For Short Turns and Quick Stops these Ford Brakes are Tops

If we told you how fast the Ford Tractor can stop and turn, you wouldn't believe us. But when you see a demonstration, you'll agree that the Duo-Servo brakes on the Ford Tractor are the "stopping-est," "turning-est" brakes ever. Here's something else. Both brake pedals are on the right . . . leaves the left foot for the clutch. Stop straight, or turn, with one-foot braking. It's easy to service these brakes, too... no need to pull the axle. When can we demonstrate? We also have parts and service and Dearborn implements for all Ford Tractors.

Sale price Electric Meters

~~$8.00 Now~~
$10.45

But your electric rates are actually lower than before the War.

While the cost of living has continued to rise, the price of equipment and material necessary to provide your electric service has increased too. For instance, fuel oil to operate generators which cost 5c per gallon in 1939 costs approximately 14c per gallon today. An electric meter which cost $8.00 in 1939 costs $10.45 today, and hundreds of other items necessary in providing electric service have increased proportionately.

But, in spite of these increased costs, your electric rates are actually lower than before the war. Residential electric rates on an average throughout Consumers system are 34.9% lower than in 1939, which actually means, with Consumers sliding scale rates, you can use approximately twice as much electricity today for the same money.

HOW CAN THIS BE? Because Consumers has maintained the policy of passing on to its customers savings resulting from expanded facilities to meet growing electrical demands, we are beginning to wonder just how long we can hold the line.

We have done everything possible to maintain low electric rates, but frankly, with costs continuing to rise and the need for expanded facilities to meet growing electrical demands, we are beginning to wonder just how long we can hold the line.
