, and it would be so easy for you to sit down and write us one. Now that the youngsters are off to school it's a little more quiet and today, maybe, you can spare us a little time and send us a letter. Won't you do so? Write about anything you like, but do write. For every letter we use, we will award a 3-months' subscription to The Frontier. Send your letter to Mrs. Blanche Pease, The Frontier Woman, Atkinson, Nebraska. Be sure to put The Frontier Woman notation on the envelope.

TOMATO CATSUP

Six pounds tomatoes (1/4 peck), 3 red peppers, sliced and seeds removed, 2 medium sized onions, 2 tablespoons salt, 1/3 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons celery salt, 2 teaspoons ground mustard, 1 tablespoon whole allspice, 1 tablespoon cloves, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon paprika, 2 cups vinegar.

Cook tomatoes, peppers and onions together without adding water. Press through a strainer and measure the pulp. To pulp (4 quarts) add the salt, sugar and spices. Tie the whole spices loosely in a bag during the cooking, and remove the bag before pouring the catsup into bottles or jars. Ground spices, except paprika will dark the catsup. Rapid cooking (being careful not to scorch catsup) will give a better color than slow cooking. Cook ingredients, except the vinegar rapidly for 1 hour, add vinegar, and cook the mixture until thick. Pour, while very hot, into hot sterilized, glass jars or bottles and seal tightly at once. It should have a bright red color.
